THE STUDENT

The student signs a paper, pays a fee, and becomes a member of a university. He attends classes, passes exams, and, after four years, is ready to graduate. But his real participation in the university revolves around the many activities of his every-day life: the casual cup of coffee between classes, the discussion of a lecture with friends, the news he reads in the daily paper, and the many afternoons spent on the lawn, exchanging points of view on student and world issues. His activities also may take an organized form, and depend for their success upon the leaders and followers, the supporters and mere participants: the interested. Any exchange of ideas is important, for it is through these ideas that the student gains the knowledge and understanding so valuable to the graduate — knowledge and understanding which serves as a supplement to classroom learning.

SOUTHERN CAMPUS 54 Volume 35

Published Annually by the Associated Students of the University of California at Los Angeles

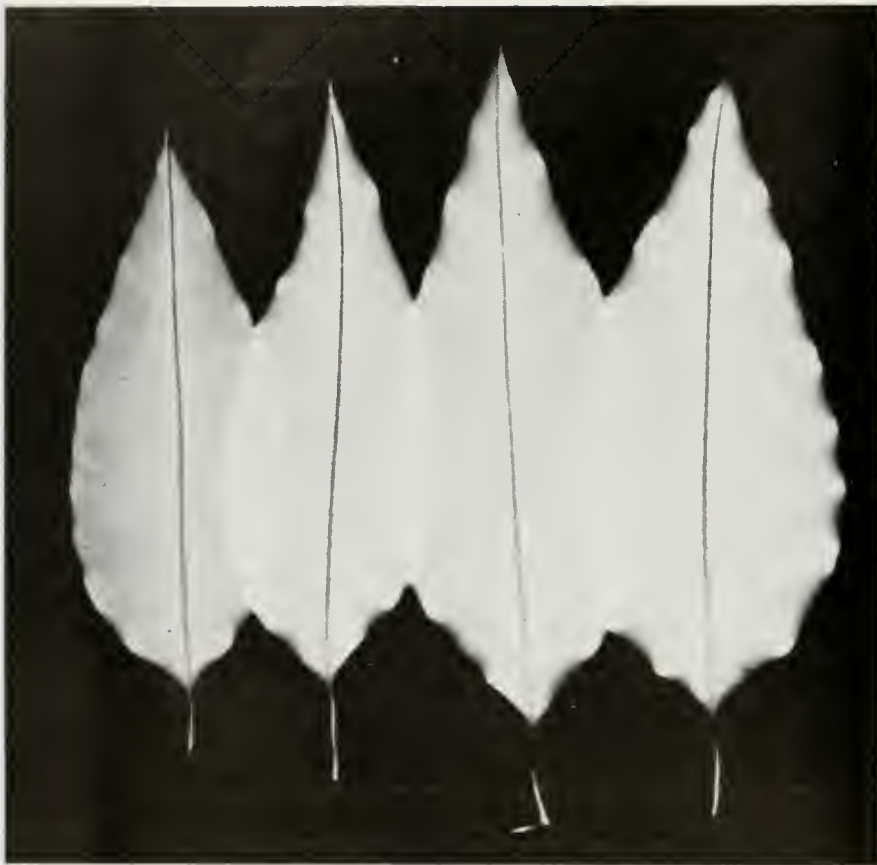

Instilled with a sense of purpose to the ideals and principles of Project India, a program developed by the University Religious Conference, eleven UCLA students became an integral part of Indian student community life. Under the leadership of Miss Adaline C. Guenther, Brent Bowen, Diane Donoghue, Ching-Ling Chow, Skip Byrne, Bernie Nebenzahl, Jack McKune, Marion Schattenburg, Vivian Robinson, Bob Nagamoto, Don Ulrich, and Betty Yaki were able to exchange ideas in an environment of contrasting cultures, creating and stimulating a lasting bond of friendship. With a deep concern for the welfare of the peoples of India, informal discussions led to purposeful exploration. Such projects as the construction of a simple village school house provided an opportunity for Indian and American students to work together in a climate of mutual understanding and motivation. To those students who have determined their futures as responsible citizens in a world community, we dedicate this thirty-fifth edition of Southern Campus.

IN MEMORIAM

EDUCATION

ADMINISTRATION

THE PRESIDENT

It is not strange at all that the University of California and its sister universities and colleges throughout the free world attach great importance to tradition and to the ceremonies and observances surrounding them. A university, any university, is not merely an architectural setting of stately buildings and beautiful grounds in and about which young people gather before they take up their tasks for the long years.

The bonfires, the rallies, the walks through the campus, and the later nostalgia link the present student and the alumnus in common bond to the highest ideals and goals to which civilized man can lay claim. This is not to say that the classroom should be abandoned in favor of the ball session, or the words of the teacher exchanged for the spell yell. What it does mean is that between the classroom and the residence hall lounge; between the teacher and the yell leader, there runs a historical thread of tradition which draws all elements of university life together into a durable fabric of intellectual interests, cultural understanding, vocational preparation and that love for Alma Mater known as college spirit.

Whether your "home" is Berkeley, Davis, La Jolla, Los Angeles, Mount Hamilton, Riverside, San Francisco, or Santa Barbara, you share with thousands before you one Alma Mater, the University of California, thus sharing the traditions its sons and daughters have helped evolve and promulgate.

Robert G. Spraul

During the year the Board of Regents were not only involved with the UCLA Medical School, but also with the UC branch at Riverside. Seated above (L. to R.) are Dr. ROBERT SPROUL, EDWARD DICKSON, JESSE STEINHART, GERALD HAGGAR, DONALD McLAUGHLIN, and AFFZIGER HOWARD. Standing: CORNELIUS HAGGERTY, EARL FENSTON, GUS OLSON, VICTOR HANSEN, WILLIAM MERCHANT, EDWIN PAULEY, FRED JORDAN, JOHN NEYLAND, EDWIN CARTER, CHESTER NIMITZ, THOMAS CUNNINGHAM, JOHN SYMS, A. J. MCFADDEN and BRODIE AHLPORT.

From a lone building at Hill and Second Streets in Los Angeles to a panorama of red brick buildings, UCLA has grown to rank among the top ten universities in the nation. 1915 saw its birth at Hill Street as a mere extension of Berkeley; 1929 saw its move to the Westwood Hills; and 1945 saw a newer phase developing—the UCLA Medical School. Responsible for much of the success of UCLA, the Regents of UC, in the policy of continual growth, carried on a study of the junior colleges of California. The purpose of this study was to determine the success of junior college graduates in the University. Adult education was also expanded. As equal growth was seen on all of the University's eight campuses, 1953-1954 was termed highly productive.

On October 5, 1953, GOODWIN J. KNIGHT took his oath of office and became the 31st Governor of California, the 31st state. Prior to this, Governor Knight had served California as Lieutenant Governor for seven years. Now, as Governor, he shows interest in the University's growth.

AND CHANCELLOR!

The student is congratulated by the Chancellor. Dr. Raymond B. Allen's faith in the student's opportunities in a university such as the University of California is expressed in his own words. "All of us, students, faculty, and staff alike, are among the fortunate of the world; fortunate in the splendid facilities a generous state has provided for our activities, and in the intellectual and spiritual environment of a great university which cherishes the good and honorable above all else." Having been president of the University of Washington, a Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa, and a fellow of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Allen was excellently qualified when he became UCLA's first chancellor in 1952. Aside from his work in the educational field, Dr. Allen has served on the Hoover Commission and the Armed Forces Medical Advisory Committee of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, as well as the Salary Stabilization Board. From the University of Minnesota he received his B.A., M.A., and M.D. degrees. Awarded the Mayo Foundation Fellowship in 1930, he received his Ph.D. from the Mayo Foundation's Division of Minnesota's Graduate Division in 1943. Tulane, Illinois, Lake Forrest, Hawaii and Boston Universities awarded Dr. Allen the LL.D. degree, and Whitman College the D.Sc. degree. With such education to his credit, Dr. Allen well understands the position of both the new student and the new graduate.

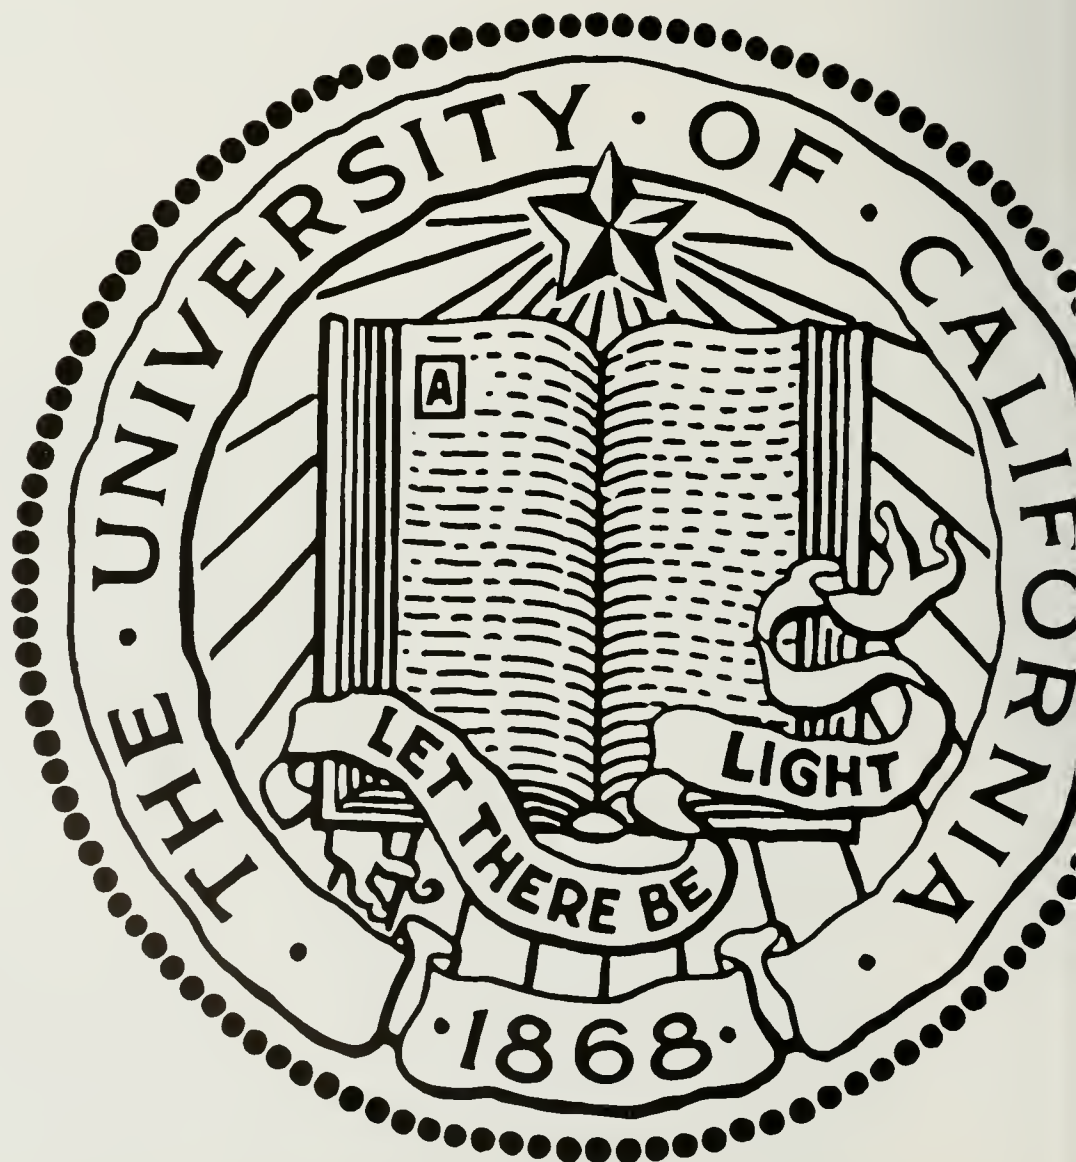

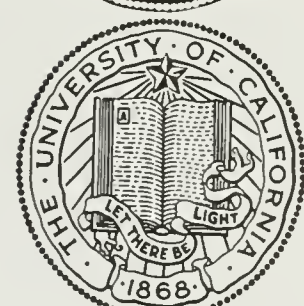

The above scene is a familiar one to the student. It takes place every year. Yet, when he is graduating, it becomes, for that very student, the most important event in his four years of college. The words of Chancellor RAYMOND B. ALLEN'S address are still fresh in his memory as the student takes his place in the crowd which leaves the graduation ceremony on that sunny June day.

At home with the Chancellor. Here we find the whole Allen family, pictured in the library of their now-famous "house on the hill", a familiar landmark to the student, especially during the Christmas season, when it is a tradition to serenade the Chancellor. Seated are CHARLES (TONY), MRS. ALLEN, Dr. ALLEN, and RAYMOND. Seated on the floor are BARBARA JEAN and DOROTHY.

ONE UNIVERSITY

The University of California and its eight campuses has grown more rapidly, perhaps, than any institution, and today ranks among America's first five universities. Berkeley, oldest campus; Los Angeles, second in enrollment; Davis, agricultural center; San Francisco, medical center; Mount Hamilton, dedicated to stellar studies; Riverside, growing under a new building program; Santa Barbara and its new seashore campus, and La Jolla, center of oceanography, are all the one university which has been a great educational and cultural influence to the people of state.

An active group at leisure: one ASUCLA President, a football player, a SOUTHERN CAMPUS editor, one ASCULA Vice-President, and a Homecoming Chairman is a sample of the members' activities.

Twice a month, on Sunday night, the California Club held a pot-luck supper in the home of one of the members. The above scene, in Steve Claman's home, is typical of the informality of such gatherings.

DR. CHARLES SPERONI seems to realize the advantage of serving as sponsor to the California Club, as he is well cornered by MONA McTAGGART and LYNN VALE.

CAL CLUB

The Sunday night pot-luck dinners which were highlighted by Dr. "Mario Lanza" Speroni's vocal solos perhaps will be the most vivid of Cal Club memories. The annual convention, for which the Cal Clubbers trekked to the Berkeley campus, and the picnic held in conjunction with Riverside, rounded out a year of "business mixed with pleasure." The letter sent to prospective members from President Spraul urging "good will and friendly relations among students in all parts of the University" became the goal of the California Club, as their activities aimed to integrate students from all the eight campuses of the University into a common bond—that of friendship, loyalty and service.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

The activities of thirteen thousand Bruins came under the authority of Dean of Students MILTON E. HAHN. In the spring Dean HAHN took a vacation from his counseling duties as he left on a sabbatical leave of study and travel.

In the Administration Building the student could find the vast machinery of the University. During the year, each of the offices was concerned with the regular routine procedures, and the results of these activities were evident everywhere about the campus. The parking lots were improved, raising parking facilities twenty per cent, and appropriations were made for the improvement of the Student Health Service. In the fall the library received its millionth volume, and in the spring ground was broken for the new Music Building. Perhaps one of the most familiar offices to the student was the Dean of Students Office. There, deep in student affairs, could be found Dean Hahn ably assisted by Dean Atkinson and Dean Rogers. Seemingly far-removed from his activities, yet directly affecting the student, were the various activities of the Administration.

While Dean HAHN was on sabbatical, Assistant Dean of Students BYRON "BARNEY" ATKINSON took over the all-important position and became Acting Dean of Students. He also found time for membership on the Athletic Advisory Board and Board of Control.

Assistant Dean of Students NOLA STARK ROGERS was the Chancellor's representative to SLC and a member of the Faculty-Administration Committee on Student Conduct. Dean ROGERS showed a great deal of interest in dormitories for both men and women.

At the entrance to the University stands the modernized Administration Building wherein the student can find the various offices of the Chancellor, Regents, Deans and Colleges.

UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS

Librarian LAWRENCE POWELL, noted lecturer and writer as well as Director of the Clark Memorial Library was on leave teaching librarianship at Columbia.

The employment of all non-academic personnel went through the hands of MILDRED FOREMAN, who still found time for her pets and San Fernando Valley ranch.

UCLA's Health service was administered by DONALD S. MACKINNON. The facilities offered at the Health Center were convenient to students.

AUBREY L. BERRY, who secured his first teaching position through UCLA's Bureau of Guidance and Placement, was now on the other side of the desk as its manager.

Questions are never perplexing to Manager of Public Information ANDREW J. HAMILTON, who also served as officer of the Naval Reserve Public Information.

EDWARDS, director of Relations Schools, began in 1936 the duties include accrediting and visiting schools and organizing campus tours.

Registering some 13,000 Bruins is no easy job. This was the duty of Registrar WILLIAM C. POMEROY, who supervised the execution of all such red tape.

To UCLA's Business Manager, GEORGE TAYLOR, fell the direction of purchasing, telephone services, mail, garages, storage, receiving and janitorial work.

For eight years, EDGAR LAZIER has held the position of Associate Director of Admissions. Mr. LAZIER is a graduate of the Berkeley campus of the University.

AIDING STUDENTS

The problem of housing was most evident to PAUL HANNUM, who was in charge of housing. Under his jurisdiction fell Myra Hershey Hall and Veterans' Housing.

Graduate student in Business Administration, LLOYD LOKKA, represented the Administration in the capacity of advisor to IFC as well as President's Council.

By supplying the foreign student with a UCLA social sponsor, Foreign Students' advisor, CLIFFORD PRATOR, made the newcomer feel "at home."

DOROTHY CLENDENEN, in charge of student counseling, often took time out from her official duties to speak to various organizations about improving study habits.

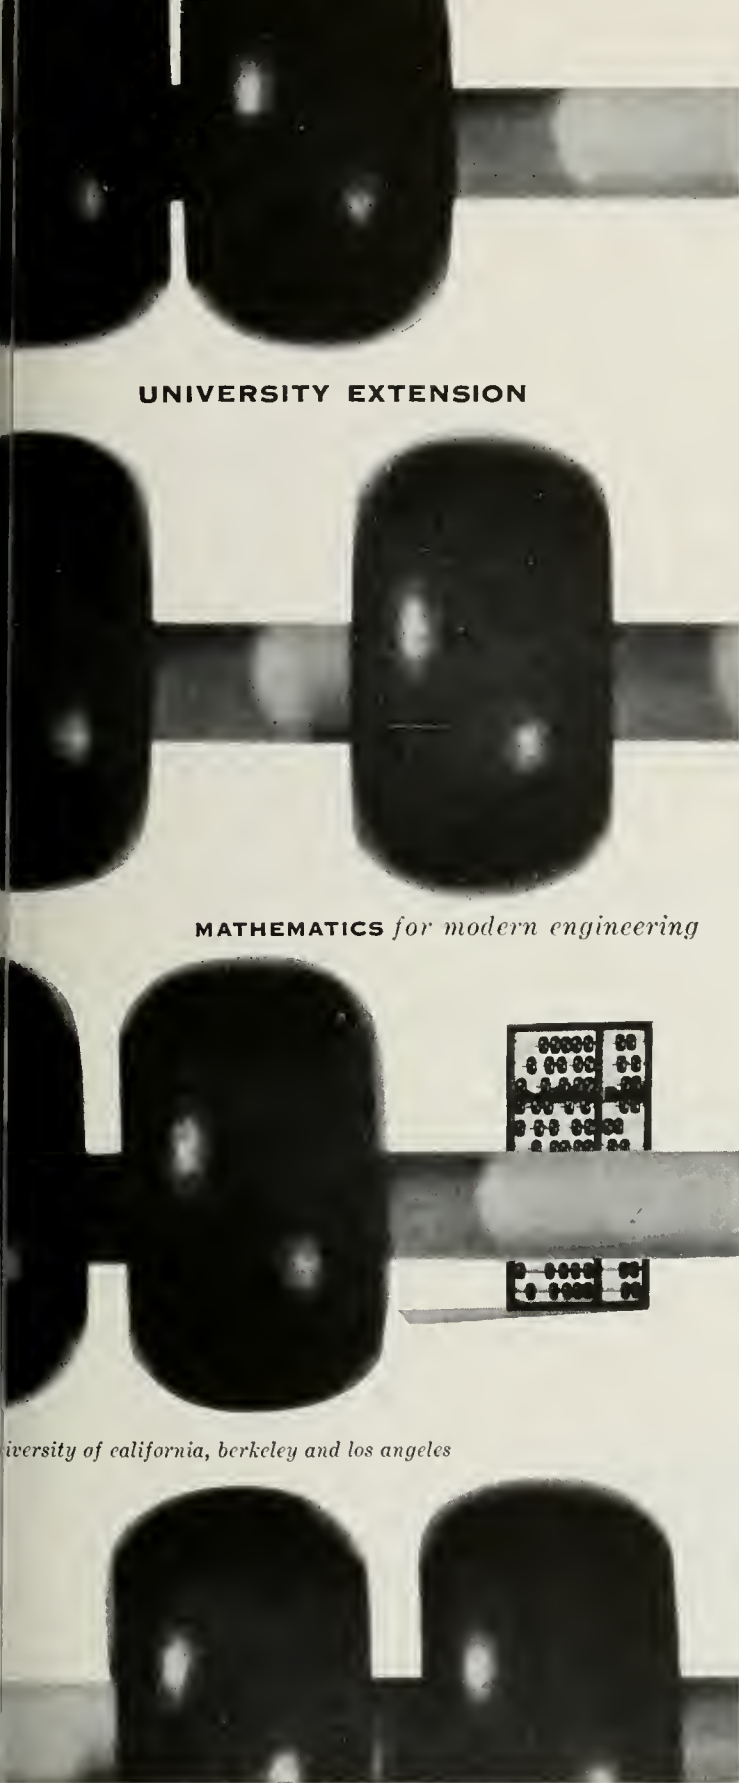

Public Information writer, BARBARA SHERIFF, edited the Weekly Calendar and held membership in the alumni honorary while working on her M.A. in geography.

As Administrative Assistant to the mittee on Undergraduate Scholarship Prizes, WILLIAM HOLLEY handled views and other scholarship red

Student loans were not all that trouble ROBERT W. BUGENTHAL, for he also served as Parade Chairman during Homecoming and as Psychology Club president.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

MATHEMATICS for modern engineering

University of California, Berkeley and Los Angeles

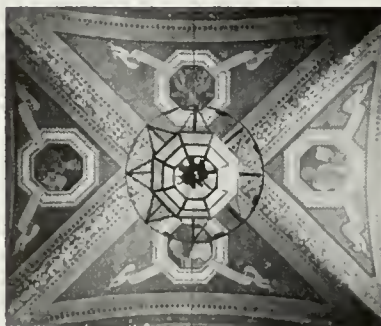

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Aside from teaching, PAUL H. SHEATS, associate director of the University Extension, served as president of the Adult Education Association of the USA, and was a member of the US National Commission for UNESCO.

The opportunities afforded the people of California through University Extension are numerous and cover a wide field. The Agricultural Extension Service provided information and assistance to 125,000 farm families. Another area was adult education, wherein University-level classes were brought to approximately forty California communities. Educational films, television programs, short courses, institutes, clinics, workshops, concerts, and correspondence courses were offered.

FACULTY AND GRADUATES

Dean ROBERT W. HODGSON has been with the College of Agriculture since its establishment in 1931. Aside from his administrative duties, he also taught sub-tropical horticulture and acted as consulting horticulturist for other countries.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Two greenhouses, an herbarium, thirty-seven acres of experimental gardens, thirteen acres of subtropical horticulture areas, twenty-four acres of ornamental horticulture plantings and a controlled environment installation for physiological and storage studies were the vast facilities and equipment at the disposal of the student of agriculture. Dean Hodgson's offices and laboratory classes and facilities could be found in the Physics-Biology building. The College of Agriculture was first authorized by the Regents for UCLA in 1930, and instruction began in 1931. Although instruction in agriculture is carried on in all campuses of the University, UCLA is the center for instructional work in horticulture in its relationship to subtropical fruits, ornamental plant materials and flower crops. Most of the research is carried on at Riverside and Davis, with teaching and research at UCLA and Berkeley campuses. Aided by an experiment station, the student was able to supplement study, and the extension service proved helpful to student and farmer.

He works with mosquitoes. UCLA's JOHN N. BELKIN was mainly concerned with mosquitoes of the Southwest.

VERNON T. STOUTEMYER was Chairman of the Department of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture.

As educational advisor to the Council of the Iran Foundation and consultant for a technical school in Shiraz, Iran, Dean DAVID F. JACKEY worked on his favorite hobby: developing education in less fortunate countries.

COLLEGE OF APPLIED ARTS

After moving the Home Economics Department into its spacious new building in the spring semester, the College of Applied Arts once again realized one of its progressive aims. Another move in the forward direction was the commencement of the construction on the new Music Building. Included in the major fields were art, music, theater arts, home economics, business education, and physical education. There were also inter-departmental majors in apparel design, apparel merchandising, and dance. Also offered in the Applied Arts were pre-nursing, a program for registered nurses, pre-occupational therapy, pre-optometry and public health. The advantage of these subjects lay in the fact that a student was able to specialize and become highly trained for the field of his career. From the headquarters of the College in the new wing of the Ad Building, Dean David F. Jackey and his staff promoted the purpose of training the student not only for his professional occupation, but also in diversified general education. 1939 saw the founding of the college and its aims.

The palm-lined patio of the Art Building was a cool, refreshing spot, a meeting-place for many small groups which gathered about in between-class conversations. At noon, many lunched here, too.

"The man of music" JAN POPPER taught courses in opera and directed the Opera Workshop, and he was also a member of the Fine Arts Production Committee.

Head of the Theater Arts Department, RALPH FREUD, directed the cost on an Oriental set for the major production, "Lady Precious Stream," a Chinese play.

"Antigone," in an hour-long adaptation, was the special achievement of ARTHUR FRIEDMAN, Chairman of the Radio Division of the UCLA Theater Arts Department.

Two committees for Applied Arts, several for the President and Chancellor and chairmanship of Physical Education left Dr. BEN MILLER no time for teaching.

Before leaving UCLA, FRANCES TACIONIS taught tailoring and the history and development of the clothing industry to many eager young home econ. majors.

LUCILLE IRVINE of the Business Education Department taught shorthand to the handicapped and polio victims, and a specialized shorthand course at Hughes Aircraft.

GIBSON A. DANES, chairman of the Department of Art, spent the past year teaching classes in his field, writing his book, photographing, and playing tennis.

Lights on for another Royce Hall show. The control board was a familiar sight to the theater arts students handling technical duties of the main stage plays.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Dean LLEWELLYN BOELTER, interested in progress in engineering, promoted expansion in the graduate courses offered and in research. A six-weeks course in limb-fitting and prosthetics was added to the curriculum.

The College of Engineering has flourished during the past year with a large growth of graduate degree instruction and extension activities, promoted for the purpose of serving Southern California Professional Engineering more adequately. Included among the outstanding events of the year supported by the College of Engineering were the "Sample Lesson", attributed to Charles Eames and George Nelson, in addition to the ten-six weeks instruction program for the prosthetics, physical therapists, and orthopedic surgeons. During its approximately nine years as a part of the University, the College of Engineering has served Engineering students with a high caliber counselling service. The excellent facilities of UCLA's ultra-modern laboratories are also at the command of majors in engineering.

His ranch at Sylmar, California, and research in feedback control systems and digital and analogical components kept LOUIS G. WALTERS busy.

Aside from his research in space at high temperatures, conditioning project, CRAIG was involved in artificial limb.

Complicated, strange, difficult: these were the adjectives used to describe the many classroom projects and research experiments carried on by the engineers.

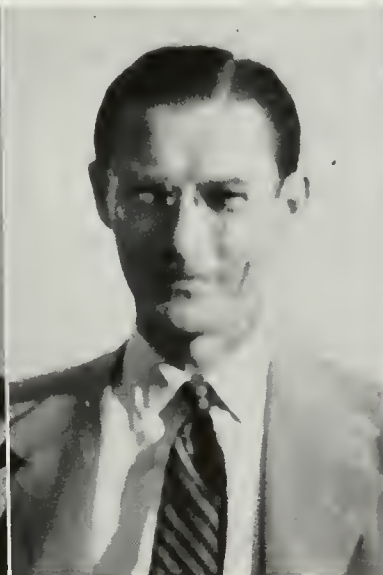

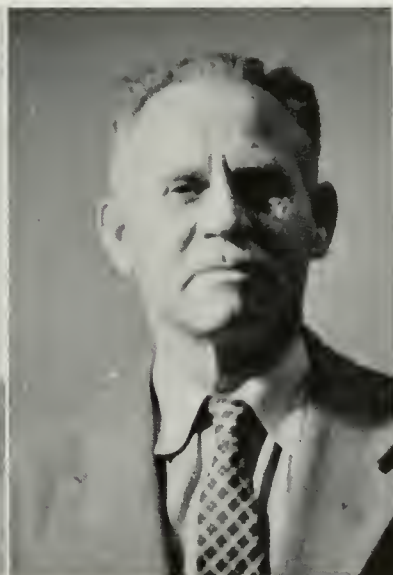

A stark contrast to nearby temporary buildings was the modernistic Engineering Building facing Westwood Boulevard — "home" of studious engineering majors.

om teaching Engineering
107B and 107B, Civil Engineer
GLISH headed the Engineer-
Student Relations Committee.

For twenty years WILLIAM SEYER researched in heat conductivity of liquids and stress potentials. He is a native of Canada and a tennis player.

Before coming to UCLA in 1949,
FRANCIS SHANLEY worked for the CAA and Lockheed. His project involved new type structures for USAF.

WILLIAM HERSHBERGER has been here since 1949, teaching electromagnetic theory. He has also done research in materials in the electronics industry.

COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE

Students concentrating in any one of the four divisions of study known as the Humanities, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences, or Life Sciences enrolled in the College of Letters and Science. The curricula of these divisions were presented in an effort to broaden the cultural background of the Letters and Science student and to prepare him for his specialized professional studies. In pursuit of these studies, he found offered approximately thirty majors or departmental fields and about eleven curricula or inter-departmental fields of concentration. Furthermore, certain courses given at the Westwood Campus were applicable as preparation for admission to the various professional colleges of the University at Los Angeles, Berkeley and San Francisco. Led by Dean Paul A. Dodd, staff members of Letters and Science look forward to an even more successful future in expansion.

Dean PAUL A. DODD, heading the College of Letters and Science, specializes in the field of industrial relations, which he formerly taught at UCLA. He was appointed to Advisory Committee to the Secretary of Labor.

Head of Department of Psychology, F. Gengerelli, represented in the physiological psychology of learning and in psychology holding Yale Research Fellowship.

Lights on in Royce Hall were a beautiful sight. It represented departmental and off-campus activities: concerts, lectures, theater arts productions, and the Varsity and Homecoming shows. This was UCLA at night.

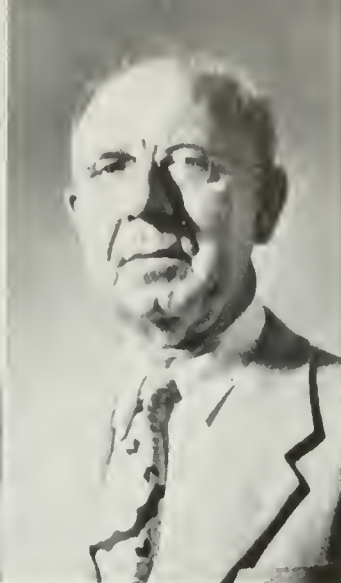

T. W. MEIGHAN of the

M. R. HESTENES, head of the Department of Mathematics, worked at the Institute for Numerical Analysis while working on plans for the new Mathematics Building.

Prior to leaving on his sabatical leave, CLINTON HUMISTON, of the French Department, taught a survey course in french literature in English and a Renaissance course.

Head of the Chemistry Department,
 F. E. BLACET, experiments in both photochemistry and legislative assembly. He has also written articles and scientific journals.

Since his arrival at UCLA in 1947, D. M. POPPER, Chairman of the Astronomy Department, has mingled school activities with his pastime of hiking.

One of UCLA's first Ph.D.'s in the field of philosophy,
 ABRAHAM KAPLAN, has been researching in the relation of science and the humanities.

The unknown holds the chemistry student fascinated, especially when it is in a laboratory experiment.

PAUL HOUMAN, Chairman of the Department of Economics, worked on text he was writing about elementary economics.

Cal Club advisor and Italian instructor, CHARLES SPERONI, published various monographs on folklore and proverbs.

Chairman of the Journalism Department, JOSEPH BRANDT, was active in the journalism panels and honoraries.

RICHARD C. RUDOLPH brought the culture of the East to his students through his three classes in oriental languages.

III during the spring semester, ROLAND HUSSEY, Chairman of the History Department, worked on the book he was writing.

Heading English was CLAUDE JONES, member of Rose Bowl and Athletic Advisory Committees and on the Art Council.

JOSEPH ADAMS, Chairman of Naval Sciences, was in the Navy for some thirty-four years. He first came to teach at UCLA about two years ago.

Colone! WYLIE MOORE was in charge of armoment and transportation in Chino and was with the Flying Tigers during his nineteen years' service.

Chairman of Military Sciences, MASON LUCAS, was on the President's committee on military exemption and the L.A. Committee for Civil Defense.

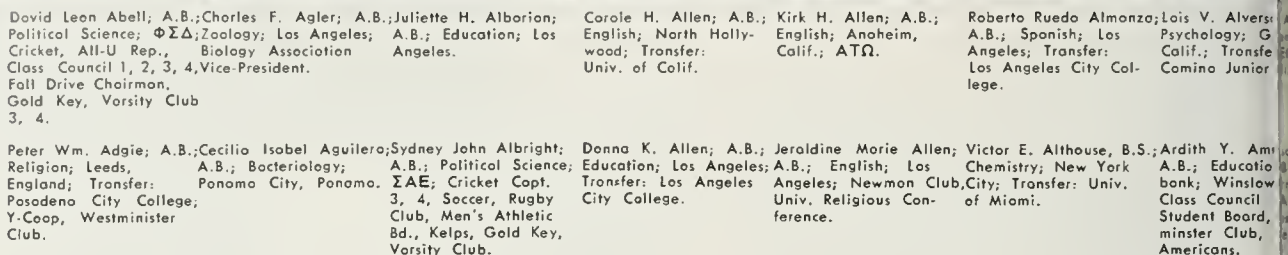

Steady improvement was constantly taking place about the compus, and the quad in front of the Chemistry Building received its share of attention. Trees, shrubbery and lawn were planted, and the parking lot was leveled and graveled.

Instructors from the College of Letters and Science often got together for a "between-class" chat, discussing problems or humorous incidents in connection with their classes, current events, or their outside hobbies and interests.

'ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR . . . ONE, TWO . . . THREE, FOUR!' In rain or shine, men of various ROTC units could be seen maneuvering on the field across from the men's and women's gyms, as part of UCLA's vast Military Training Program.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The School of Business Administration has approximately eight hundred upper division and graduate students, and offers courses in thirteen curriculum areas leading to the Bachelor of Science, Master of Business Administration, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. The approximately forty members of the faculty engage in projects in accounting, business law, business economics, statistics, business finance, production management, insurance, personnel management, marketing, transportation and traffic management, real estate and urban land economics, and organization and management theory and policy. Each year the school sponsors over fifteen annual conferences, institutes and seminars for business managers, and will inaugurate a special Executive Development Program starting in 1954.

Acting Dean of Business Administration NEIL H. ROBBINS was on the Committee on Theater Arts Productions and carried on research on the price policy in the Los Angeles dry cleaning industry.

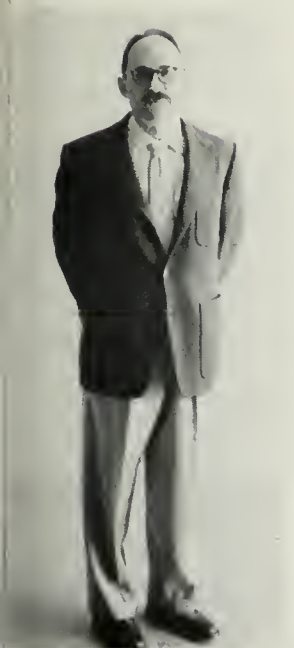

MELVIN SALVESEN directed the Management Sciences Research Project sponsored by the Office of Naval Research.

Former violinist, now in business, JAMES McNULTY worked on theory of business organization as related to economics.

So as to provide the student with a practical knowledge of business, as well as theory, courses introduced the student to the proper use of office machinery.

Amateur snake-laver RALPH CASSADY directed the Bureau of Business and Economic Research and studied price wars.

WILLIAM BERANEK, originally from Milwaukee, spent his second year on the faculty teaching courses in finance.

JOHN VAN de WATER has done research on the influence of the federal and state labor laws on industrial productivity.

Geographical structure of retail trade and consumer buying patterns were included in WILLIAM F. BROWN's research.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The Teachers College was replaced in 1939 by the establishment of the School of Education on the Los Angeles campus. Preparation for teaching on the elementary, secondary or college levels is offered. Further study in educational administration, research or special phases of public school education is available to the experienced teachers who return for supplementary work. Graduate students may work for the degree of Master of Arts in Education, Master of Education and Doctor of Education. Students in education may work for certificates of completion and also for state credentials which authorize service in fifteen different fields. Practice teaching is required before the credentials can be awarded and prospective teachers gain teaching experience at the Warner and Brockton Elementary Schools, Emerson Junior High School and University High School.

Dean EDWIN A. LEE worked on a book in collaboration with Dr. MacLEAN. He also held membership on the Board of Directors of the American Book Company, the Educational Advisory Committee of National Association of Manufacturers as well as Cleveland Conference.

One-time broadcaster over KPPC, and former Civil Service Commissioner for Los Angeles, FREDERIC P. WOELLNER has been with UCLA for thirty-two years teaching education.

University Elementary School, situated on UCLA's campus, is the testing ground for student teachers. There, under faculty supervision, teaching hopefuls get experience in classroom situations and have the advantage of modern conveniences and facilities.

L. DALE COFFMAN, UCLA's Dean of the School of Law, found that the administrative duties he was faced with were time-consuming. He nevertheless found time for outside activities such as his interest in photography.

The School of Law's rush to greatness is partially demonstrated in the highest record attained by its graduates in the California bar examination. The law students receive their training in the modern and efficient Law Building. The School has established a most effective trial practice program in its beautiful courtroom under the direction of Judge William C. Mathes of the United States District Court. The inauguration of an extensive legal research and writing program, the Roscoe Pound Competition, the publication of a new LAW REVIEW, student participation in the state-wide moot court program, which was won by this School last year, all evidence a professional education as modern as the structure housing the School. Dean L. Dale Coffman, the School's first dean, planned the building for future expansion. The School has been in operation five years.

SCHOOL OF LAW

JAMES SUMNER served as Placement Director for the School of Law. At home he was busy with the gardening.

Aside from teaching for the Law School, HOLLIN PERKIN has two books on the subject of police science to his credit.

Third-year law students approached their practice trials with seriousness, and even utilized students on campus to serve as witnesses and members of the jury.

Writing two books, one on property and one on community property, consumed most of HAROLD VERALL's time.

Aside from teaching public law, ARVO VAN ALSTYNE was on the Admissions and the Curriculum Committees.

Consultant for the Summary of Metropolitan Courts was JAMES H. CHADBOURN, who also taught civil procedure.

Under the able jurisdiction of WILLIAM G. MATHES, third-year law students were taught trial and court practice.

UCLA's first class of medical students, in their third year, cast hopeful eyes at the vast new twenty million dollar Medical Center, nearing completion. It looked as if their final year of medical school might be spent in part in one of the nation's finest equipped Medical Centers. There were three classes of twenty-eight each in the crowded temporary quarters. Next year's freshman class will be enlarged to fifty. Pending completion of the teaching hospital, clinical observations and research were being carried out in Veterans Administration Hospitals at Sawtelle and Long Beach and in the Harbor General Hospital at Torrance. An extensive research program in neurophysiology attracted foreign scholars and a research team developed a procedure to detect cancer in early stages. It was announced that it would be made available to the public in the near future.

Dean STAFFORD L. WARREN has published more than one hundred articles on different diseases. During the past year he was mainly preoccupied with the building of the physical plant to house the new Medical Center.

SIDNEY C. MADDEN researched in pratein metabolism and worked in child pathology. Tennis claimed him.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

University of Virginia was J. LAWRENCE's Alma Mater. Dermatology his academic interest, photography his hobby.

The Council of Nutritionists and the American Public Health Assoc. were only a few of WILLIAM H. GRIFFITH's duties.

JOHN FIELD served as consultant to the National Science Foundation, and was chairman of the physiology department.

Outstanding in his field was J. M. ADAMS, chairman of pediatrics. He also found time to teach classes in this field.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

HARRY A. BLISS, consultant sanitarian for the University's state-wide division of sanitation, edited The Sanitarian, taught sanitary science and public health administration, and also held positions on the N.A.S.

Aside from formal lecture classes, public health students often found themselves in discussion periods. These periods were held in conjunction with graphic or picture forms presenting to the class problems to be studied.

The School of Public Health offers instruction on the campuses at Berkeley, Los Angeles and San Francisco, leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Master of Public Health and Doctor of Public Health. The Los Angeles campus, during the coming academic year, will have Dr. Wilton L. Halverson, who directed the California Department of Health since 1943, as Associate Dean of Public Health. This is part of the development program under which the School has been reorganizing into a southern and northern section. With the new associate dean, the School will develop its own graduate program co-operatively with the School of Medicine. With these changes, the southern section of the School will become an integral part of the program of Chancellor Raymond Allen with the state-wide dean serving as co-ordinator in the development of health services in the area.

Dean LULU K. WOLF, who received her Master of Public Health from Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, was active in The National Institute of Mental Health.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

This year the School of Nursing experienced an increase in Master degree students and graduated the first four-year class. The school admits students of junior or higher standing, offering curricula leading to the Bachelor of Science degree, closely interweaving general and professional education. The social, emotional and health aspects of nursing are emphasized. Nursing laboratory practice is faculty-guided in hospitals, out-patient clinics, schools, child guidance, nursery schools, and at community health centers. The program is designed to prepare registered nurses for professional service in community nursing. In the coming school year, the School plans to move into the new Medical Center.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WELFARE

The two-year graduate program offered by the School of Social Welfare is fully accredited by the American Association of Schools of Social Work. After successful completion of the prescribed one-year program of 24 units including field work, a certificate in social welfare is granted. The degree of Master of Social Welfare is awarded to students who successfully complete the two-year program of 48 units including field work, and who comply with additional requirements. As the Department of Social Welfare offers courses on the graduate level only, completion of the University's program in pre-social welfare or its equivalent is desirable as preparation for graduate study in social welfare.

CHARLES SCHOTTLAND, Director of State Department of Social Welfare, lectured in law, legislation and public administration. During the war he worked with the military government and Children's Bureau in Washington.

Pencil in hand, papers askew, a comfortable slouch—this seemed to add to the feeling of informality as social welfare students discussed in group sessions the many problems of their field.

Dean VERN. O. KNUDSEN worked with anti-naise campaigns in Chicago and New York, and on sabbatical leave, he studied the acoustics of musical buildings, concert halls and opera houses, in Europe and Near East.

GRADUATE DIVISION

Due to the rapid growth of UCLA's graduate enrollment, the Graduate Division concerned itself with problems incident to this extraordinary growth. The graduate dean requested departments to study present and projected trends of student enrollments and the manpower needs of the state and nation. The Graduate Council conducted a study of staff, library and laboratory needs of certain departments that especially require improvement or expansion to meet the needs of the increasing graduate enrollment. The first Ph.D. degree was awarded by the division in 1938. During the past year, graduate students have enrolled in fifty-four schools and departments within the University at UCLA.

Handling graduate admissions fell to Assistant Dean GUSTAV O. ARLT, a researcher in folklore and colloquial speech.

Among the facilities available to graduate students interested in getting practical experience in their fields of study are the speech clinics for students interested in working with speech-handicapped children. There the students learn by doing.

The Guggenheim Fellowship and the American Chemical Society's California Award for 1953 were won by DONALD CRAM.

1954 FACULTY AWARDS

The SOUTHERN CAMPUS faculty awards have become a tradition since they were initiated in 1950. They have been given each year since that time, based on contributions through research, service to the University, community and nation, and contributions to the teaching profession. This year professors were nominated by the chairmen of the departments, and the recipients chosen by a committee selected by Chancellor Raymond B. Allen. This new system was the responsibility of the SOUTHERN CAMPUS co-associate editors. This year faculty members from the College of Letters and Science, the School of Agriculture, the School of Engineering, and the School of Business Administration received the awards.

His excellent work in music, especially evident in Opero Workshop productions, won JAN POPPER a faculty award.

FRANCIS SHANLEY contributed to engineering advancement by such work as his research for USAF on type structures.

Highly qualified for a faculty award was Italian instructor CHARLES SPERONI who acted as advisor to California Club.

JOHN CLENDENIN, outstanding in his field of Business Administration, was another recipient of the 1954 faculty awards.

ACTIVITIES

SEPTEMBER

SEPTEMBER

Lines for registration could be hectic. Bruised Bruins bounded from one to another only to hear "Next line, please."

The prospective student faced the Student Health Service X-ray machine. Shoulders forward . . . hold breath . . . next!

Even medicals were administered in long lines. Each Bruin's gaping mouth was well gagged with a tongue depressor.

WITH REGISTRATION

In September the wheels of UCLA began to turn; UCLA lines began to form. Each produced something—pamphlets, papers, padlocks, pains. But the big compensation for lines came at the end of registration when the Bruin got his passport to a semester's activities. Then the first few hectic days were forgotten.

AND ENROLLMENT

Enrollment line-ups resembled those at Santa Anita. Only the Bruins who enrolled by mail were spared this ordeal.

The last line found Bruins with sad hearts and sore feet, waiting to sign for the inevitable . . . a Saturday quiz section.

The Westwood "C" became the local rainbow. Each class began a day on the hill pulling weeds away from the letter and slashing paint on it. Later painters and "C" sported class colors when the job was finished.

THE FALL BEGAN

With portable in hand the Bruin sauntered to class hoping for another hit before the bell rang. A key attraction in Kerckhoff Hall was the community lounge's television set.

INTRODUCING THE STUDENT

For the newcomer Orientation meant meeting the many campus activities.

Worn-out pencils attested to the vast number of social and service signups.

Tapping the new Bruin's day was the President's reception. On the receiving line the newcomer was given a warm welcome by both PRESIDENT SPROUL and CHANCELLOR ALLEN.

Col Men were among the many service organizations welcoming the newcomer.

Orientation committee planned a program that showed the new student the ins and outs of campus life and helped him find his place at UCLA. Out of the vast mosaic of faces and activities he emerged an individual as Orientation workers welcomed him. Campus tours acquainted him with the campus. Special festivities, such as the Orientation dinner, President's reception and dance, and Howdy-Doody show featuring top entertainers, gave the new Bruin a royal welcome.

Campus tours, intraductions to the campus organizations, the traditional Howdy Show and a welcome dance were just a few of the activities planned by Orientation Committee. ED KRAMER, PEGGY ANDERSON, JUDY TONER, RODGER GIBBONS, BOB PASKIN, SHIRLEY ROBERTS, NANCY OMELIANOVITCH, JEANNE ROSS, SUE WOOD, DON GERTSMAN, LEW MERCKELSON, STU HACKEL and BOB SHAW.

"First aisle to your left." The newcomer eagerly filed into Royce Hall for the Howdy Show.

Informality often marked the scene when the President, Lew Leebug, called a meeting of the Student Legislative Council to consider important questions which concerned ASUCLA.

Manipulating student affairs within the framework of the revised, June, 1953 ASUCLA Constitution, student government revolved about two houses during the past year, Student Legislative Council and the President's Cabinet, both under the chairmanship of President Lew Leebug. Within the SLC was vested all final power within the realm of the undergraduate student association in order to serve the individual and collective needs of the student body, subject to review of the Associated Students. This council was composed of all elected representatives of the students, and was abetted by the presence of non-voting members from the Faculty and Administration and the General Manager. The President's cabinet resided in more of an advisory and reviewing capacity, made up from organization presidents and class presidents. Besides promulgating into legislation the necessary items of budget for the Association and co-ordinating and consolidating its executive and functional activities, the two houses, under the auspices of a new constitution, offered a more wide-spread basis for student representation than was ever before put into effect. Though the newly instituted government had understandably suffered growing pains, it undoubtedly laid firm foundation which will build strong representative government within ASUCLA in the future.

Really getting down to business was occasion for serious discussions as ASUCLA President LEW LEEBURG (center) and Student Legislative council conferred with ASUCLA General Manager, WILLIAM ACKERMAN. (Left) Convening in open session every Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the Kerckhoff Hall Memorial Room, the Council was entrusted by the Constitution with such things as approving the annual budget, safeguarding student rights, making rules for the government of the Association and determining all official policies of the Association. Seated in the Council, which has all final power within the Association, were the elected officers of the students, one presidential appointee and the ASUCLA General Manager.

LEW LEEBURG (Center) presided over his cabinet, created for the first time by the new ASUCLA Constitution. Designed to ease the legislative burden of the Student Council, its duties were to recommend budgetary transfers, approve campus events, and to review awards. Composed of ASUCLA President, various class presidents, and board heads, it assumed responsibility for many activities and consolidated executive and functional events. The Rep-at-Large brought before Council issues recommended by a Cabinet majority.

TO STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Board of Control, represented by (L. to R.) Mr. ACKERMAN, BOB BREWSTER, LEW LEEBURG, LORRAINE SHORT, Dr. JONES, Mr. TAYLOR, Mr. JOHNS, Mr. JACKSON, and STEVE CLAMAN, had the final say on Associated Student finances, approved ASUCLA budgets, and audited and published report of the ASUCLA Financial Status.

THE PRESIDENT

Wielding the presidential gavel was deserving and able LEW LEEBURG. Lew, who came in at the same time as the new ASUCLA constitution, found he had a thousand problems in laying the foundation for a strong government after the staggering shift in organization. In addition to technical difficulties his was the burden of coordinating the newly formed President's Cabinet and Legislative Council. As holder of the purse strings, he spent many hours signing checks so that the wheels of ASUCLA action could roll. The task of giving the students a government for the students was also charged to him, for his election had inaugurated a new government with a new purpose; the true representation of every ASUCLA student. The gist of student opinion was sought as he tried to promote legislation with which the majority of Bruins would be in accord. Opinion polls were taken and the letters to the editor column of the paper watched carefully to check the drift of University opinion. In order to help unify the student body and give Bruins a feeling of kinship with one another, he helped to initiate informative and entertaining programs in Royce Hall auditorium. Coordinating the affairs of a large University was hard work, no matter what it involved, but hard work was not new to the ASUCLA President. He had started out as Frosh President and had gone on to become head man of Yeomen and AMS President. Kelps, Gold Key and Cal Club claimed time and labor which was not devoted to his ASUCLA office.

AND VICE PRESIDENT

JANET HALE, official greeter for the Associated Students of UCLA, made the vice-presidency a full-time job. All visiting dignitaries eventually fell into her grasp to receive her warm smile and friendly welcome. Her position carried with it the titles of Official Hostess, Head of Public Relations, and Student-Faculty Relations. These could have been empty words to anyone not possessing Janet's vitality or initiative in organizing an original program. She planned as many as twelve UCLA campus tours a month for various high schools. In addition, a high school day which three hundred high school students attended served as an orientation to college life. A movie about UCLA, its activities and academic opportunities was offered to civic organizations. This way laid the tendency towards lax community relations. Believing strongly that the gap between student and faculty should be filled, Janet went to work on a new program of faculty talks to living groups. An inexpensive babysitting service for the faculty was also part of her thoughtful handiwork. She took special interest in the foreign students. Seeing their difficulty in becoming oriented on such a large campus, she assigned a person to each, who became his friend and sponsor. Making the student a part of the University and the University a part of the community were goals successfully attained by Janet Hale. Her program successfully reached out and drew the individual into the educational, social, and cultural life of the University.

DAVE ABELL, All-University Representative and the third highest ASUCLA officer, worked on establishing the Speakers Coordinating Council and the Community Relations Committee.

Next-highest on the Rep totem pole was active SKIP BYRNE, Upper Division Rep.

The lower division student was the concern of BOB HUBBELL, Lower Division Rep.

STUDENT LEADERS

In the fall the student saw the introduction of a new constitution which provided greater representation than ever before, for the student now had several new representatives charged with the problems involved in his area of interest: commuters and living groups had a new voice in government and a spokesman to represent their views on student issues; Joe and Josie voiced their growls effectively through the Men's and Women's Reps; the two academic shelves were considered by way of the Lower Division and Upper Division Reps; and the All-U Rep and the Rep-at-Large assumed problems of a more general nature. The major work of these representatives was to find where each was needed most. Uclans now had the potentials for a harmonious Government through representation.

UCLA's first Women's Rep, ELLIE PETERSON, also worked on our student-faculty relations.

New to Bruin political circles was Men's Rep, a position filled by RON GARABEDIAN.

In the role of Appointed Rep-At-Large, RAY CARDENAS was right hand man to LEEBURG.

Cammuter's Rep BOB NAGAMOTO instigated a phoning campaign for rides for Bruins.

As the first Living Group Rep, MARIANNE GARARD voiced views of both Orgs and Dorms.

UCLA's WILLIAM ACKERMAN, one-time Bruin tennis coach, wields his dynamic force as General Manager for ASUCLA. He is the coordinating force between the students, alumni and general public.

Kerckhoff Hall, main artery of ASUCLA life, throbbed with the work of those men and women who seldom received the credit which they so well deserved. For each of the many functions in the vast network of student activities, an ASUCLA official served, in an advisory capacity, as the "man behind" that activity. The influence of these employees could be felt in every realm, from finances—budget requests and approvals—to textbooks and hot lunches. Due to their careful supervision, the Bruin's activities were sped through another busy highly profitable year.

AND ASUCLA PERSONNEL

Cashier DON ASHEN enjoyed bi-monthly periods of wide spread acclaim from all ASUCLA paid employees — he had the checks!

Regardless of the event, Mrs. ROWE BALDWIN had the "tickets" to success for all ASUCLA functions for students and faculty alike.

GUY BUCKINGHAM, time-honored head custodian, held the "keys" to vital student activities centered in the offices of Kerckhoff Hall.

ROY CULLISON collaborated the culinary art with an appreciation of dinner music in serving hungry Bruins in the ASUCLA Cafeteria.

JOE FELKER reversed the ancient adage, believing 'tis better to receive than to give, in the Receiving Department of Kerckhoff Hall.

Transplanted Arkansan, ROYCE HAMILTON, spent his second year keeping track of Bruin dollars and cents as the ASUCLA accountant.

Director of Athletics WILBUR JOHNS proudly watched over the giant dividends produced by a successful and extensive athletic program.

Rose-hued copy dominated the desks of Publicity Chief VIC KELLEY when he wasn't found out on the field coaching Bruin golfers.

AK MANNING flashed flash for thousands of picture and Bruins who came to his Kerckhoff Hall top-floor studio.

HARRY MORRIS smiled his way through another outstanding year of handling and supervising all of the many ASUCLA publications.

A man of many trades, NORM PADGETT divided his time amongst duties as assistant to the Graduate Manager and as the Rugby coach.

Former Bruin basketball great, BILL PUTNAM, handled important reins acting as the assistant to the Athletic Director, Wilbur Johns.

Economy-wise STAN REEL budgeted another amazing assortment of Bruin requests which flooded the ASUCLA Purchasing Department.

for T. D. STANFORD checked largest figures in Bruin history looking over ledgers of student cases, for another ASUCLA year.

Assistant Director of Publications FRANK STEWART had plenty of evidence for a final Goal Post story, "I Like the Bruins Because . . ."

The KINSEY REPORT was a big seller for bookstore manager RALPH STILWELL as studious Bruins were provided with shelves of material.

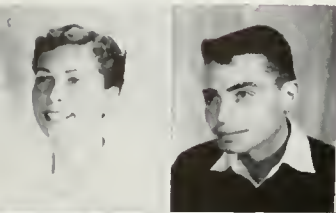

To coaches, News Bureau, publications and students alike, STAN TROUTMAN and his ASUCLA photography crew were indispensable.

Jinx-believing DON WALDEN kept his fingers crossed all year while he assisted in the Purchasing Department at Kerckhoff Hall

ORGANIZATIONS CONTROL BOARD

From the busiest thinkers of Kerckhoff Hall came the idea for a "Club of the Week" program that would inform the students about the many organizations here on campus. In the midst of coordinating social events to keep them from conflicting with ASUCLA events, as well as giving aid to newly formed organizations, and encouraging others to form and seek University recognition, members of Organizations Control Board, under the guidance of Nancy Plummer, endeavored to strengthen the internal structure of the organization.

A friendly, informal atmosphere pervaded many of OCB's business meetings. This was one of the many factors which contributed to its successful work.

NANCY PLUMMER, Alpha Phi prexy, acted as chairman of OCB. Chimes also claimed NANCY'S time, as did the owner of a certain froternity pin she wore.

WELFARE BOARD

Under the leadership of Norm Epstein, Welfare Board introduced several new committees: the Student Disaster Preparedness Committee, the Bureau of Student Information, which published bulletins summarizing student activities, and the Public Legislation Committee. The board worked on a new constitution and held retreats. The Cafeteria Board, investigating cafeteria prices, the Council for Student Unity, conducting surveys on discrimination, the Sunshine Club, and the Transportation Bureau, kept the Welfare Board functioning.

"Something old, something new" could well describe the work of Welfare Board as the organization added many new boards, while strengthening the old ones.

Welfare Board's chairman, NORM EPSTEIN had a seat on President's Cabinet, IFC Presidents' Cabinet, was on the Interfaith Council and a member of Gold Key.

RON OKUN, fall prexy of Council of Organizations Presidents, was followed by JIM STERN, fellow pre-medical major, in the spring.

MARGARET DeNEVERS, a psychometrist in the Student Testing Center, served as president of the Graduate Students Association.

MAJEED SHERAIDAH, member of Gold Key, was chairman of International Board. From Iraq, MAJEED also worked on I House.

COUNCIL OF PRESIDENTS

The duties of the Council of Organizations Presidents was to coordinate presidents of service, professional and departmental organizations on campus. COP provided offices for the presidents, and published a bulletin about the groups.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

The Graduate Students Association entered its fourth year of work, which was spent in a continued effort to provide for UCLA's graduate students a greater voice in University affairs which were either pertinent or of interest to them.

INTERNATIONAL BOARD

The task of coordinating the foreign student groups on campus, including International House and Cosmos, fell to International Board: ART MARSHALL, RON OKUN, DIANE HAROUFF, PAUL SELWYN, and Chairman MAJEED SHERAIDAH.

LIVING GROUP COUNCIL

Living Group Council, the liaison between SLC and the living groups, consisted of JERRY PARENT, IFC; JERRY LOVELAND, Bruin Village; JERRY WINESBURG, UCHA; MARIANNE GARARD; MARION ROPER, Panhellenic; HAZEL RICCI, was absent.

Tri-Delt MARIANNE GARARD, as Living Group Rep, utilized Living Group Council to coordinate the "on campus" students at UCLA.

MEN'S ATHLETIC BOARD

Representatives from every sport were brought together by the Men's Athletic Board to create interest in athletics. One of the most important events sponsored by the Board was the All Sports Day that attracted a thousand alumni.

RON LIVINGSTON as chairman of MAB worked to establish sailing and volley ball as minor sports, with awarding letters and passes.

MUSIC SERVICE BOARD

Service Board coordinated service organizations through DAVE FLEMING, JERRY CROYMANS, DON SHULMAN, IRV DRASNIN, PAUL SELWYN, CELINE GELLMAN, GRETCHEN DEFFEBACH, MONA McTAGGERT, JOYCE BROTSKY, LARRY GRODSKY.

PAUL SELWYN and his board initiated a "Song of the Week" program for the students, besides supporting the Spirit Fridays.

SPEECH ACTIVITIES BOARD

UCLA's successful participants in debates and speech tournaments included forensic-minded Speech Activities Board, JOHN ANTIGNAS, AL FINK, DON NEWMAN, BERNIE SEGAL, WILLIE WHITTENBERG, JACK MELTON and FRED SONENBERG.

Poli Sci senior, BERNIE SEGAL, Chairman of Speech Activities Board, received the Oliver Trophy for his outstanding speech work.

STUDENT JUDICIAL BOARD

The problems pertaining to settling cases of student discipline fell to, standing, BOB MENNELL and DAN EVENTOV; seated, KEN POOVY, DIANE KALKMAN, DON DREW and STAN HABERMAN, members of ASUCLA's judicial body, Student Judicial Board.

Handling chairmanship duties for Student Judicial Board was Sigma Pi KEN POOVY, who also served as a member of Election Board.

STUDENT PRODUCTIONS BOARD

Members of Student Productions Board were (L. to R.) BRUCE CAMPBELL, BOB EMENEGGER, MARILOU JONES, WES BILSON, BARBOURA MORRIS, Dr. MILLER and VIC SCHWARTZ, standing; JEANNE TABSCOTT, ED SCHUMAN and MAXINE NEWMAN.

Motion picture major ED SCHUMAN took over the chairmanship of Student Production Board after the resignation of NOREEN STEIN.

OCTOBER

It didn't take the Freshmen long to assume their ASUCLA responsibilities, and when Frosh elections come around, effective campaigns were underway.

Election Board, including MARY STUART, JERRY NAGIN, JUDY CRAFTS, and CLARANN JOHNSON, discuss red tape of ASUCLA campaigns and elections.

FRESHMEN ELECTED

When the Bruin went to vote, he was first confronted with the question "May I see your ASUCLA card?"

The row of election booths was the final step; now to cast the needed vote for the favorite candidate.

JERRY NAGIN, Election Board Chairman, became Appointed Rep for ASUCLA, after which JEAN GAIR took over the past, handled the elections.

By means of the Exchange Student plan and through private means, many students from Europe and Asia, interested in the U.S., enrolled at UCLA.

Chancellor RAYMOND B. ALLEN introduced Indian Ambassador GAGANVISHARI L. MEHTA to the Royce Hall audience, when the ambassador spoke on "A New India in a New Asia," on his first visit to the West Coast. Mr. MEHTA has also written a book explaining the philosophy of Gandhism.

INTERNATIONAL ELEMENT

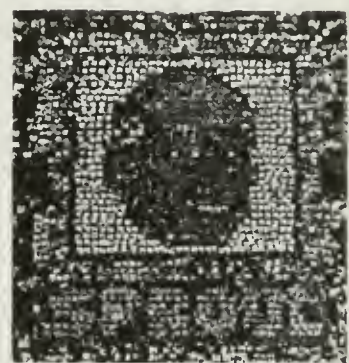

BRUIN BAND

UCLA's Great Bruin Band came forth with another innovation: original background music for the lighted card stunts at the Wisconsin and Kansas football games. One of the largest half-time pageants came on High School Band Day, when over 1,000 musicians maneuvered on the turf. Under directors Sawhill and Baskerville was the student staff including Tom Fitzgerald, Jerry Johnson, Marvin Kahn, drum major Dick Jones, Walter Tannenbaum, Sam Terry, Doug Lackey and Charles Deckes. At the Washington game, in honor of the King of Greece, the band played his favorite folksong. All music for the band was originally arranged by Baskerville and Kelly Jones.

With base camp established at the African Lodge on the Quad, students and alumni embarked on a safari that took them to events which demonstrated the traditional trend of Homecoming—ligger and better. The Alumni Picnic was the first stop on the colorful trek. Thoughtful hosts provided a large tent to protect the assemblage from the elements. At the Homecoming Show the next night the audience was entertained by the witchcraft of Carol Burnett and Aileen Flanery. The street dance pushed excitement up to fever pitch. Queen Donna Pratt and her attendants floated down the Janus steps to be crowned by Pres Kent Sprifkin. A parade of floats depicting African masks, brave Bruin hunters, bear boaters in pots and much lightening voodoo enchantment entertained a mass of people which included a television audience. An inspired Bruin entourage clivined the wheel with a successful Homecoming game. The Homecoming committee saw that it went well by means of 31 approval schedules.

NOVEMBER

SAM JERRY FOX proved his capabilities by being re-elected another year as NSA coordinator. Even with his duties as head of the organization and NSA representative on SLC, Jerry maintained his phenomenal 3.0 over-all grade point average.

The NSA Executive Board was made up of some of the many chairmen and assistants heading the commissions and groups serving under NSA. Together they planned the executive activities and programs throughout the year.

Steering NSA this year were HAL RAUCH, Foreign Student Tour; JOE ADLER, Student Government Commission; JERRY FOX, NSA coordinator; JO GELERMAN, International Affairs Commission; STEVE WALTERS, publicity chairman.

NATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

For the first time in many years, NSA set in operation all of its commissions. Among the many busy groups was the Student Government Commission which promoted Academic Freedom Week that initiated political activity in the Democratic and Republican parties. The Educational Affairs Commission sponsored two conferences for the vocational clubs in all the Southern California colleges. UCLA students corresponded with foreign students overseas under the supervision of the International Affairs Commission. Tours to Europe were planned by the Travel Bureau. Most successful was the Foreign Student Tour that took forty foreign students throughout California. The Political Activity Board arranged debates on controversial issues at campus and in national affairs. The Cultural Affairs Commission organized several interest clubs among which were the Creative Writing Club, the Classical Music Club and LAMPS that served as an all-inclusive club. Several new committees were initiated to round out a very successful year for the National Students Association.

Highlighting the Associated Collegiate Press Conference at the Ambassador Hotel, was the banquet which featured columnist DREW PEARSON. The convention scheduled sessions for student newspapers and yearbooks with panel discussions led by the DAILY BRUIN and SOUTHERN CAMPUS editors and business managers, under the sponsorship of the UCLA Graduate Journalism Department and the University Extension. This year marked the first time that the convention was held on the west coast.

PUBLICATIONS BEGAN

On the floor of the assembly, the delegates passed resolutions establishing policy for the region involving student government and on international affairs program.

During November, UCLA hosted the NSA Regional Assembly for the California-Nevada-Hawaii region. Among the ninety students attending were BOB BREWSTER and JERRY FOX from UCLA, the delegate from the University of California at Berkeley, and DAVE ABELL, also from UCLA.

The steam exerting pressure behind campus publications was HARRY MORRIS, Director of Publications. His deadlines, budget restrictions and famous dinner meetings kept the SOUTHERN CAMPUS and DAILY BRUIN, besides other publications, on the track. Editing Goal Post and Haap were also Mr. MORRIS' responsibility. Important papers were always at his fingertips, the effort of his energetic secretary, LEE MONTELEONE.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Planning Publications Day and presenting problems to the President's Cabinet and SLC was the work of Publications Board members: PAT SLOAN, GSA; AUDREY KOPP, DAILY BRUIN; LEE MONTELEONE, publications secretary; BONNIE SHRUBAR, SOUTHERN CAMPUS; KAY BOURNE, SOUTHERN CAMPUS; AL GREENSTEIN, DAILY BRUIN; and standing: BOB NAGAMOTO, presidential appointee; HARRY MORRIS, Director of Publications; JOHN VANDERWATER, faculty member; CHARLES FRANCIS, administration.

The tiniest member of the staff with the biggest load on her shoulders—the 'big chief' was little BONNIE SHRUBAR. Mornings in the art department, noons eating lunch in the KH patio, afternoons down in the photo lab, dinner at the Pi Phi house, evenings turning out layouts with the art editor—Bonnie could always be found in the SoCam office from 12 to 2 in the wee morning hours, by appointment only. The result—another masterpiece in the great SOUTHERN CAMPUS tradition.

SOUTHERN CAMPUS

Art editor DON CHIPPERFIELD broke from tradition with new ideas. Something you've never seen before!

KAY BOURNE, "Miss Efficiency," made time for student teaching and wedding plans to be Business Manager.

Travelling between site 3 and KH304 kept Phi Mu MARCIA CARTER on the run as co-associate editor.

The other half of the team was LOU ANN BLACK. "Marcia, what do I do now?" was frequently heard.

It was in Kerckhoff Hall 304. A table held some of it in little pieces waiting to be pasted together. In the dark-room parts were sitting in developing concoctions. Other sections sat in the carriages of typewriters. People worried about it. The editor stayed up until the wee hours of the morning planning, while other staff members climbed the empty Kerckhoff stairs on Saturdays and Sundays to finish it. Students casually "dropped in" to see how things were progressing and never failed to ask the traditional question, "When is it coming out?" Then, slowly, piece by piece, it was put together in sixteen-page forms. Finally, that long-awaited day in June rolled around when the staff announced that its job was done. And it wasn't long after, that the UCLA student received his "book," the 1954 SOUTHERN CAMPUS.

RUTH REITER swung the gavel at the Tri Delta house and wielded the hot knife in KH304 as Engravings Editor.

Sales campaigns yielded to an election campaign when Sales Manager RALPH HANSEN ran for an office.

Borrowed from the TA department for long intervals, MARILOU JONES lent her talents as Copy Editor.

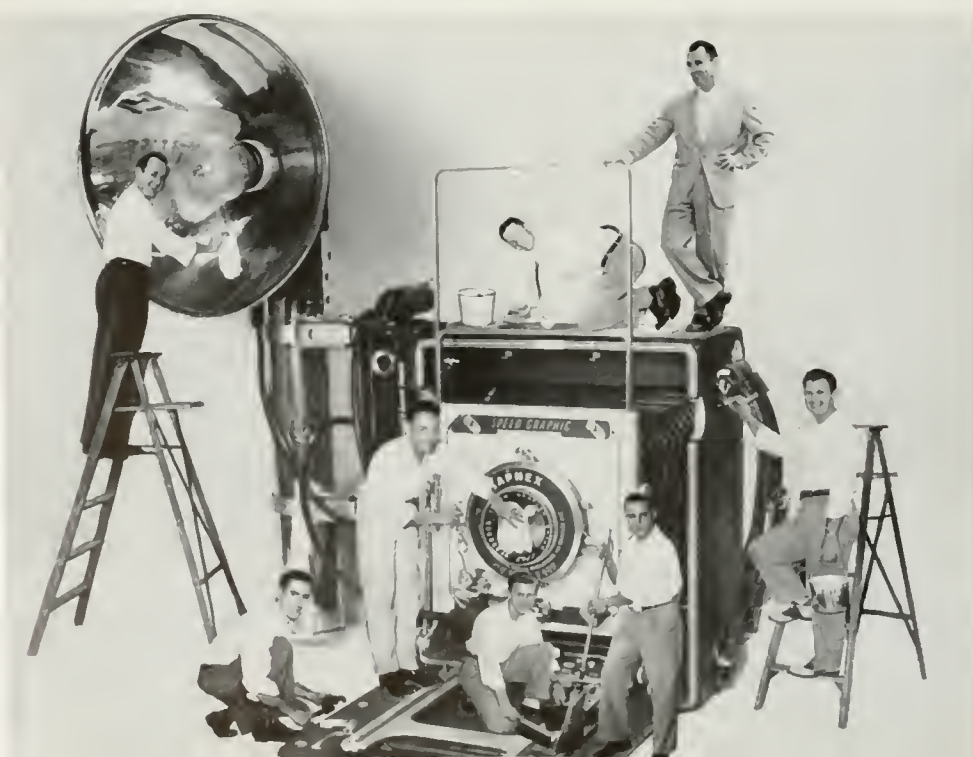

Girl-wonder NANCY ISHIZAKI kept the SoCam machine running smoothly with her duties as Office Manager.

Matching neckties at two A.M. kept Alpha Chi MARY COOK busy on the floor as Organizations Editor.

Entertaining the staff with her inimitable singing, Pi Phi VIRGINIA TURNER organized the senior reservations.

"Southern Campus calling"—it was PEGGY ALBIN making one of her appointments as Photography Editor.

Delta Delta Delta GRETCHEN FISCH balanced ledgers and totaled sums in her duties as Contracts Manager.

From atop the speed graphic "Mr. Photography", STAN TROUTMAN, supervises his photographers: RAY CIPPERLEY, AL KING, ALLAN ABEDOR, JIM HILTON, MARV CHEESEMAN, HERB SAUL, and NORM CLARK.

Beta JAY NOVAK worked with the art editor as things started rolling.

Sigma Nu DON CHATELAIN assisted sales manager as Publicity Manager.

ANN CHRISTENSON collected senior data cards as Co-senior Editor.

Tri Delta ARDEN HUME worked with ANN as another SoCam senior editor.

Sports editor JERRY PROCTOR also played the piano down at Dude's.

Organization-plus was GRACE MOREHEAD in her position as librarian.

A congenial mass of secretaries, staffs, editors and curiosity seekers gathers around as the wheels of the SOUTHERN CAMPUS machine start turning.

Cails of wire, miles of tape and mysterious knobs were organized by GORDON THOMPSON, DICK TUMIN and MARCIA CARTER to produce the record.

When pressure was on, not a typewriter was free—the copy staff had taken over: MARILOU JONES, SHIRLEY LINK, KATHY KNOPE, and SANDY LATTIN.

Photography Editor PEGGY ALBIN types out the next days assignment for her appointment-makers: PEG MANUEL, LYNN MURPHY, and MARY WARRIS.

THE DAILY BRUIN

Two awards and an editorial highlighted the life of the DAILY BRUIN during the 1953-54 season. In the spring the paper once again received All-American rating for the fall semester when Al Greenstein was editor. Earlier in the spring, BRUIN cartoonist Sheldon Starkman received a $1000 award. M. E. Vogel's editorial concerning former California governor and presently Chief Justice Earl Warren, who spoke during Charter Day ceremonies, was read by Raymond B. Allen as his welcoming address to Warren at the Alumni dinner. Issues receiving considerable comment on the news and feature pages concerned the proposed fee increase for the building fund and the Model UN conference.

Gold Key AL GREENSTEIN, known as the "man on the front of the Frash Bible," as fall BRUIN editor never did things half way, but always said what he felt.

Her last semester at UCLA, and all say that it was a job well done when Mortar Board AUDREY KOPP wound up her BRUIN career as fall managing editor.

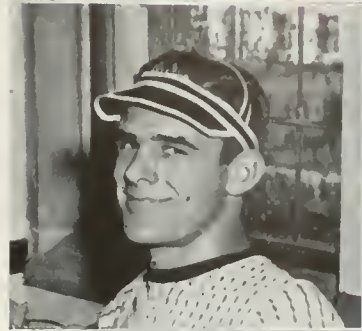

Kappa Sig JOHN PRICE's efficient book-keeping accounted for his being elected to the position of business manager for the BRUIN both in the fall and spring.

Before M. E. VOGEL became editor, she put in hours as city editor.

Working with M.E. was MARTIN McREYNOLDS, another city editor.

PHIL BERK'S ingenuity as feature editor sparked up the fall BRUIN.

Talented BOB SEIZER put in another year as the perfect sports editor.

Dates and roving eyes were social editor FERN VICTOR's worries.

BARRY TUNICK, fall news editor, moved to spring feature editor.

The associate editor for the fall BRUIN was old staffer AL FRANK.

With her amazing enthusiasm and determination, M. E. VOGEL became BRUIN editor for the spring semester after only one year of experience on the staff.

PHIL BERK, a Sammy, spent his fourth semester on the DAILY BRUIN as managing editor. In the spring semester of '53 PHIL won a plaque for feature writing.

Typical activity in KH 212 with typewriters clattering, voices clamoring, and the usual group turning out the work was AUDREY KOPP, FREDY PERLMAN, SHELLY LOWENKOPF, RALPH MELARAGNO, BILL ULLMARK, PHIL PELINO, M. E. VOGEL, JEAN FOX, BOB MENNELL.

Fall night editor was RALPH MELARAGNO, later city editor.

"Skylar Gazing" was MARTY'S trade mark as sports editor.

Conscientious sports-writing was EDDIE ISENSEN's talent.

Another sportswriter covering games was JEFF BLANKFORT.

LARRY SKALINSKY, fall night editor, became news editor.

Midnight oil was ZENA STANTON's hobby as night editor.

HARRY PETERZELL spent those late nights with the BRUIN.

Following AL FRANK, JERRY FARBER was associate editor.

Echoes rang with SCOP SHELLY LOWENKOPF as night editor.

Roving eyes were BARBARA ELLWOOD's job as social editor.

GINGER ALDER worked with the rest of those DB night owls.

EVELYN GROSSMAN was bath desk editor and social reporter.

DB business staff used DAVE DOTEN as the fall ad manager.

TOM JONES, another Kappa Sig, was circulation manager.

Art major DEE KIPPS kept order as fall office manager.

SPOTLIGHT

A pair of editors at rest, CHARLES SACHS and MAXINE NEWMAN took on the fateful job of attempting to rejuvenate the sad condition Campus Theater Spotlight previously had fallen into. The two theater arts majors could be seen about the "lawn" in back of Royce Hall discussing reviews and the latest shows.

Money matters fell into the hands of MARILOU JONES, business manager. MARILOU was a Chime, and took over as SOUTHERN CAMPUS copy editor in the spring semester.

MAXINE NEWMAN and her editorial staff, which consisted of DIANE COPLAN and JEANNE TABSCOTT, undertook the everlasting quest for materials and writers. These three could be seen in many of the Theater Arts Department's productions, both major and minor. MAXINE was also a member of Chimes.

Campus Theater Spotlight went into a period of hibernation during the past academic year, as financial need and student apathy became the paramount problems. In past years the magazine was published monthly for some 150 theater arts majors, and copies were sent to about 100 high schools throughout the state and nation. This year rigor mortis set in and, stalemated at every turn, the staff finally "gave up the ship" at the end of the fall semester. Originally it had been planned to incorporate Spotlight into a fine arts magazine, including the art, music, and theater arts departments. Departmental assistance was needed, and when this was refused, the future seemed dimmer than ever. The staff sincerely hoped that in the future something could be done to bring Spotlight back to its once enthusiastic readers.

As HEDDA GABLER, LILA LEE SILVERN won the coveted award for the best performance by an actress in a major role.

JULIAN BURTON and ED RONEY, another award-winner for his portrayal in HEDDA GABLER, played principle roles. JULIAN has been seen in many TA productions; this was ED's first here.

MARY JANE MOFFAT'S sensitive approach to THEA ELVSTED was a beautiful contrast to the strong HEDDA GABLER.

Awareness and an unlimited amount of energy provided AMS president BOB BREWSTER with essential implements for coordinating men's activities.

BOB STEIN administered firmly men's superiority over campus women last November when, as chairman, he coordinated the Men's Week activities.

The men on campus made themselves known during Men's Week, through many of the activities planned by BOB STEIN and his Men's Week committee. Intramurals, the Frash-Saph Brawl, the alumni basketball game, pie eats and SC yells climaxed a week in which men were supreme.

Under the direction of president BOB BREWSTER, Associated Men Students' Executive Board found itself concerned with many and varied activities, which included a highly successful Men's Week in November and the Spring Sing, which was sung in the Greek Theater in April.

ASSOCIATED MEN STUDENTS

Associated Men Students not only continued many of their old traditions, which included the Spring Sing, this year held in the Greek Theater, and the usually successful Men's Week, but also introduced something new to home basketball games — half-time entertainment. In the spring the young men's fancies turned to future Bruins, and an orientation day was sponsored for high school and junior college men students. Doing an excellent job assisting proxy Bob Brewster were vice president Gerry Parent and secretary-treasurer Rene Miller.

Despite the determination of Yeoman president IRV DRASNIN, the lower division men's honorary was defeated by the upper division rivals, Gold Key, in a football feature during Men's Week.

An innovation in college competition came during Men's Week, when daughter's father was seen poised upon the free throw line, ready to land that basket.

And these are the happiest days of my life?

Sophomore class president AL ROSIN stood defiant as his defeated classmates suffered the humiliation of having a pie applied victoriously by freshman president AL LASHER following the Brawl.

The alums hobbled through a victorious game, to show that the "youngsters" will have to go a long way to prove themselves superior to the past generations' Bruins.

Boy, that sure looks good!

Move over, it's my turn.

I'm allergic to lemon cream.

Letting down hair and upholding the class spirit was the chore assigned to the mud-caked brawlers.

Win or lose, the annual mud maneuver was as important to the frosh-soph teams as any competition yet undertaken.

Indignant despair, plus mud, added to the woes of this cute "brawler" at the Soph-Frosh Brawl. Besides, it was her boy friend's new shirt.

The women's only chance during Men's Week came during the AWS open house. Chairman ARDITH ARDMUNDSEN served refreshments and the Koppo Delto Quartet entertained the dancing Bruins.

"Beat the Bell out of SC" was the cry emanating from the Men's Gym the Friday night before the "Big Game" at the Men's Week dance. Cheerleaders JERRY LEWIS and NORM JACOBS led the yells as Bruins danced to the music of FREDDIE SLACK.

"Beat Michigan, Beat Michigan, Beat Michigan. .!" The chants and yells of spirited Bruins grew louder as the Michigan Rose Bowl contest neared.

UCLA 13, SC NOTHING!

When the football season was over, except for the anticipated Rose Bowl clash with Michigan State, turfmen were honored at the annual Football Bonquet, held in the beautiful Beverly Hills Hotel. PAUL CAMERON proudly received the highest award in football, the coveted All-American trophy.

Sorority pledges auctioned their car-washing services for the Fall Drive.

BERNIE SHAPIRO, SKIP BYRNE, MARCIA CARTER, PAULINE BEATTY, IRV FRIEDMAN, NOREEN BAUM, Chairman DICK ORGELL, DIANE DONOGHUE, MARILYN KEEDELL, ARMIN HOFFMAN, HAL SAMUELSON, JERRY DANDY and FRANK FLEISHER worked on Fall Drive, doing everything from pointing signs to taking up collections.

Red Cross Bloodmobiles were filled with Bruins willingly donating blood.

PEGGY ANDERSON, SUE PITTMAN, SUE WOOD, Chairmen LOREN NICKOLSON and SHEILA DUKE were the hard workers on the Red Cross Blood Drive.

CAMPUS DRIVES

The Fall Drive, benefiting Project India, Muscular Dystrophy, Heart Fund, and other charities of Community Chest, was directed by Dick Orgell, who had as his assistant Marcia Carter. Lending support to Fall Drive were Diane Donoghue and Skip Byrne, who told living groups of the project. Class collections kept workers on their toes, while Armin Hoffman took charge of the talent show given in Royce Hall to promote the Drive. The fall semester also found Sue Wood and Peggy Anderson busy on Blood Drive, the leading donors being Chi Phi, Delta Zeta, and the NROTC. Under Loren Nicholson, in the spring, we beat SC competition, with Chi Phi, ZTA, and the Navy leading our side.

The Junior Prom Committee included MARILYN MASON, GERRY CROYMANS, NANCY GROBEATY, LOUISE COKER, CURT OWEN, ELAINE DAVIS, JODY HAAS, SHEILA KELLY, JO FREED; SANDY GOLDBERG, ART MARSHALL, KURT KENWORTH, ED KRAMER and BURT SCHNEUROW.

ROSE BALL

After entering a float in the Homecoming parade, the juniors went on to win the "Best Class" trophy of Men's Week. The plans for the Junior Prom Weekend included a jazz concert in Royce Hall and was climaxed by the Rose Ball, featuring Les Brown's music. By entering a booth in the Mardi Gras, the council successfully made money for Uni Camp. For Spring Sing, the juniors experimented with the All-U Spring Sing Group, besides entering their quartette in the contest. Friday afternoon before the Spring Sing finals, Junior Council sponsored an open house where Bruins gathered at the Theta Delt house. The juniors were proud to claim the largest Junior Council to date.

Under the excellent leadership of its class officers, President ART MARSHALL, Vice President SHELIA KELLY, Treasurer JIM LUMSDEN and Secretary JOAN PAVIAN, there was little wonder why the junior class had such an excellent record. This included the prized "Best Class" trophy during Men's Week and a very successful Junior Prom.

FROM MANY LANDS

The Christmas season brought with it many festivities including an All-U Christmas Sing at which Bruins gathered to sing carols, and later went to the home of the Chancellor to serenade him. Uni-Camp was the object of many activities during this season, as many sororities, fraternities and living groups invited Uni-Campers to their houses for dinner. Following the dinner, there was a Christmas party for the children at the University Religious Conference Building. Movies were shown and gifts given to the happy youngsters. The foreign students on campus were also given a party at URC and the feeling of "good will to all" pervaded the campus. When vacation came, Bruins headed home for tree-trimming, only to return before the New Year was quite here to meet the Spartans at the Rose Bowl game.

The foreign students enthusiastically joined in the celebration of Christmas at a party given for them at URC.

A real boy's world—two cap pistols, lots of food and fun! These two happy faces reflect the fun the children had at the Christmas festivities planned for them which included dinners, gifts and a party at the University Religious Conference. It was a fun-packed Christmas for all invited.

A FUN-PACKED CHRISTMAS

The URC Building rocked with noise as Bruins led the Uni-Campers in songs and school yells at the Christmas party for them.

The gifts of three little bays seem to fascinate BOB MEYERS as he kneels in front of the tree.

The achievements of the University, as reflected in the progress of its students and the acclaim of its faculty, were paralleled by an even more obvious progress: the physical growth of the Los Angeles campus. Research was encouraged by the addition of facilities while UCLA grew in world recognition.

IN RECOGNITION

Ranking first among all state-supported universities, UCLA has been rated by the American Council of Education as having notable faculties and facilities in twenty-one fields of learning and research, a record second only to Harvard. Scientists at UCLA join other researchers throughout the world in trying to present a more complete picture of the life's processes, the structure of atoms, our world and the universe. The main classified project on the Los Angeles campus continues to be the Atomic Energy Commission's program, in the School of Medicine, which deals with certain medical and physiological aspects of radiation. The University Library took its place as one of the great research libraries of the world when Chancellor Allen accepted from Lawrence C. Powell its one millionth volume.

Paul H. Sheets installed as President of the Adult Education Association of the U. S., in October.

It was raining now. Final exam time was nearing. That worn down feeling pervaded the campus. Everything looked cold and dreary. Who could smile now?

IT POURED

The procrastinating Bruin was finally faced with the dreaded reality of studying when final examination time arrived. The schedules were posted, and everything seemed to conflict. Books, unopened for a whole semester, were now skimmed through hurriedly; notes taken carelessly and discarded, were now carefully studied, and the question often asked "When did he discuss this?" Yet, when finals were over, all was forgotten, and the student looked forward to the new semester

A piano quartette was included in the musical numbers of the Friday Noon Concert program. Students performed at these concerts, which were quite varied in type. Although cultural programs highlighted the season, often an informal type of entertainment was brought to the student audience.

CONCERT SERIES

Noon concerts offered a variety of classical diversion. Dr. Jan Popper presented his Opera Workshop, and later in the year, his wife Betta joined him in a folk song program. More folk music was offered by members of I house during World Brotherhood Week. Dr. Petran presented several organ recitals. Among the many music classes that put on programs throughout the year were the voice classes and the glee clubs, the madrigal singers and the chamber music class.

Lending more serious atmosphere to the programs presented to students were the presentations of the Bruin Symphony Orchestra, which performed in Royce Hall.

NEW FACES

An imposing front door opens with a cheery "How are you today?" from the friendly rush chairman. Crested china, petite-fours, chatter and laughter blend into a glittering haze as six days of rushing spin past. Bewilderment and confusion evolve into happy anticipation. And the neat white envelope at the Panhellenic office promises a group of warm and enthusiastic friends. Tiny, bright new pledge pins, and milling fraternity men climax a week of rushing.

Tea at the ADPi house . . . Where did you go? Wasn't it nice? See you again. Maybe we'll pledge. . .

NEW FRIENDS

There is not another building on campus that sees more students through the year than Kerckhoff Hall. Lecture halls and labs may be filled, but Kerckhoff has become the synonym for student-inspired activity. Rallies, dances, meetings, elections and eating all take place within those hallowed halls. Card stunts and yearbooks are planned. King contests and sings are held. Saturday night's date is made. And the familiar halls vibrate with the rushing student life.

From Monnings Studio on the fifth floor to the kitchens in the bosement, Kerckhoff vibroted with varied student oactivities.

The expressions on the faces of those forming lines in the Coop reflected fotigue, friendliness or just bore-dom. Here, between closses, students gothered for o quick cup of coffee or o large malt, visiting with friends.

BAND CONCERTS

Marching on the turf was over. The cheering football fans were no longer heard. The familiar blue and gold uniforms were quickly packed away, and UCLA's Great Bruin Band turned from the spirited football music to a more varied program. At noon on Fridays they could be heard playing in Royce Hall, and they even performed at Carona Hospital. On All Schools Day the band trekked to Pasadena to participate. Over eighty students were in the band activities, including ROTC bands.

These two huge tubas brought depth and quality to the performances of the Great Bruin Band, whether playing on the turf in formation, or in Royce Hall concerts.

In their temporary building amid the theater arts section of Site Three, the band practiced for their spring semester concerts, which they gave in Royce Hall.

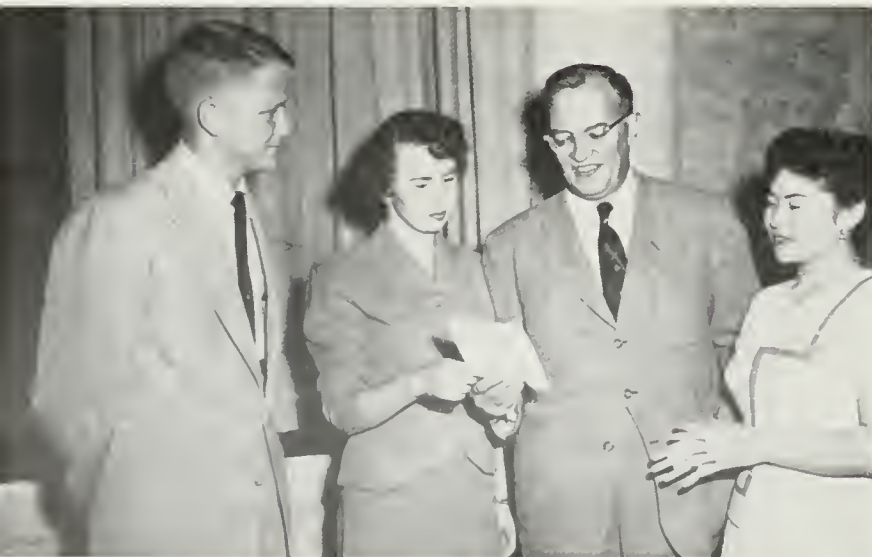

MARCH

CAMPUS UNITY

An opportunity to examine the principles of brotherhood were offered during Campus Unity Week which was sponsored by the University Religious Conference. Chairman Jock McKune and his committee planned a week full of interesting highlights. Guest speakers, student seminars, a panel by the Conference advisers, an inter-cultural program, an essay contest and a noon concert in connection with the week explored social relations, prejudices and religious beliefs.

VIVIAN ROBINSON, a member of the Panel of Americans, spoke as part of the Inter-Cultural program sponsored during Campus Unity Week. The Panel of Americans is well known for their intelligent discussions of different elements of religious faiths.

Lending support in examining the principles of brotherhood on a broad level, as well as on a campus level, CHANCELLOR ALLEN studies factors which would help to unify the students. BILL SNYDER, DELORES SCHERMAN and BETTY YAKI look on.

Guest speakers, student seminars, an inter-cultural program, an essay contest and a noon concert were planned by the Campus Unity Week committee for the week's events.

PROJECT INDIA

DON ULRICH, BRENT BOWEN, DIANE DONOGHUE, BOB NAGAMOTO, MARION SCHATTENBEURG, JACK McKUNE, BETTY YAKI, CHING-LING CHOW, VIVIAN ROBINSON, SKIP BYRNE, and BERNIE NEBENZAHL, were Project India members who traveled to India under a program developed by University Religious Conference, with a deep concern in the welfare of its people. Under the direction of Miss A. Guenther, these students became a part of a worthwhile purpose.

DUBLIN BALL

Quite a bit "muddled" were the freshmen who survived the Frosh-Soph Brawl, clutching the desired trophy in their grimy hands. They had out-done the sophomores! But the Brawl was only one part of the activities of Men's Week in which the enthusiastic freshmen had participated. Many trips to the "C" were made by Frosh Council, laden down with buckets of green paint, as the group strove to hold its own on the hill. Pants-painting brought more fun as levi-clad students trudged up to campus. The biggest event for the council, however, was the Dublin Ball, managed for the Freshmen Class by Bob Slaane and Chuck McCrary, who both did a fine piece of work to bring smiles to more than the Irishmen. So one of the season's most successful dances was staged at the Riviera Country Club, due to the great spirit and hard work of the booming new Bruins on their class council.

Every Dublin Ball has its Smiling Irishman, and beaming happily is STEVE WAYNE—who wouldn't with actress AUDREY DALTON to crown him!

Co-chairman CHUCK McCRARY and CLARANN JOHNSON, with JOHN LITTLE, greeted AUDREY DALTON at Riviera Country Club, scene of this year's annual freshman-sophomore dance.

Plans were often formulated by the sophomore council at such gatherings as this. An informal atmosphere pervaded as council members casually seated in the Community Lounge, drank their coffee.

Not to be out-done by other groups, the sophomores showed real ingenuity in their humorous entry in the Homecoming parade. They were also active in the doings of Men's Week, when all council members busily sold tickets for their class. The freshmen may have won the Brawl that week, but the sophomores were responsible for much of the mud-slinging. Painting the "C" became quite a project, after which the tired and hungry sophomore participants found a hot breakfast awaiting them in the cafeteria annex. Clarann Johnson worked for the sophomores in planning the annual Dublin Ball, held at the Riviera Country Club. Part of the publicity for the dance included a search for a hidden blarney stone, which sent Bruin searchers all over the campus. The entire sophomore council received the privilege of an invitation to attend a preview of one of Bob Hope's movies.

President ROBERT G. SPROUL spoke on the University's history at the Charter Day ceremonies.

CHARTER DAY

In March, UCLA celebrated the University of California's eighty-sixth anniversary at Charter Day ceremonies when Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the United States, spoke on "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof." President Robert Gordon Sproul presided over the activities, delivering his message on the University's history. In the evening, President Sproul and Justice Warren were guests at the Alumni Association's banquet in the Biltmore Ballroom.

In keeping with the tradition of the Charter Day ceremonies, faculty members and visiting personages donned their black robes and colors to form an inspiring group of scholars as they appeared on the Royce Hall stage.

EARL WARREN, former governor of California and present Chief Justice of the United States, spoke on "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof."

Among the first events planned for Greek Week were the exchange dinners.

Eating in grand style, the orgs had a great time at the Greek Week Banquet.

On Saturday night the orgs danced at the famous Riviera Country Club.

When representatives from both Greek rows met to initiate the 1954 Greek Week festivities at the banquet held at the Religious Conference Building, one of the most successful beginnings for any activity had taken place. Chariots, carefully constructed by fraternities, ran in races, and were cheered on by fans who turned out to support them. As photographers from LIFE magazine arrived, everyone wondered just who had the pushball, which mysteriously disappeared before the game. The project for the week consisted of clearing land to be used for a park. Fraternities and sororities had a great time at the exchange dinners that week. Grecian Nights, a semi-formal dance, sponsored by IFC and Panhellenic, concluded the week's activities, while couples danced to Frank Duval's music.

Students from colleges and universities all over the nation were present as the Model United Nations convention got underway at the general assembly in Royce Hall. On the stage hung the huge flag of the UN, in front of which hung flags of all the member nations.

Those who were responsible for the Model United Nations Convention which UCLA played host to included able committee members such as WALKER BUSH, WILLIAM WAKE, MORGAN SCOTT-HANSEN, CARL BOWMAN, DON NEUMAN, FRANK WINSTON, PHIL POLINO, DON SAWYER, ALLEN INDICTOR, ANN KATZ, ALI WASSIL, PAT BELL and THERESA GARCIA.

Seen discussing the events of the Model UN were DON NEUMAN, Secretary General, Dr. FRED TAYLOR, President, and ALY WASSAL. The General Assembly was held in UCLA's Royce Hall auditorium. The three-day convention was climaxed by a banquet at the Ambassador.

With a strictly negative approach, Russia (UCLA) put a damper on most of the proposals made by the other delegates. Bruin representatives enlivened the convention activities.

UCLA's Russian delegation, here typified by BOB HUBBELL'S facial expression, well represented the usual Russian reaction to most situations arising at United Nations conventions.

Convention activities started at the registration lines. There the student delegates awaited registering and looked forward to the events to come: committee meetings, general assembly, informal sessions, and entertainment.

The fourth annual conference of the Model United Nations was held on UCLA's campus March 25, 26 and 27, and was attended by student delegates from approximately one hundred colleges and universities in the eleven Western states, Hawaii and Alaska, as well as observers from universities in the East and foreign countries. The purpose of the Model UN was to provide college students opportunities for studying world affairs by direct participation. UCLA's program attempted to bring the work of the students at this conference close to the public, who would then have an opportunity as guests to witness the performance of the delegates and study the thinking of youth at an organized assembly. The three day schedule included a general assembly, various committee meetings, an evening concert, educational sessions and was climaxed by the banquet at the Ambassador.

The student delegates were registered in the Kerckhoff Community Lounge.

Chandler Melloy, Chairman Elect of the Model United Nations, discussed the problems which arose at the convention with a group of student delegates.

APRIL

The success of Uni Camp was due to the work of such groups as The Loncers, who donated their time to raise money for kids.

UNI CAMP

One of UCLA's most enthusiastic alumni, JOE E. BROWN, took time out of his very busy schedule to be present at the Uni Camp rally.

Every summer hundreds of children enjoy a vacation which would otherwise be denied them, due to the work of UCLA in supporting Uni Camp. There are three sessions held, one for girls, one for boys, and one for diabetics. The counselors for the camp are from UCLA and are carefully selected for the job. Such events as the Uni Camp Rally and the Mardi Gras are the two big money-raising events of the year for the support of the camp. Each year UCLA sets a higher goal in trying to send more children to camp. All involved are proud of this project.

JORDAN MOE, often seen around campus collecting for Uni Camp, was one of most active Uni Campers.

A group of busy little Uni Campers relax between rounds of activity. Swimming, hiking and crafts are part of the fun.

Having just as much fun as the kids were camp counselors JANIE HALE, ASUCLA Vice President, and CLYDINE KINTZ.

Uni Camp money collector DALE LUTZI found that when it came to Uni Camp, the students seemed quite willing to part with their spare change.

JOE E. BROWN was met with enthusiastic applause when he appeared at the Uni Camp Rally. His support of UCLA projects makes him a Bruin favorite.

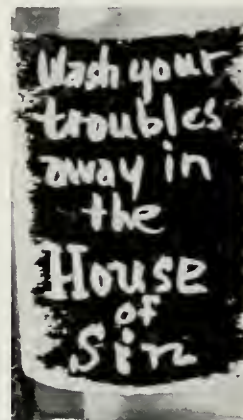

The spotlight was on Caach REDD SANDERS when he was crowned king of Mardi Gras.

With flouncing ruffles and heel-stamping, these gala can-can girls delighted audiences by whirling with all the excitement of Mardi Gras.

MARDI GRAS

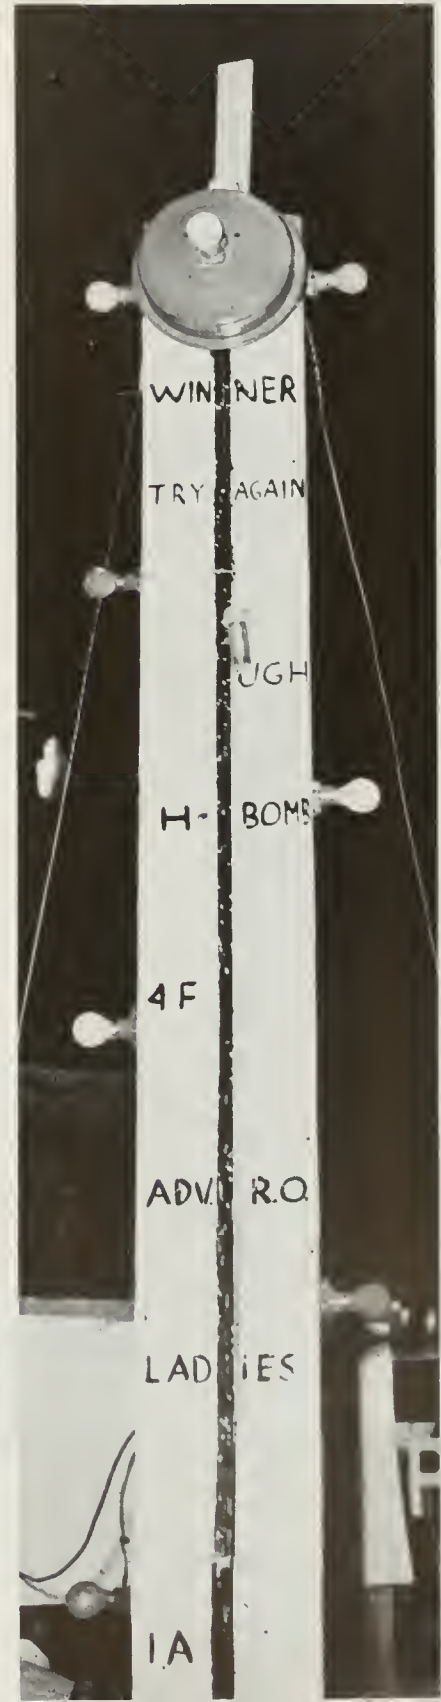

On the night of Mardi Gras, the quad between the two gyms was transformed into a carnival-like atmosphere. Booths everywhere bid the passerby to partake of wares, join in contests, or watch entertainment. The spirit with which the Bruins undertook their one big charity event of the year accounted for its tremendous success. Mardi Gras proceeds went to Uni Camp.

A happy combination of painted faces and bouncing balloons helped to turn the campus grounds into a world of gaiety.

University Comp became a reality because of the careful engineering of Chairman JACK TAYLOR and his competent committee members.

Alpha Chi Omegas and Phi Kappa Sigmas filled the stage with a mass of swaying pink skirts and bobbing pink straw hats as they mamboed their way to fame with a hypnotic rendition of 'El Cumbanchero'. With eight vocal parts singing in Spanish, the Alpha Chi-Phi Kap combination not only took home the trophy for first in the mixed division but also the large, three-foot tall Grand Sweepstakes trophy for their efforts in rendering the Latin American rhythms.

SPRING SING

From a heated rivalry between two fraternities has grown the largest collegiate competitive event in the nation — UCLA's Spring Sing. Within the nine years of development, the Sing has progressed from the fraternity houses to the Greek Theatre, from a men's quartet to eighty competing groups. The judges chose from the eighty organizations that sang in the prelims twenty-three finalists. Sixteen trophies were awarded to the groups placing first and second in their division. The Bruins could not only yell, but sing.

The SAE's songs to girl friends, "Josephine," "Sweet Sue" and "Mary Lou" won first in men's quartets.

"Wrap up your troubles" and "Red, red robbin" were sung by winning women's quartet, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Night-shirted Pi Beta Phis sang an enchanting Children's Medley that placed first in women's division.

GLEN WOODMANSEE led the brothers in on SAE medley of Spiritual Songs, winning in the men's division.

"Manhattan Towers" placed the Delta Gamma and Delta Sigma Phi group as first in the novelty division.

Climaxing Kelps' review of ED HUMMEL'S UCLA co-reer, MR. ACKERMAN presented to ED copper Kelp hat.

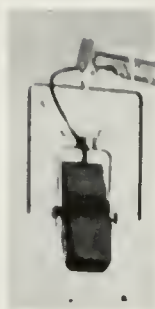

An Odd-Ball division was added this year, and an SAE pair placed first with some singing of old ballads.

Working behind the scenes were the members of the Spring Sing executive board led by their two, very able co-chairmen, DOUG DONNELL and BOB DUMM.

RADIO WORKSHOP

The Radio Workshop at UCLA provided experience in radio production, radio management and radio advertising, with emphasis on the relationship of radio to television in these fields. Part of the public services offered by the workshop were programs for the city and county schools and the SOUTHERN CAMPUS record, this year produced under the supervision of Richard Tumin. Arthur B. Friedman and his staff also provided guest lecturers in the field of radio and television.

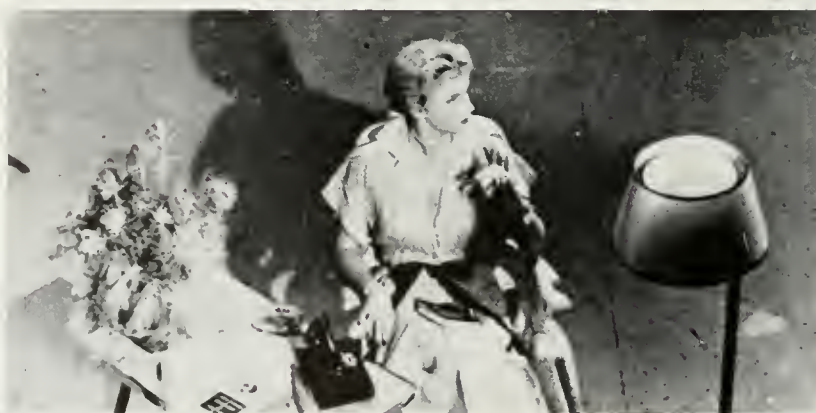

Students worked with some of the finest sound and engineering equipment to be found in any college or university radio studios.

Emphasis in the radio workshops was placed on over-all production knowledge. Students did both acting and technical work.

MOTION PICTURE PRODUCTION

On the miniature sound stage in building 3V, motion picture majors of the Theater Arts Department produce sound films as part of their curriculum. The UCLA division is known all over the country for the excellent quality of its motion picture work.

The people were the friends with whom Frantz Peter-Martin had been reared and schooled. The cast pictured includes SHEILA GENDEN, NORMAN ANDREWS, JULIAN BURTON, DANA SKOFIELD, PEGGY MCKENNA, E. J. ANDRE, MICHAEL BARRIER, EVELYNE HOLSMAN, BARBOURA MORRIS, STAN YOUNG.

THE BROKEN STAIRWAY

There'll be a wine time"

Frantz Peter-Martin, author of THE BROKEN STAIRWAY, fostered a particular kind of functional dream out of which he created his own world of fiction. The place was Vienna. The play is about the time of change when the Russians took over from the Nazis. Frantz was able to bring out the true situations and conditions because of his experiences in mingling with the populace, first as a soldier, then as a civilian. Nordstrom Whited directed this Viennese play.

THE PEARL

One of the finest experiments in theater was seen in the Royce Hall production of THE PEARL. This play was adapted for dance and was directed by John Jones of the Theater Arts Department. He experimented with abstract dance movement which would be performed against a background of recorded dialogue. Sets were by Ming Cho Lee.

The dancing of LARRY WARREN and JOY VOGELSANG, vocal performances of VITO De MARZO and LEILA GREENSTONE made THE PEARL a successful production.

The beautiful symbolism in the Royce Hall main stage production of THE PEARL was attributed to the outstanding choreography of director JOHN JONES and the interesting scenic designs created by MING CHO LEE. This was an abstract dance drama using recorded dialogue.

In building 3K-7, a temporary building in Site Three, the Theater Arts Department produces two rounds of one-acts each semester, giving a total of thirty-six one-act plays throughout the school year. These many faculty-supervised shows are ably written, directed and acted by the students.

ONE-ACTS

MING CHO LEE and AL COHEN were the two central characters in ROBRET BARROW's prison-cell one-act, A CUP OF HEMLOCK, directed by MANUEL LEONARDO.

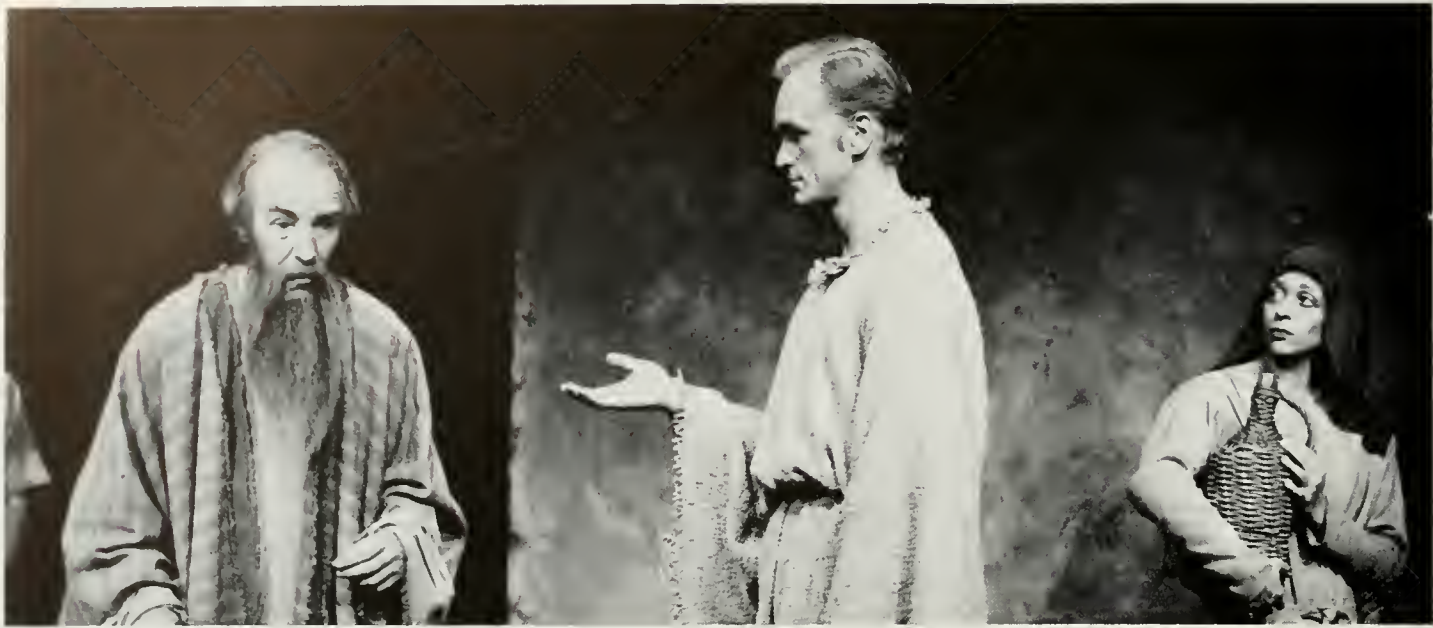

The rest of the family look on as SANDY BERG and FRANK BURNS discuss the events surrounding the funeral in the JACK HELD-directed one-act, A TIME LIKE THIS.

ASA MANOR and SID SCHACTOR watch the strong actions of BARBOURA MORRIS and DICK DRIGGERS in the one-act SECOND LOVER, directed by DIRK WALES.

TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL

MARVIN ROSIN, E. J. ANDRE, BARRY ATWATER and ADA LEVINE were the principal players in the Royce Hall 170 production of TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL. This fanciful play featured dragons, thieves and beautiful harem girls. The production was directed by EDWARD HEARN and met with enthusiastic approval.

LADY PRESCIOUS STREAM

Royce Hall 170 productions reach more than fourteen hundred people in the two weeks that they play. It has been the policy of the Theater Arts Department to try to present a wide variety of productions to the public. In the fall, HEDDA GABLER and TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL were the 170 highlights, and in the spring THE BROKEN STAIRWAY and LADY PRESCIOUS STREAM showed a sharp contrast. Walden Bayle directed HEDDA, Edward Hearn directed TOBIAS and Nordstrum Whited and Ralph Freud were in charge of STAIRWAY and PRESCIOUS STREAM, respectively. The dramatic, fanciful, also continental and Chinese were displayed in the 1953-1954 170 play schedule.

In stunning costumes and with strange Chinese actions, DOON SAROYAN played male lead.

In the role of the beautiful LADY PRESCIOUS STREAM, was the graceful actress GAIL KOBE.

A sparkling campaign attributed to RALPH HANSEN's success at the polls.

Women's Rep winner JOYCE CLASSEN had a campaign which featured zip and "rocin" with Clasen."

CAMPAIGNING

Drums beat and torches led shouting mobs down Sorority Row. Candidates spoke during dinner to campus groups and stickers were found on parked cars. After campaigning was over and the votes had been cast, crowds of students anxiously awaited the results in Kerckhoff Hall while votes were being counted. A record was set, as Elections Board announced that eighty-three aspiring candidates had run for the thirty-four offices. Over three thousand Bruins came to the polls to cast their votes.

Presidential hopefuls SKIP BYRNE, BOB BREWSTER and DON BRAGG presented their platforms at the "polython" in the Kerckhoff patio.

"Why not try it anyway?" These words were heard often at the I House Festival as foreign students sold rare dishes native to their own countries, which were featured at the festival.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

LIEN BROMET, VIVIANNE SINCLAIR, LEO VOUSALO, "DUTCH" VAN HEEN, HERTA DAMMER, DIANE HASIN, and ANGELICA MAYER produced plans for the "I" House.

When I House Festival time came to campus, it was the foreign students' turn to do some orientation work. Their job was to introduce to UCLA the many cultures of the world. Booths were constructed in Kerckhoff Hall patio for selling the strange and exciting dishes from foreign lands, cooked by the students themselves. A platform was built for the program which featured a variety of music and dancing. Colorful costumes paraded about the patio on that Sunday afternoon, and visitors and hosts agreed that the festival was a success.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Under the leadership of prexy Diane Harouf, the Associated Women Students carried out orientation programs, Model Josie, women's intramurals, as well as the annual Women's Week. At that time AWS sponsored an honorary breakfast for Spurs, Chimes and Mortar Board, a Hi Jinx, a progressive dinner, a style show, and Adele Rodgers St. Johns as guest speaker. On Thursday of Women's Week the annual Banquet was held in Kerckhoff Hall patio, at which awards were announced, new officers installed, and honoraries tapped for new members.

JUNE

HONOR AWARDS

The Honor Editions of the SOUTHERN CAMPUS are awarded annually by the Associated Students of the University of California at Los Angeles to those men and women who have best distinguished themselves as true Californians in scholarship, loyalty and service to their Alma Mater. This year twenty-three members of the class of 1954 have been added to this honor roll.

BRENT BOWEN: Student Activities Advisor; Business Manager of the 1950 SOUTHERN CAMPUS; California Club; Kappa Sigma member.

STEVE CLAMAN: Board of Control; Gold Key president; Cal Club; Yeomen; Student Board; Phi Beta Kappa; Kelps; and Zeta Beta Tau.

BASIL CLYMAN: Chairman of Welfare Board; Bureau of Student Opinion Chairman; Gold Key; Yeomen and Phi Sigma Delta member.

ALOHA BALL

Excitement and activities galore filled the year for the seniors as they completed the final phase of their collegiate careers. The traditional Senior Brunch, preceding the UCLA-USC gridiron tilt, attracted 400 senior classmen. It featured tasty chicken lunches, top entertainment, and seats on the 50-yard line. That was just the beginning of a memorable year that was climaxed with Senior Week events. There was Ditch Day after the class assembly. There was the Senior Lunch, when one thousand seniors brought their sack lunches and gathered to eat with their fellow classmates in the Kerckhoff Hall Patio. Then came the Aloha Ball, which found its setting at the Sportsmen's Lodge. Basil Clyman served as chairman for the pilgrimage before Commencement, to round out the glorious year. Graduation, the object of four years of anticipation, finally came, and the seniors bid fond farewells to undergraduate life.

The last big "night life" occasion on the seniors' calendar came on June 19, when they attended their last undergraduate dance, the Aloha Ball, given in their honor.

SENIOR COUNCIL

Making sure that UCLA will never forget the Senior class of 1954, the Senior officers ordered a set of activities and class spirit that carried on the idea of the "big" senior. With a steady pace these activity-minded officers, Vice President JOAN THORSON, Treasurer CLIF WEBB, Secretary SHARON McLEAN, and President DOUG HOLDEN were largely responsible for planning the traditional full-packed Senior Week.

The wise words of Chancellor RAYMOND B. ALLEN were addressed to the young people with talent.

intelligence and ambition, who were now prepared.

COMMENCEMENT

Hundreds of black-robed figures filed into the quad in front of the Art Building. They took their places, and commencement ceremonies were underway. Candidates for the degrees were announced over the loud speaker system, Chancellor Raymond B. Allen gave his annual address to the graduates, and student speakers voiced the hopes of the younger generation. This ceremony was a symbol to the graduate: four years of college study were now completed. The graduate now turned to what lay ahead.

Chancellor RAYMOND B. ALLEN and Mrs. ALLEN greeted guests and the graduates at the reception held after graduation at the Chancellor's home.

to face the future years with complete confidence.

It was a warm day, a happy day. Four years were now over—the happiest and most important four years in the student's life. But now came the greater challenge: to put in practical use the knowledge he had gained: to take his place among the many students.

PCC CHAMPS

Since Head Cooch HENRY "RED" SANDERS has been at UCLA, the faithful followers of the Bruin varsity have seen not only a much improved ball club but a new rugged and spirited mode of play as well. The ex-Vanderbilt mentor has, beyond all shadow of a doubt, established himself as one of the nation's outstanding single-wing football coaches. "That's our coach, COACH RED SANDERS," cry the loyal students and team members. Faced with an unusually high national pre-season rating, the Sanders Machine came through with the expected goods in grand and high style. Sanders has used his excellent and extensive coaching ability and personality to gain a warm and permanent spot in the hearts of all the team members and loyal Westwood, as well as national supporters. To him we extend a hand of thanks for a coaching job well done in every aspect.

The team's fighting condition was the job of coaches GEORGE DICKERSON, TOMMY PROTHRO, JOHNNY JOHNSON, "RED" SANDERS, "DEKE" BRACKETT, BILL BARNES and JIM MEYERS.

FROM RATINGS TO ROSES

Always there when needed was the man with adhesive tape, ELVIN "DUCKY" DRAKE, who helped team stay in top physical shape.

CHUCK DOUD and RUDY FELDMAN captained the fiery Bruins, while JERRY MORGAN and DICK NIDEVER managed the hustling team.

PRIMO VALLANUEVA, playing tailback for the Bruins, garnered an amazing eight and a half yards per try as the visitors from up north went down in a 41-0 defeat. Primo's potent running and sharp passes coupled with a smooth running team helped win the first game of the season in route to roses.

George, I think we got ourselves a team!

UCLA's All-American PAUL CAMERON really sparkled in his debut under the newly inaugurated one platoon system. In this as in the following games CAMERON was the sparkplug of the Bruin attack; Paul tossed three touchdown passes and started his invaluable ground gaining average of over five yards per.

Scooting just outside the right end, SAM BROWN, the fleet-footed tailback in the Bruin Machine, faked out the defensive halfback and romped to Bruin pay dirt from the three yard line. Sam's unusual speed added the needed factor in the Bruins' initial tilt of the season with the Beavers.

OVER THE BEAVERS 41 - 0

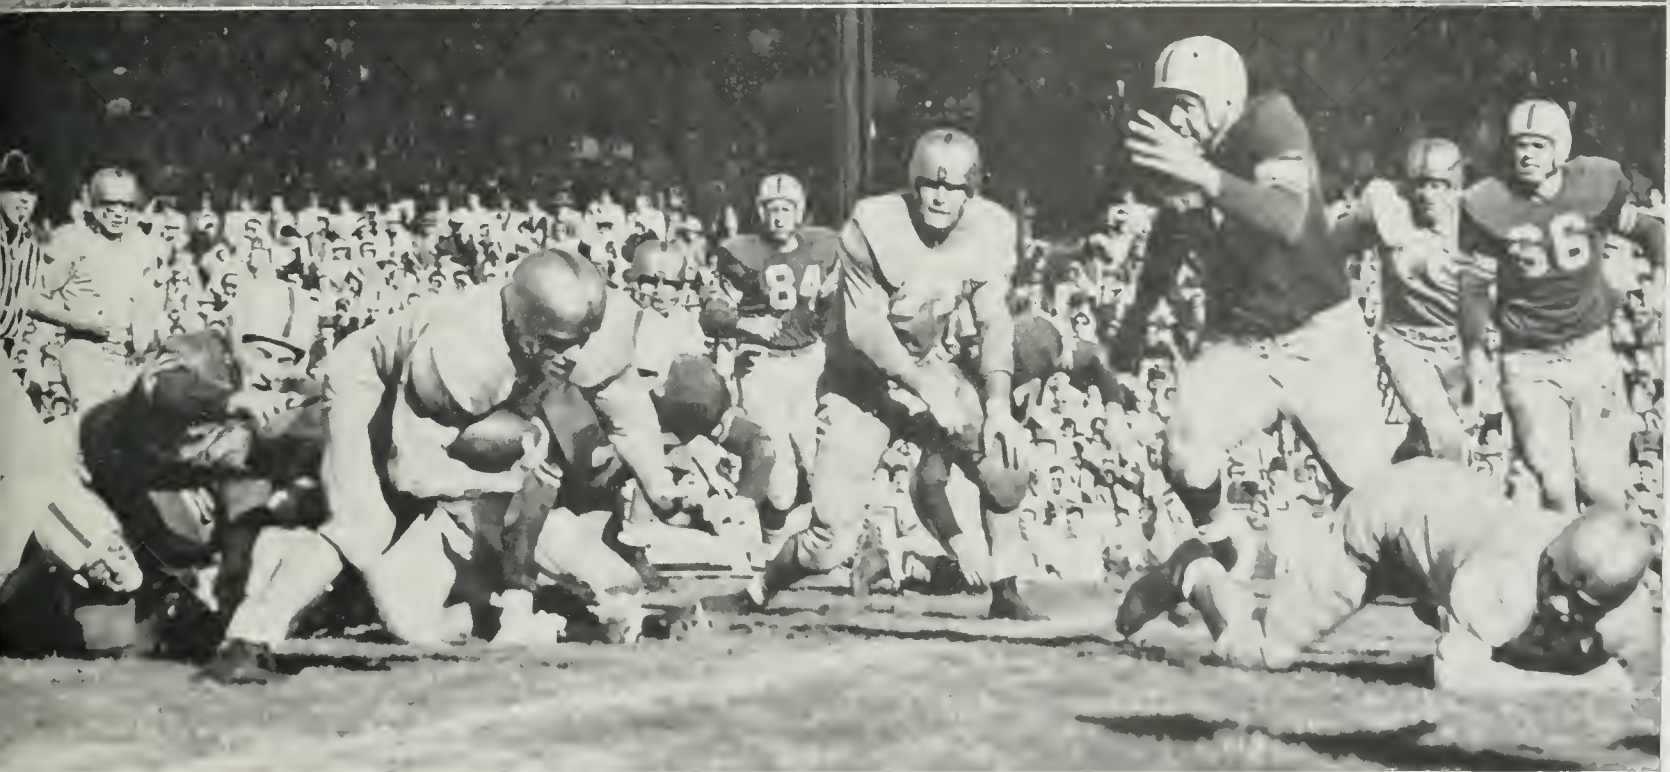

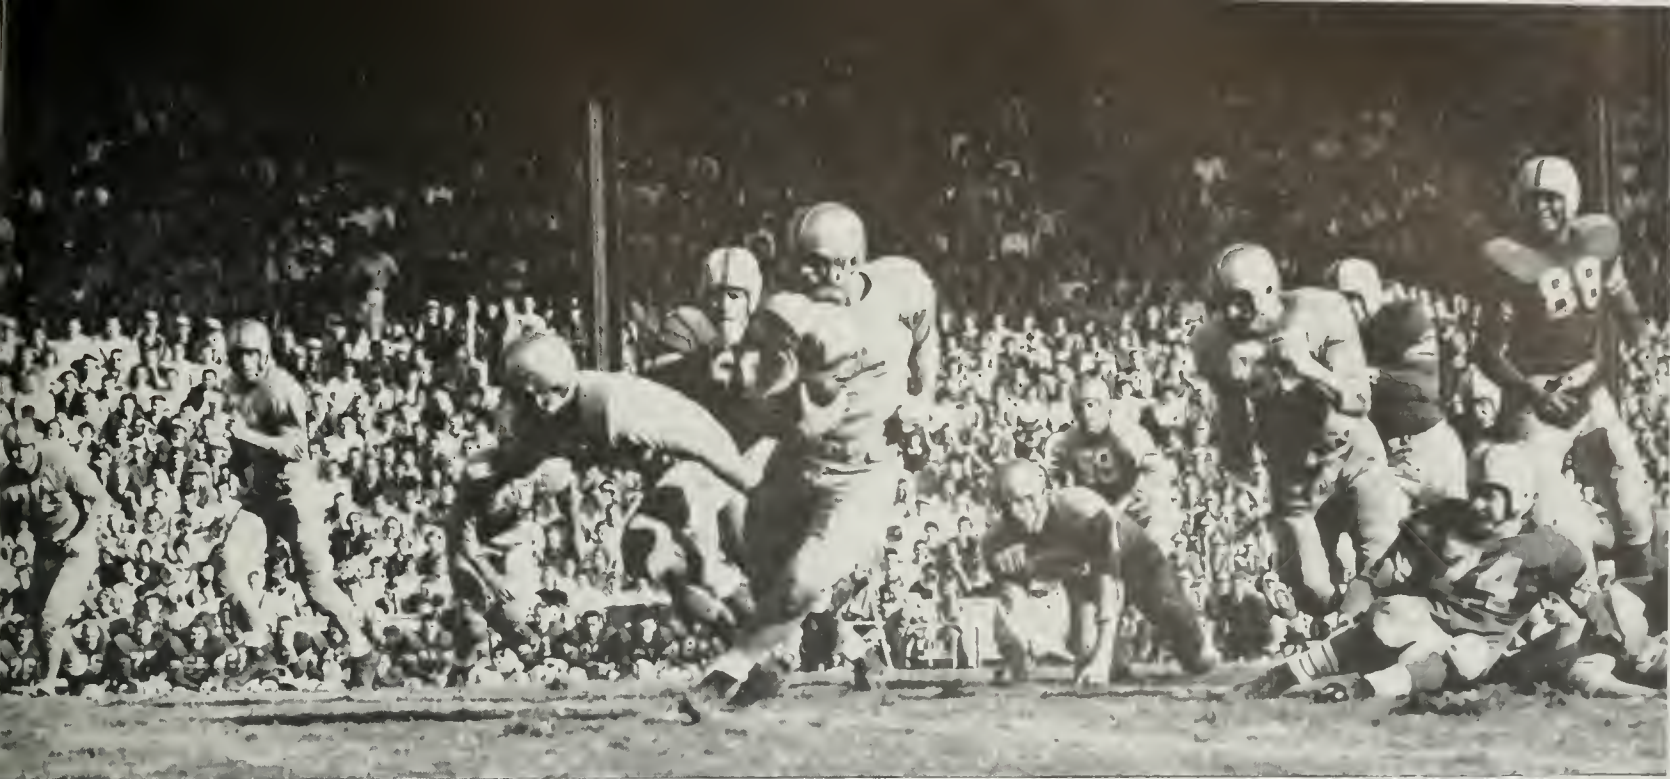

OVER KANSAS 19-7

Taking the split-T formation in their stride, the PCC champs out maneuvered a huge Kansas line and overcame some bad breaks for their second victory.

PAUL CAMERON'S impressive kicking was one of the main factors in forcing the Jayhawkers to bow after their unyielding beginning of the gridiron contest.

It wasn't until the fourth quarter that the Bruins finally got under way with a 90-yard drive to best a stubborn Oregon team on the lotter's field. SHAW, tailback of the Oregon machine, was doing a beautiful job of getting the pigskin to the receivers, but the Bruins soon subdued the air attack.

OVER THE DUCKS 12 - 0

Blacking back turned ball handler, DON FOSTER proved his abilities to the Badgers.

Operating from a right halfback slot, DON STALWICK gave Wisconsin a miserable time.

OVER WISCONSIN 13 - 0

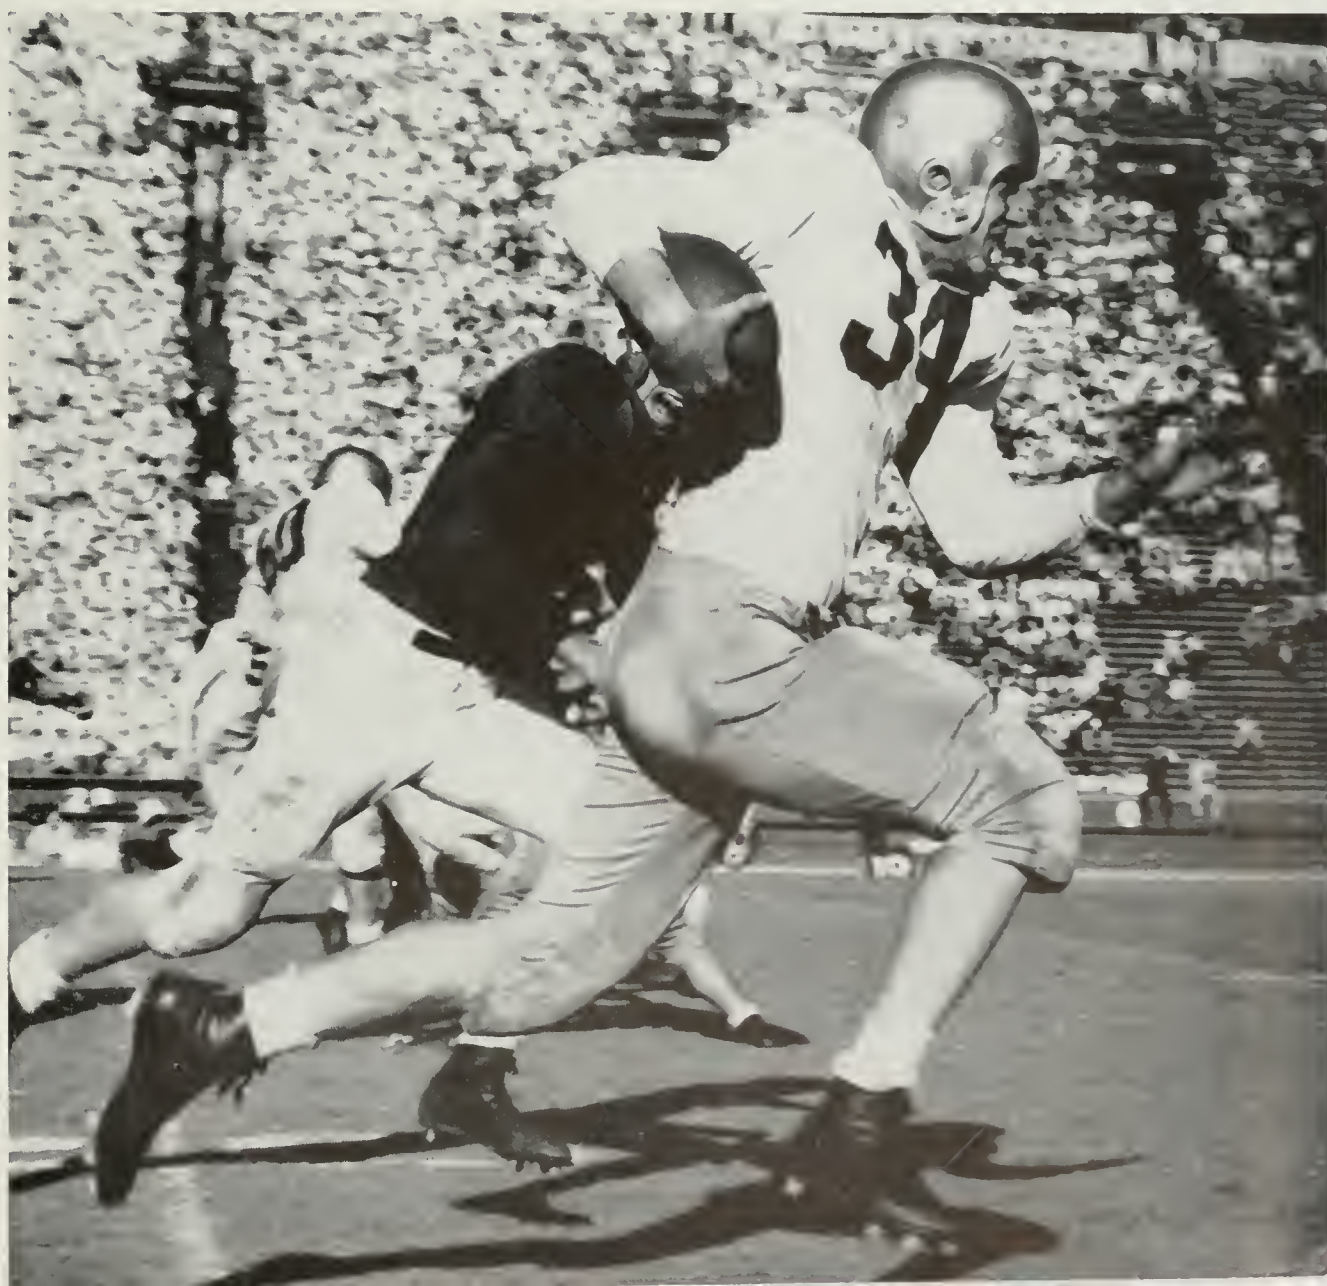

The Bruins rang the bell, besting the bewitched, bathed and bewildered Badgers.

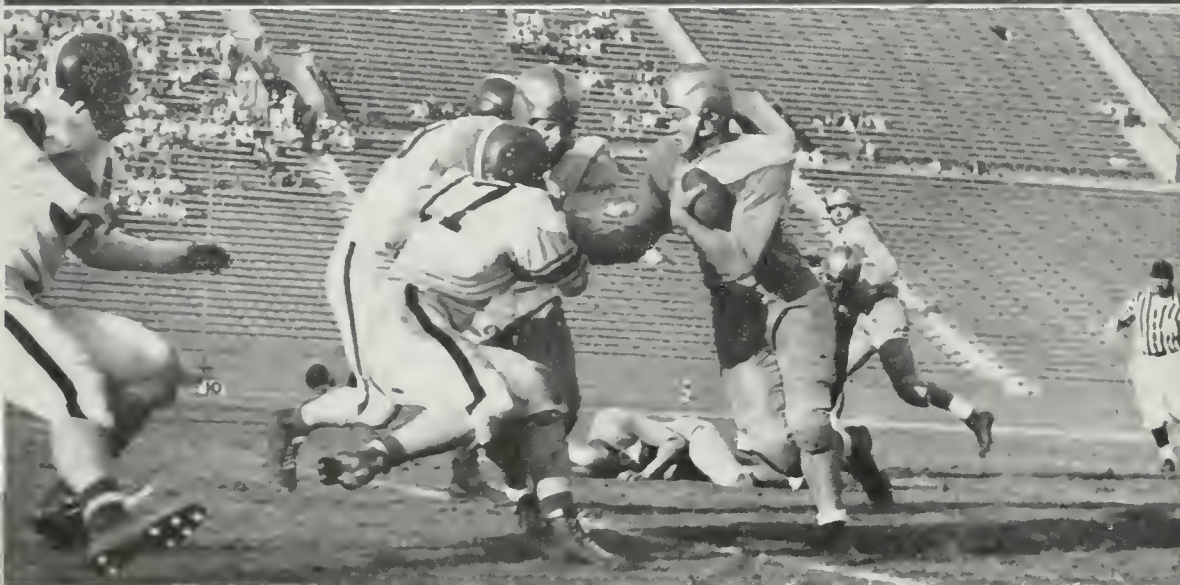

IT WAS CLOSE!

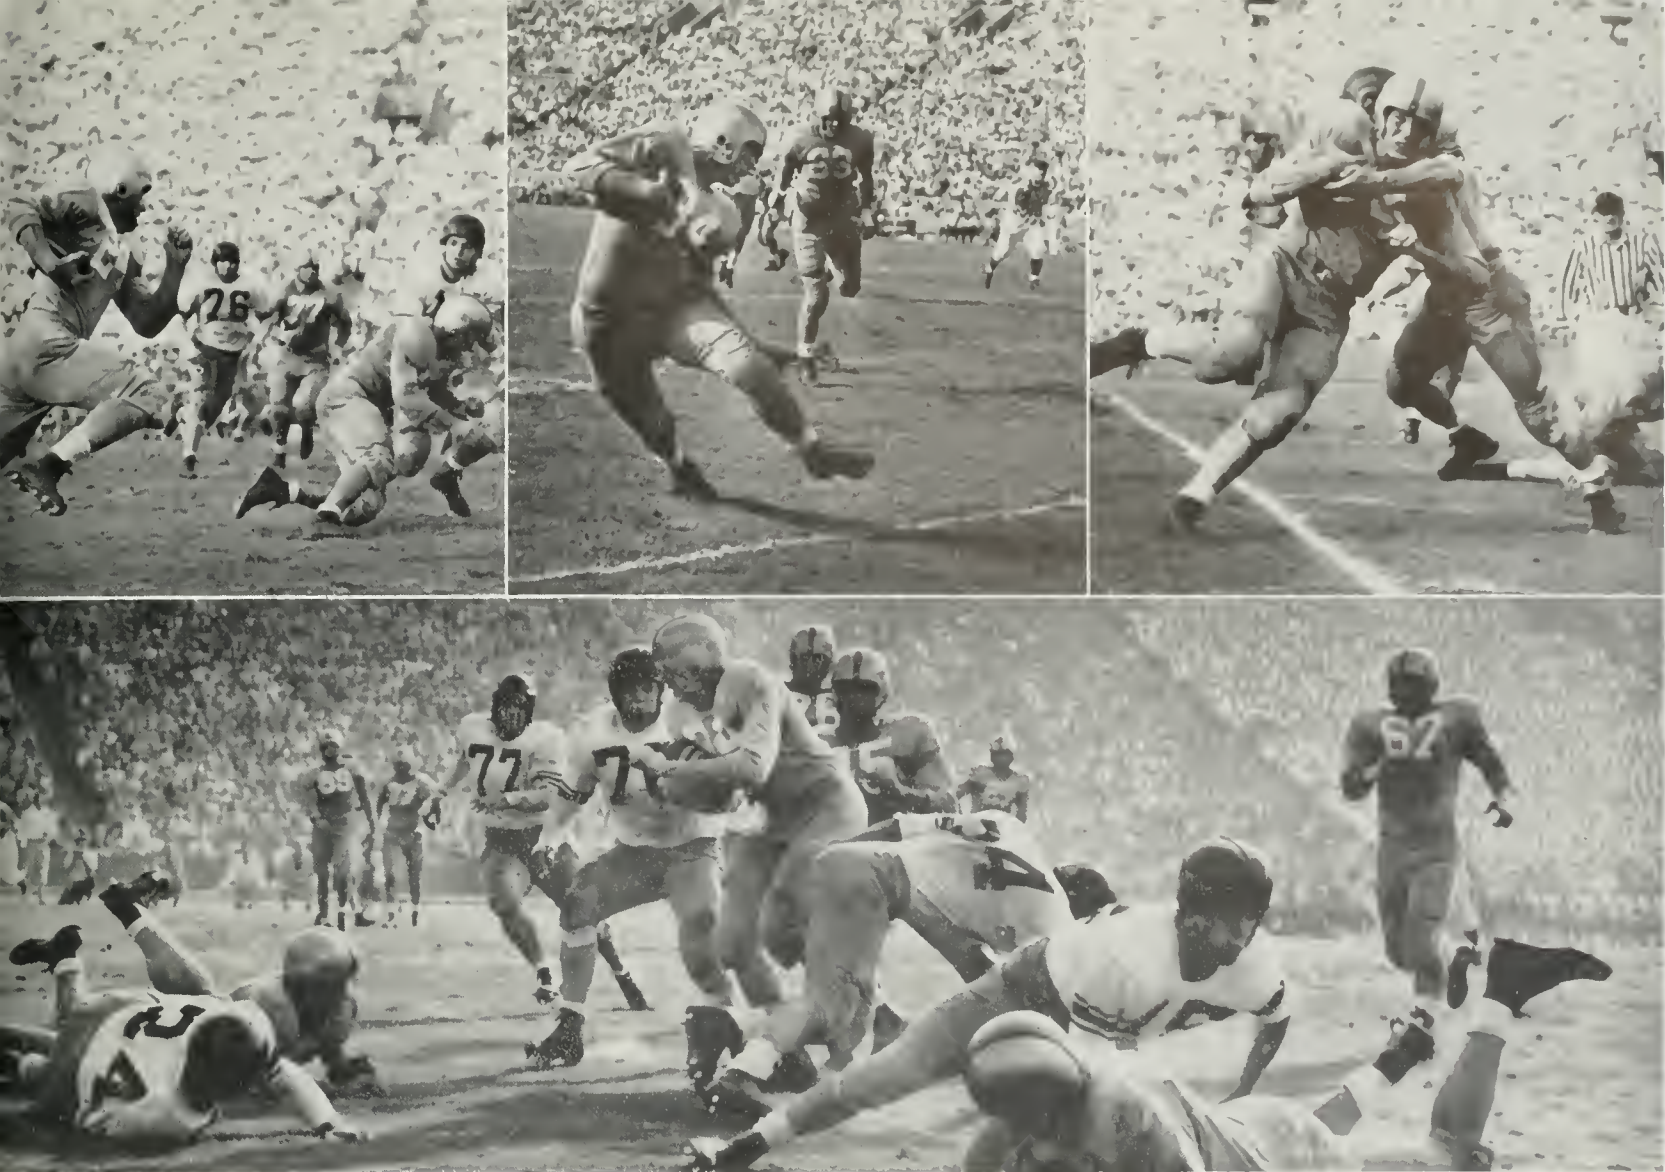

Tripping the visiting Bruins by a score of 21-20 was the precision-like passing and kicking of Stanford's BOB GARRET, coupled with the nimble fingers of the team of MORLEY and STEINBERG. The future looked bright for the Bruins, but they left their 4th quarter luck in the dressing room. GARRET was the only Indian to score the TDs for the afternoon.

OVER THE COUGARS 44-7

Incensed by their one and only setback of the season the week before at the hands of the Indians, the Bruins gave vent to their wrath by clawing the Cougars by a score of 44-7. Paul Cameron, enjoying one of the finest games of his gridiron career, romped up and down the field averaging more than 15 yards per play.

OVER THE BEARS 20 - 7

The decisively brilliant offensive and defensive play of the Bruin forward wall kept the Coliseum throng of over 70,000 constantly biting their fingernails as the Westwooders made it three in a row over ol' Cal. The Bears' PAUL LARSON didn't complete as many passes as had been predicted, but it is quite hard to pass the ball while swallowing it.

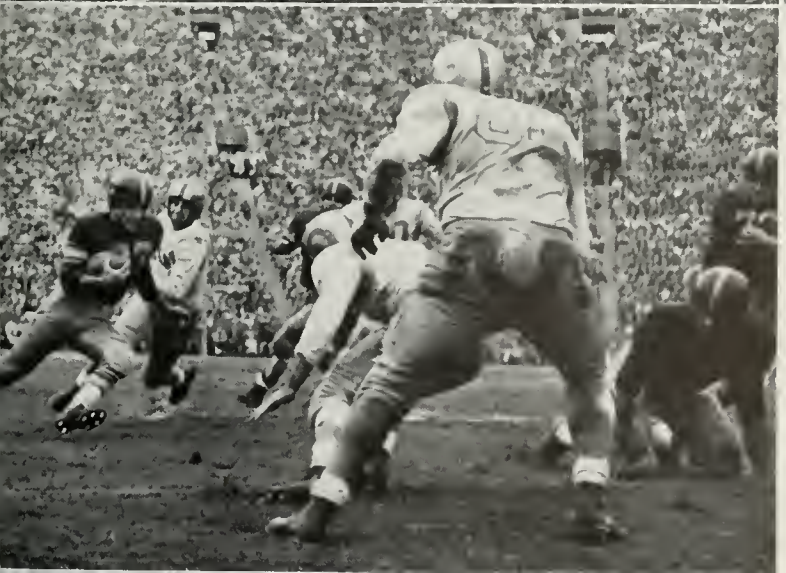

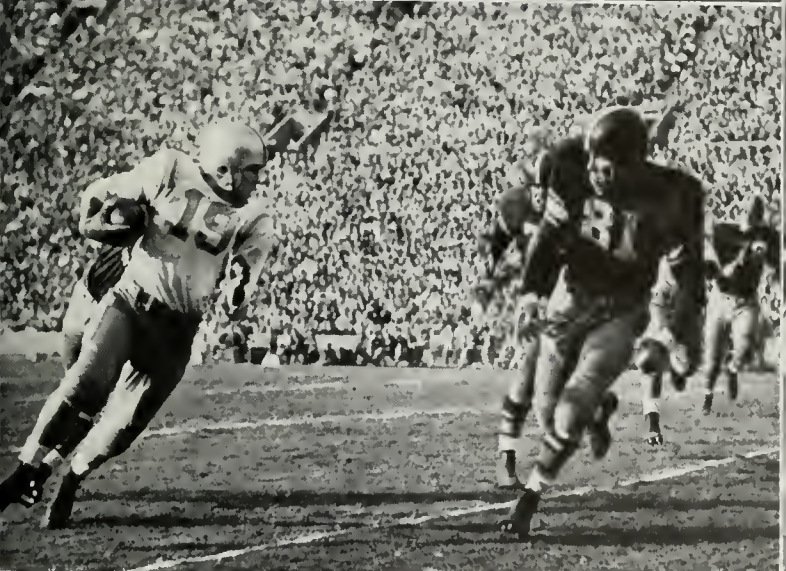

Splashing about on a field of mud, the Bruin defensive and offensive teams were still able to out-play the Washington Huskies. Sparked by such players as PAUL CAMERON and BILL SITTS, the Bruin playing left little doubt as to how the tide was going to turn. Despite the pouring rain and muddy turf, the game was a success and the final score of the Bruin-Huskie "water polo" game was 22-6.

UNDER THE RAIN 22 - 6

AND 13-0 OVER SC

In the season's traditional "biggie" with the USC Trojans, the Bruins ascended to the PCC throne by handing Jess Hill's team a workmanlike 13-0 setback. Meanwhile the news of Stanford's fate up north virtually clinched the long awaited bid to the Rose Bowl. The Uclans, displaying an impenetrable defense, completely outclassed the troupe from "Figuerroa Tech" in every department of play. Thus ended the Blue and Gold regular season with a final count of nine wins, one loss, and one Rose Bowl bid. Bring on those "terrific" Spartans . . .

Developing future Bruin hopefuls and molding them into a strong hard hitting unit was the task obly performed by Frosh Coach Johnny Johnson. His Brubabes hod a very short season but still made o gaod showing in the two games played.

Helping Head Coach Johnny Johnson put the Brubabes through their paces were former Bruins who served an the Sanders Machine. JOE SABOL, DONN MOOMAW and ERNIE STOCKERT were first to introduce the Brubabes to Sanders' hard hitting and fast moving single wing which the Bruins used to great advantage.

FROSH FOOTBALL

Right hand man to the Frosh football team, BILL WALKER also assisted the coaching staff in the problems of team management.

One Troybobe down and ten more to go! Despite their determination to defeat their oge-old enemy, the UCLA Brubabes were given a 13-7 defeat at the hands of the SC Frosh. The game was the traditional end-of-the-season "do or die" struggle between the cross-town rivals, and despite their defeat, the Brubabes really showed their mettle as a fine football team.

Rough and ready GERRY OKUNEFF found himself always on call as he blacked many enemy pigskinners from his quarterback position.

Another mainstay in the Bruin line was STEVE PALMER, who imigrated from Whittier and adds 200# & 6'1" to the Bruin defense wall.

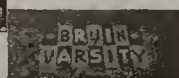

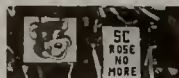

The center of the Bruin lineup was held together by 185 pounds of brawn and muscle that comes from L. A. and is named IRA PAULY.

Playing the center position in the Bruin eleven was the 194# jr. JOHN PETERSON, who returned to training & is shaping up very well.

ROSE BOWL

The Bruin's 1953-54 football season was one of suspense and excitement right down to the final game. At the end of the Washington game UCLA emerged victorious, and the way for the KCC championship was nearing the end. Stanford and UCLA were now tied for first place. Student feeling was high. Traffic was stopped on Wilshire Boulevard rallies would happen anywhere. The Trojans had to be beaten. Up north, Cal and Stanford had before a jam-packed coliseum. The Bruins put the teams to shame 13-0. Roses fired the air. The Bruins were KCC Champions. On January 1, before 101,000 fans, mighty Michigan State and the Bruins played the greatest Rose Bowl game in its history. At half time the strong but shrewd Bruins seemed to have the Spartans on the run, but when the final gun had sounded Michigan led 28-20. There were no ill feelings about the defeat. UCLA was given Michigan State a game they won't forget.

Senior BEEL - HARRIS one of the best corner backs to enter the game were invaluable to Coach Sanders' tactics in the line through.

Hard charging WARNER BENJAMIN broke through the front wall to nail runners for losses and will be tough in 1955 season.

Heavy hitting MYRON from MILWAUKEE showed the experts that he could catch passes as the rulemakers made a big change.

Steady SAM BOGHOSIAN played first string guard for the UCLA Rose Bowl team, won five and number in as many years.

GRETCHEN DIMMORCH JANET SEWARD REV. BALDWIN MERYLN WILLIAMS DOCHES DALTON

JAM JACOBS GEORGE DEBAUMONT EDDY WOLF BENI HEBENZAH

Tackle LARRY BRITTON made his mark in the one play after playing Kane and his rugged senior battered feet all year.

Faster than sound was fullback SAM BROWN who used unusual speed to advantage in adding pressure to mighty Bruin attack.

A unanimous All American seems hardly adequate in describing PAUL CARBON who carried the Bruin of Sanders' Bruin Par 3's.

Moving in from MILWAUKEE the 1954 6 foot senior WILL COLLINS who shared hands in fullback position on Bruin Eleven.

Another transfer from Valley J. C. hard to handle HARDIMAN CURE TORI gained national attention and is destined for AA honors.

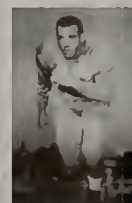

One of the main factors in UCLA's perfect fullback spinners plays the past three years was senior PEPE DAILEY who really sparked.

Next fall all eyes will be watching fullback BOB DAVENPORT change over opposing linemen in his quest for All American rating.

Being one of the first punters on the team was one safe try man from Jefferson High, 6 foot 175 pound MET DAVIS.

ERRIBLE TERRY LEWIS senior's next season will not in fourth letter will his collection and he gather some more honors as linebacker.

Another HASSEL senior DOOD received PC honors after winding up his final season that saw team go to the Rose Bowl.

are tightest in the right spot we find BOB DUTCHER who is a sophomore at 3 comes to us from Fresno Hipping at 1952.

Weather was ELLEN DALEY of all nodes ELLEN was just plain tough to manage in Udon they should receive national attention.

Perseverable senior captain DUDY FEIDMAN capitalized on his hustle spirit and drove us to earned his third letter for the Bruin wheel.

Not being the smallest Quarter back on the team but one of the fastest was DON FOSTER who hails from out in Burbank

Fast footed JOHNNY HERMANN the 185 lb. from San Francisco held down the right halfback spot on fast moving Sander right wing

BOBBY HYDERBERG who blunted his way into football stardom is the pass snagger who played as regular end on Sander

DAVE LEVY another two spot in the line (baseball) showed the heart to battle the opposing guards as underlined substitute

The mucky shopping Angeleno BOB LONG went both ways for the Blue and Gold and improved with each game. With LONG go

Playing the center position in the Bruin eleven was the 196 lb. JOHN PETERSON who returned to the Bruin line in 1955

ICE BAY product... to be a center an able replacement of the tackle post as he smashed foes for his varsity letter. Watch JOE in 1955

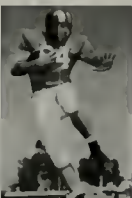

Playing fast wing as a guard for the Bruins isn't new for big JIM SALSBERY who showed the critics that he is an A. A. candidate

Hot off the track team as a sprinter JOE SASSI displayed the speed and slimmest to letter in his initial year as a wingman

2 year letterman DON STALWICKA once again captured 8 in his right halfback niche on the over powered dangerous Sander's reverse

Some people are just down right invulnerable to the coast. Such is the case with Angeleno BILL STITS One of the key lines to the team

Hailing from Coltrina High comes the hard hitting fast moving left halfback on the Sander machine 5'10" 160 lb. Pump VILLANUEVA

VOGEL WHITE'S recent rugby experience will no doubt prove while able in 1955 for an end or half back on the single wing eleven

GIL MORENO proved that a reserve tackle on a Sanders team can see a lot of well deserved action. MORENO played tackle.

CLARENCE NORRIS, although seeing only limited action, was one of the most glue-fingered flankers in the Uclans powerful attack.

Always around to furnish the team with the best of equipment were the managers AL SCHIFF, senior manager, RENE MILLER, JOHN ENGLE, and DUNCAN JOHNSON. Senior SCHIFF made all of the team's road trips.

Who will forget Don Bragg's amazing game against visiting Oregon when he sank ten for ten shots in making 24 points. Ron Livingston's fine job in holding highly touted Bob Matheny of California to three points. "Livie" became the highest scorer in UCLA history. Center Willie Naulls started the seven game win streak off with his 16 point first half of the second USC game. Hank Steinman provided a memorable thrill when he scored 10 points and sparked a second half rally that beat Duke. Denny Miller came through in the second half of a northern Stanford game when he tallied 13 valuable points. Ed White was the clutch shooter from the foul line with 27 of 30 for 90 per cent. Against Cal, John Moore sank 21 of his 23 points in the second half. Ron Bane showed spirit and team play in scoring 16 points against Cal. Mark Costello put in 14 points in the second half as the Bruins topped Pepperdine by over 100 points. Although injured, Morris Taft kept the team hustling against USC. That man with the one-handed touch, Dick Ridgeway, ended career after being highest scoring sophomore. Senior Mike Hibler can look back to his second year when he held All-American Bob Houbregs to few points to give Bruins the Conference title.

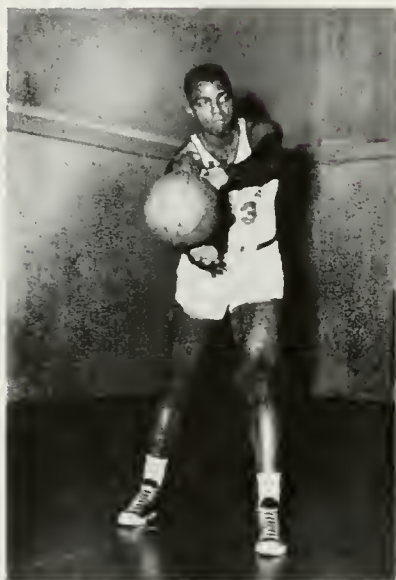

This is an example of the Bruins caught in a moment of concentration. Below, the home court fans showed the spirit which has come to be traditional in the annals of Bruin athletics. UCLA won 19, lost 7.

The Bruin's versatile leader, DON BRAGG, proved to be the team's inspiration as he harassed opponents in his third year.

Young WILLIE NAULLS, the Bruins pivot-man, in his first year, displayed the potential to strengthen Uclans of the future.

Senior DICK RIDGEWAY left the UCLA basketball scene with the honor of being one of the school's highest cage scorers.

Capt. LIVINGSTON leaves his Arizona opponent and slides through for a lay-in. The Bruins doubled the Wildcats' score, with a 90-45 victory, and won both games of series.

Coches WOODEN and SALE huddle with Bruins to plan attack against the enlongated Oregon team.

MIKE HIBLER gets a tip in the Oregon series. DICK RIDGEWAY and ED WHITE are reedy to help. UCLA dumped the Webfoots twice as DON BRAGG hit home to score 24.

NONCONFERENCE WINS

HENRY STEINMAN, a graduating senior, offered hustle and "talk" to spirit the Wooden-coached team.

Ploying his third year, MARK COSTELLO, known far his shooting eye, should bother faes in 1955.

MORRIS TAFT, "Mr. Speed," in his first season for the Bruins, aided the cause on the score board.

Jr. RON BANE earned the most improved player" award through his hord work and shooting skill.

TROJANS CAUSE TROUBLE

In their second pair of tilts with the cross-town Southern California Trojans, the Bruins needed only one win to cinch the Southern Division crown. Here all hopes were doused as Roy Irwin and troupe edged the Westwooders for a twin killing. In the first game Naulls sank nineteen points, but SC's Irwin put in twenty-nine toward his cause. The second contest saw the Trojans winning 69-67 as Livingston had fourteen points, Bragg and Moore thirteen.

TRACK

Bob Hunt, the diminutive Uclan distance ace, was easily the most improved UCLA track competitor during the 1954 season. Bob became the third fastest two-miler in the nation when he blazed to an amazing 9:18. Hurdler Dave Rosselini placed first in the low hurdles in the PCC Championships at the end of the season. Sophomore Bobby Carne hit his all-time best in the 880 when he ran 1:55. Little Lindy Kell and Jon Mitchell looked like future Westwood stars as they both pole vaulted 13 feet 6 inches. Hurdler Jim Ball lowered his time in the highs to 14.6 in his first season for the Blue and Gold varsity. Always a consistent and spirited competitor was sprinter John Smith.

The Bruin captain: distance runner LARRY CARTER.

Assistant coach: former cinderman CRAIG DIXON.

Another year drew to a close with DUCKY DRAKE as coach bringing the boys into a flying finish. This year several records were broken, and the cindermen were whipped into a speedy and fine looking team. Here's to Ducky and many more good years as Bruin cinder coach.

FRESHMAN TRACK

The Bruin freshman had a banner year on the oval with Don Vick, Bob Seaman, and the relay teams doing most of the damage. Shotputter Vick set a new national frosh record with a heave of 54 feet. Seaman topped a terrific season with a 1:49.9 effort for a second behind world record holder Mal Whitfield in the half-mile at the Compton Relays. This proved to be another national frosh record itself. The great freshman relay teams, composed mainly of Rager Caldwell, Bob Thompson, George Saunders, Russ Ellis, and Seaman, churned to national standards in both the mile and two-mile relays. Pete Nelson was consistently strong in his pet event, the pole vault. Pat Pinkston proved to be quite a strong man when he competed in the high jump, broad jump, discus, javelin, and hurdles. Watch these boys as Sophomores.

Breaking even more records than the Varsity trackmen, the freshman trackmen had a very good year. Under the guiding eye and helpful hand of Craig Dixon, the freshman made a name for themselves. Outstanding was the two mile relay, which was broken in a winning time of 7 min. 40.4 sec., breaking the National Freshman record. Also Bobby Seaman came through in fine style to cop both the 880 and one mile run in 1 minute and 52.9 sec. and 4 minutes 14.9 sec. respectively. Another man who was outstanding on the field was Don Vick who also broke two records in the discus and shot. All of these boys are very good prospects for the future Bruin Varsity. A salute to the cindermen.

CROSS-COUNTRY

LARRY CARTER and PAT DELGADO take the lead in a crosscountry meet on the Bruin course; BOB HUNT, BOBBY SEAMAN make it tough on the invading cindermen.

PAT DELGADO leads the parade of country tratters against LA State with junior BOB HUNT and frosh smasher star BOB SEAMAN trailing.

SEAMAN, DELGADO, and GEORGE SAUNDERS, track's younger set, toe their marks.

Pacing their way to victory for the Blue and Gold were such track stars as LARRY CARTER, BOB HUNT, PAT DELGADO, freshman BOB SEAMAN, and GEORGE SAUNDERS. These talented thin-clads seemed to be the margin that won them an upset victory over the Southern California Trojans. This win proved to be the season's big success.

BASEBALL

Aways in there pitching for the boys was the head coach of the UCLA Bruin horsehiders, ART REICHLE. Under his leadership the team made a fine shawing.

Always an hand was the assistant baseball coach DOUG SALE. Without his outstanding help the team would not have made such on excellent showing.

Everywhere the baseball team was, so was the ever faithful team manager DON GOTTESMAN.

The Bruin nine was struck by lack of players this semester having only five returning lettermen to form the team around. But considering all of the deficiencies the team made a good showing and placed Al Bates on CIBA first string. The Bruin pitching staff was stronger than it had been in past years with Morty Stiles pitching $62\frac{1}{2}$ innings and O'Donnell being high man with a pitching average of .600. Even with all the help of the coach, Art Reichle, and various other members of the club, the Bruins were the low men on the score sheet with a score of 6 games won and 10 games lost, giving them an over-all average for the season of .375. Here's to a great Bruin varsity nine and their coach, Art Reichle, who is behind the team all the time, 100 per cent.

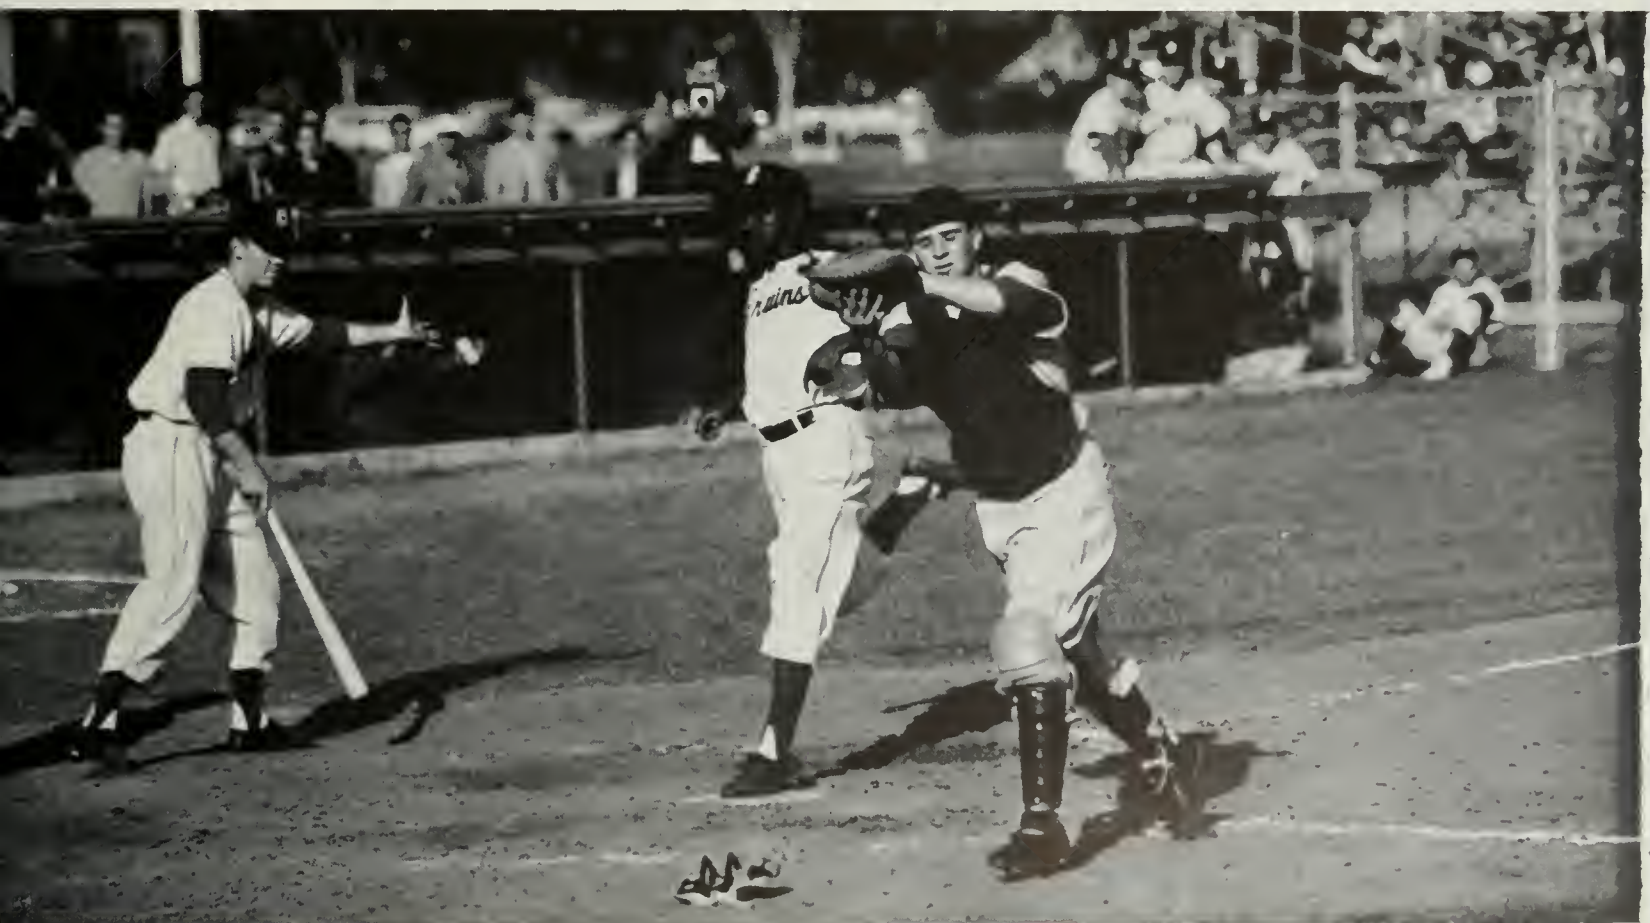

First sacker and also team captain was AL BATES. He was the main stem in pushing the team to a near victory for UCLA.

TENNIS

Coach J. D. Morgan directed this year's tennis team to its most successful season in Bruin history. Led by Co-captains Bob Perry and Ron Livingston the netters had their first undefeated year in the history of UCLA. Perry, much improved after his Davis Cup journey to Australia, defeated former Bruin star Herb Flam of the Southern California All Stars, and teamed with Livingston to win the National Intercollegiate and California Intercollegiate doubles championships. Bob also won the California Intercollegiate singles title and was runner-up in the Nationals. Ron starting practice late in the season due to basketball still found time to be runner-up to Bob at Ojai, uphold his record of no singles losses in conference competition, and become the third ranking college player in the nation. Dick Doss and Jim Reed both veterans and next year's co-captains held down the third and fourth spots. Canadian Davis Cupper Don Fontana played at number five followed by Joe Blatchford.

Co-captain RON LIVINGSTON is one of the few players to ever play two handed on both sides and is also the best. RON in his three years of varsity play was undefeated in conference matches.

U. S. Davis Cupper and Co-captain BOB PERRY had a big year as top man. BOB's ground strokes carried him to the top of intercollegiate and international tennis play.

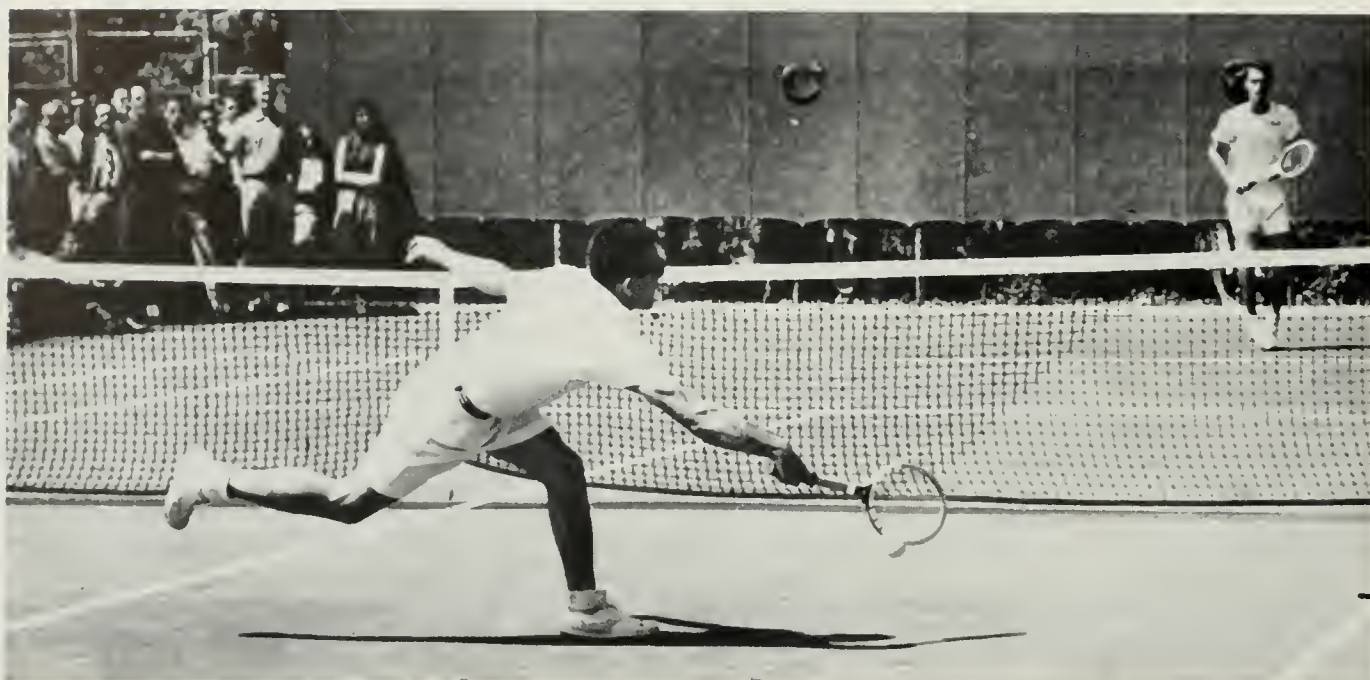

Coach J. D. MORGAN again had the nation's strongest tennis squad and this year his training and strategy brought to his team its most successful season in his four years as Westwood's head coach.

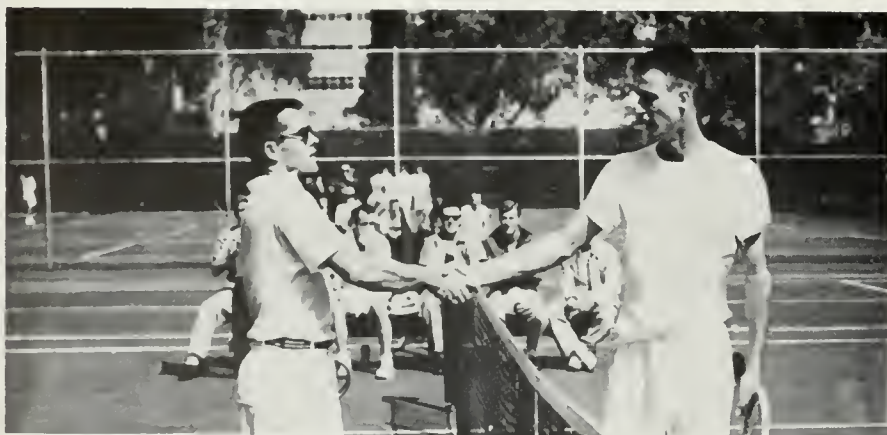

Playing manager, DON BRAG, added tennis to his growing list of athletic accomplishments.

Ambidextraus RON LIVINGSTON hitting a high forehand volley as he moves into the net in anticipation of an easy kill.

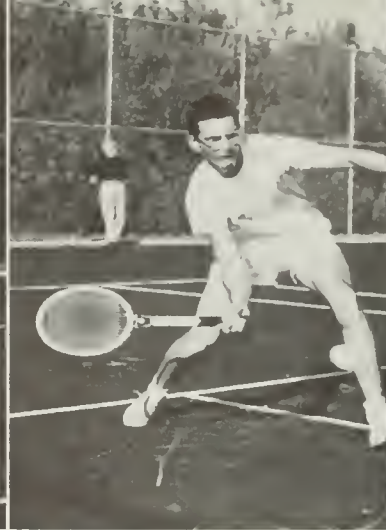

Bruin BOB PERRY shaking hands with Trojan JACQUE GRIGRY after defeating him in the featured singles match against Southern California.

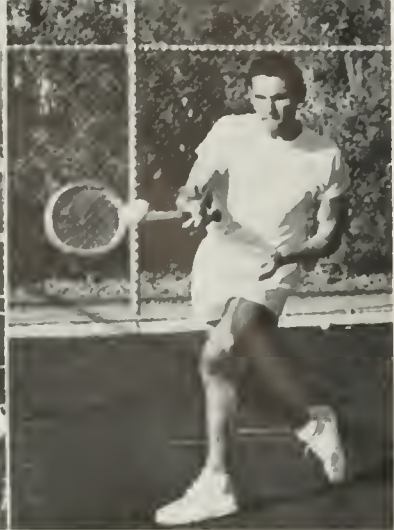

Up from the Freshman team came red-headed CRAIG GARMAN to take many doubles matches.

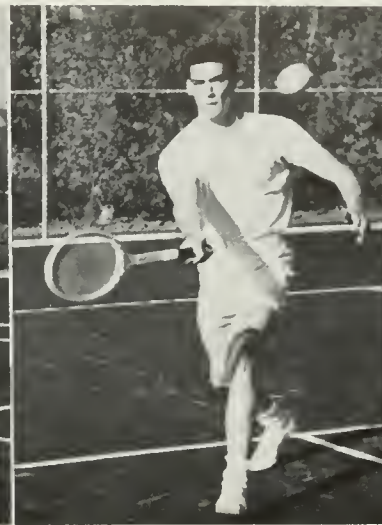

From Modesto came RALPH FREUND with an eager spirit that quickly spread around the team.

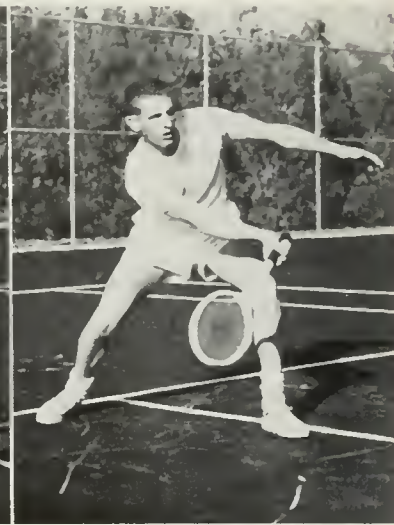

Another Modesto transfer is STAN CANTOR, who could run down even the fastest or hardest hit shot.

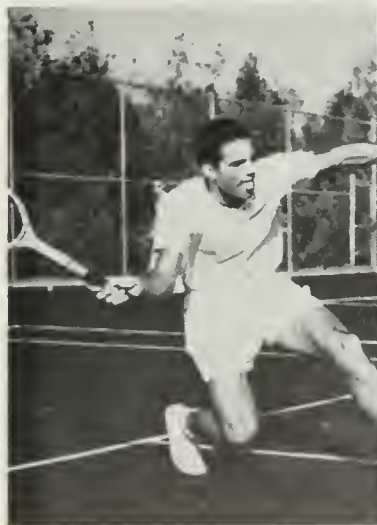

Fast reacting STAFFORD CARSON had the experience and ability to add more strength to Bruins.

DOUG MARKEL, a three-year letterman and a senior, played his best tennis during 1954 season.

A doubles player was Fritz EARLE, who added much to the Bruin's depth and strength.

DON FONTANA, the casual Canadian, playing his final year, went undefeated in singles competition.

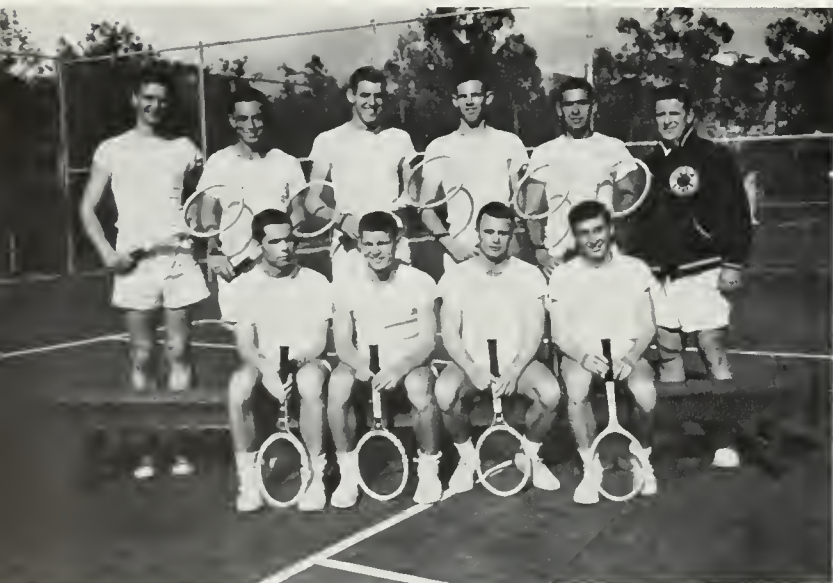

Next year's co-captain and a much improved DICK DOSS played his best tennis for UCLA this spring.

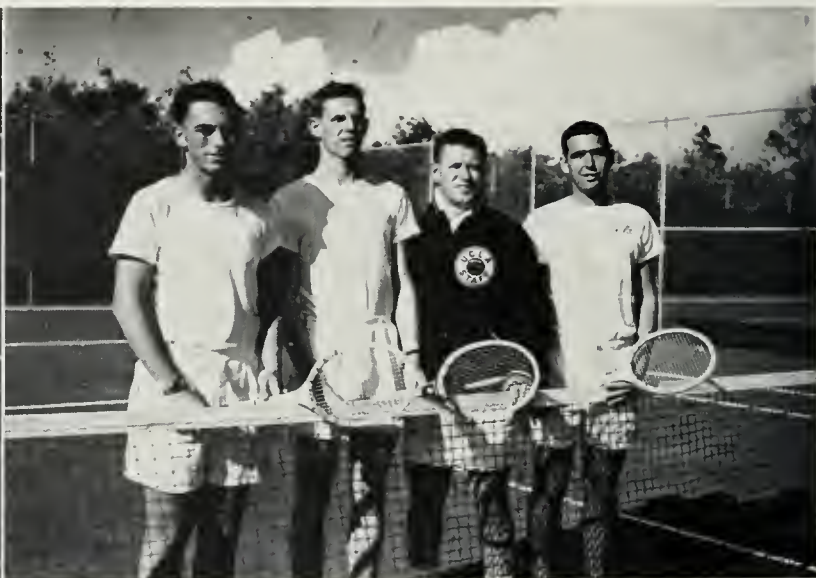

Last year's Fresh Captain JOE BLATCHFORD was at his best in both singles and doubles matches.

FRESHMAN TENNIS

The 1954 Bruin Freshman Tennis team, coached by J. D. Morgan, again completed its season with no losses. The team was led by Captain Brooke Grant, Dwight Makeoff, and Bill Coats. Harry Ohls, Phil Parker, Walt Evans, and Al Fleming made up the rest of the team. The Frosh trained on High Schools and Junior Colleges in preparation for their two important matches with their cross town rivals, the Trojan Freshmen. Defeating Beverly Hills High and Pasadena City College both 8 to 1 were the highlights of this early season practice. The S. C. matches brought all the players to the peak of their play and the Bru-babes twice crushed the Trobables 9 to 0 thus ending up a perfect season.

UCLA's nationally ranked gym team was captained by Indian rope master, DON PERRY, coached by RALPH BORRILLI and managed by JIM FLANNERY.

RUGBY

The Bruin Ruggers, although failing to come up with a winning season, established themselves as a West Coast threat when they defeated a highly-touted British Columbia squad twice. Sparked by first year men BOB BERGDAHL, DON SCHINNICK, and RODGER WHITE, the Bruins, when underdogs, were hard to beat. Coach NORM PADGETT's charges received losses from both Stanford and California rugby aggregations. The front line was bolstered by footballers CHARLIE DOUD, RUDY FELDMAN, SAM BOGHOSIAN, STEVE PALMER, JIM BROWN, and HARDIMAN CURETON. The sport of rugby, the English version of football, not only provides a good opportunity for rugged outdoor competition in itself but it serves as a conditioner when football season rolls around.

SOCCER

Above is a typical scene on the Westwood soccer field as goalie DAVE ANDERSON breaks up the play on the goal line in a rough and tumble Bruin intra-squad scrimmage game.

WRESTLING

The brain and the brawn were Coach BRIGGS HUNT and the boy who led his wrestling partners to a victorious season, RODGER ANDERSON.

Grunting and graining their way to a very successful season was the Westwood Wrestling Club, headed by middle weight, RODGER ANDERSON. Coach BRIGGS HUNT put the boys in top physical condition for the strenuous grappling campaign.

Footballer JACK ELLENA, MARK STIEGER, and JIM McGINNIS highlighted the 1954 UCLA wrestling season. ELLENA was the heavyweight champion of the PCC as was MARK in the 177 pound class. McGINNIS went undefeated throughout the whole season and placed second in the coast championships in the 191 pound class. Undefeated as a team the Bruin team came out third best on Pacific Coast.

With muscles straining and heart pounding, big JACK ELENA gets into position to pin his man in hard fought clash between UCLA and Cal Poly.

The Bruin Rifle Team, paced by DICK TATUS and BOB PETERSON, finished in third place in the National Intercollegiate Rifle Match held in Berkeley with a possible 1421 points out of 1500. TATUS was named on the All-American first team and PETERSON on the second team, officially by the N.R.A.

RIFLE

In one of the hardest positions, the UCLA Rifle Team begins to fire a round in the rifle range in the basement of the Men's Gym. UCLA ranked third in the nation in intercollegiate Rifle team matches.

SAILING

At Snow Valley the UCLA skiers took third place behind Nevada and California, in a meet sponsored by UCLA and the Bruin Sky Club. AL DRURY, Bruin veteran, led the team in downhill, in jumping and crosscountry racing. Uclans were bolstered by the efforts of ROGER RYAN, JOHN HALL, and FRANK MORAN. Led by FRITZ EARL's slalom and crosscountry skiing, the Westwooders placed sixth in a ski meet at Yosemite. DRURY and MORAN contributed points toward team result.

ALPHA CHI DELTA

College and university women devoting themselves to business education, economics, or business administration are eligible for membership in Alpha Chi Delta, professional sorority. However, no woman may be pledged unless her grade point average for all work undertaken at the University is above that set by UCLA. The objectives of the organization are to promote higher business education and training for all women, to promote among the members a mutual friendship and consideration of business possibilities and experience, to partake in activities pertaining to a professional and commercial nature, and to endeavor to improve the code of business ethics. Headed by Bernadine Johnson, also an active member of Phrateres and the Business Education Club, the sorority enjoyed many activities this year, which included informal talks by businessmen on personnel management, legal secretaries, and business teaching. They also held dinner meetings, a few slumber-bowling parties, besides attending their usual business meetings.

"There's nothing like the out-of-doors to increase one's appetite," said Alpha Chi Sigmos as they served themselves some mon-sized helpings from the laden picnic table.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

"To bind its members with a tie of true and lasting friendship, to strive for the advancement of chemistry both as a science and as a profession, and to aid its members by every honorable means in the attainment of their ambitions throughout their mortal lives" is the object of Alpha Chi Sigma, the chemistry professional fraternity. To be eligible to enter this society a candidate must be majoring in chemistry, must be at least a sophomore, and must have no conditions on any of his other college work. The activities of the fraternity, arranged for by the able social chairmen and approved by presidents Jim Brownlee and Ronald Bauer, consisted of about three "smokers" a semester, practically a tradition of the society, and an annual picnic for those of the chemistry department. Sometime after initiation the group holds its customary affair for new pledges. Among their other projects the members of the fraternity sponsor an annual freshman prize examination in chemistry.

ALPHA MU GAMMA

Alpha Mu Gamma, national language honorary on campus, featured among its round of activities a candlelight initiation ceremony and a Christmas party. Besides many social events, Nu Chapter held its "Round Table Discussion", highlighting campus doings. Requirements for membership are a 2.5 average in the lower division language courses and a high over-all average in all courses taken in the University. The wide variety of languages represented in the membership include French, Spanish, German, Italian, Latin, and Russian. Dr. Reinsch, National President, explains that Alpha Mu Gamma was established "not only to reward outstanding language students, but also to encourage them to continue their endeavors in some field of language study," Nu Chapter's goal.

Helping to keep things running smoothly are JOAN CONNOLLY, MARILYN COLEMAN, NANCY ISHIZAKI, and BOB SHAW.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Association is designed for any student, alum, or member of the faculty who is interested in the field. A speech by Dean Jackey, College of Applied Arts, on his trip to Iran and the educational problems in that area launched the fall semester meetings. The next, opened by Morton Miller, brought a panel discussion on "Why Teaching, Why Business?" moderated by Mr. Ralph Masteller of the L.A. Business Education Department. After some Christmas fun with Mrs. Lucille Irvine of the faculty, as Santa, luncheon at the Rancho Country Club had members up to date with Human Relations in Business.

MASONIC AFFILIATE CLUB

Gathered round the Christmas tree the MAC's found that the right way to keep in the Yuletide spirit is to bring out all the old songs of the season. Accompanying the group was TOMMY EDWARDS with his guitar, quite a part of social doings.

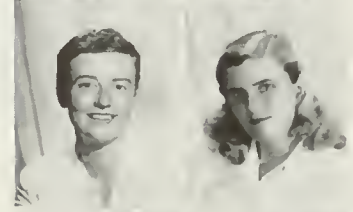

Activities at the Masonic Club this year included a great Christmas Party, which turned out to be a song-fest as the talented Tommy Edwards brought along his guitar to accompany the carollers. After this highlighted event, the Masonic Affiliates enjoyed many get-togethers at informal parties, picnics, and dances. The actives of the club honored the new initiates at a formal initiation banquet at the end of each semester. In the traditional candlelight ceremony, following the banquet, the University students having Masonic affiliation were extended an invitation to partake of the wonderful experiences found in social and recreational activities taking place at the MAC Club.

Taking an active part in events on campus, the Men's Glee rehearsed for another of its charal presentations.

MEN'S GLEE

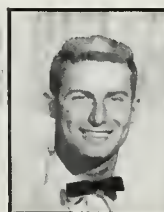

"Success" and the UCLA Men's Glee Club become synonymous in 1954. It all began with the introduction of the organization's new director, Mr. Maurice Cerow, who worked diligently and did so much to turn out one of the best men's singing clubs that UCLA has seen in a long time. This group was composed of forty members from all sections of the campus, including engineering, business administration, the sciences and the arts. Their various programs comprised performing for the Rotary Convention held at the Ambassador Hotel, the Christmas Concert, the Friday Spirit Rallies, and of course their participation in our Spring Sing. The activities of the organization last semester also found the singers traveling to Santa Barbara, where the group attended the Spring Festival of Music. Officers, President Barry Finkelstein, Vice President Armin Hoffman, Secretary Lester Berke, and Librarian Howard Smith, have acclaimed this year as "one of the greatest" for the Glee Club.

WOMEN'S GLEE

Required to audition for membership, the individuals of the UCLA Women's Glee Club serve the student body through the medium of fine group singing. The fall program included participating in the half-time activities at the UCLA-SC game, giving a noon concert in Royce Hall, and taking part in the evening concert of Christmas music on December 15. After this concert, the Women's Glee Club, together with the Men's Glee, were hosts at a party given for members of the UCLA A Capella Choir, the Madrigal Singers, and the Orchestra. The group also played a major role in the All-U carol-singing at Christmas time. Attending the festival of the Southern California Glee Club at Pomona became one of the highlights of the Spring term. After this, the group had a follow-up with their participation in the UCLA Spring Festival. The women's singing group got together with the men's division for their annual banquet, and this function brought their year to a close.

Women's Glee President, PHYLISS HOISINGTON talks over a selection with the group director, OWEN BRADY. PHYLISS, a student from the Federation of Malaya, majoring in music at UCLA, is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Officers of Phi Chi Theta were MICKEY O'DAY, CAROL KORNBUM, JOYCE MARSH.

Being interested in careers in business and in the teaching of business, Phi Chi Theta based its activities around this ambition. To promote the cause of higher business education and training for all women and to foster high ideals and encourage fraternity and cooperation among women who are preparing for work in the field is the main purpose of the organization. Prerequisites of this national honorary are to be at least a freshman in advanced standing with a 1.0 average and to be a business major with a minimum of one course taken in business administration. A student-faculty picnic in May, a Founders' Day banquet at Ciro's, and exchange meetings with other groups comprised some of the activities.

PHI MU ALPHA

Claiming the distinction of being the largest professional honorary in the world, Phi Mu Alpha was founded for the purpose of advancing the cause of music in America. The Sinfonia Fraternity on this campus presents a concert of American music once annually, this year presenting, as a part of the program, Lucas Foss conducting one of his pieces. Twice a week record concerts were presented in the music library. Among other campus activities Phi Mu Alpha sponsored the Music Department open house, tutored music students, and ushered for musical programs. The public became aware of the importance of the organization through a coast to coast documentary film shown on television. President James Pringle, the assistant director of the University Chorus, was usually found working diligently in the chapter room in the music department.

Musical activities of every nature were included in the year's program for Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary. First on the calendar were formal and informal rushings for new members, followed by auditions for membership. Musicals in which members participated, a public concert for the Palisades Women's Club, the initiation of Dorothy Warenskjold of the Metropolitan Opera at the Pig 'n Whistle as honorary member, and the patronesses' tea kept busy these ambitious music majors. An impressive vesper service at the Church of the Latter Day Saints, the initiation dinner and installation held at Santa Ynez Inn, and the farewell service and breakfast, as well as the retreat for old and new officers rounded out a musical year of fun.

SKI CLUB

"Skiing is absolutely the greatest sport," according to President John Hall and the other enthusiastic members of the Bruin Ski Club. Migrating en masse to Mammoth during the Thanksgiving holidays, the skiers inaugurated the 1953-54 season. Members of the club enjoyed two and a half months of skiing at Snow White Lodge located in the Big Bear area. For those "snow bunnies," or beginners, who can't quite manage the steeper runs, the Bruin Ski Club holds lessons on the slopes. A few weeks before the Christmas holidays Warren Miller's sensational movie "Ski Fantasy" was presented in Royce Hall. The turn of the semester brought the second annual "Snow Dance". One of the year's more thrilling ski functions was the trip north during our Spring vacation. The social opportunities of the organization, arranged for by Jim Howell and Betty Anderson, lodge and social vice presidents, included house and lodge parties, and those with ski atmosphere at Bebo's and Turner Inn. At least once a month instruction was given through films and lectures, and expert advice on what to buy in the line of equipment was offered at meetings.

One of the most trying experiences in the lives of all skiers is the time sacrificed in waiting for the ski tow. There is one consolation; one is never alone. An anxious crowd waited at the base of the Mammoth rope tow.

URA was organized for the purpose of providing recreational activities for the UCLA students. The club Executive Board was composed of the president, vice-president, secretary, business manager, public relations chairman, activity council chairman, council secretary and representative, and faculty advisor. The Activity Council is composed of the chairman, the secretary, presidents and representatives of all clubs, all executive officers, Mardi Gras chairman, and faculty advisor. A few of the All-University events sponsored by URA were the recreational dances given once a month for the members of the association. Activities offered on these nights were dancing to the music of some name bands, swimming, and playing ping-pong, volleyball, and badminton.

While MORTON FRISCH concentrates on a game of chess, JOHN HALL, Ski Club president, explains some technicalities to an interested skier.

JILL MURRAY, Hiking Club, has that top-of-the-world feeling.

DICK HILLYER and ANN PIERCE found that skiing was the most fun of all URA sports, while CURT OWEN and GILL CANTWELL staunchly supported the hikers. NATE GILBERT, RALPH KAHL, MEL KRAUSE, PAUL COOLEY, JOAN LEWIS, JILL MURRAY, MILDRED DEYO, MONTY GRIFFIN, DICK APEL, and HARVEY FIRESTONE decided soaring to great heights was not only for the birds. They climbed Shasta and Whitney, besides rock-climbing. In spring vacation a boat trip was taken down the Colorado in rafts.

HONOR AND SERVICE

CHIPPERFIELD

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Under President Gaylord Kogle and Vice President Truman Meyers, Alpha Kappa Psi strove to further the individual welfare of the organization's members, and also worked to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance. It is Alpha Kappa Psi's intention that the members of the group become better acquainted with the theories that are contained in their academic pursuits through a practical manner. They also believe that there should be a closer union between the faculty and student members, and they worked to bring about this needed relationship.

Finishing preparations for the next meeting were GAYLORD KOGLE, the president, and MAYER CHAPMAN, TRUMAN MEYERS, NOLAND WEST, and RICHARD WEST.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, proves that scholastic societies can be fun. Membership requires a 2.5 average for the first half or the entire year, the local chapter boasting of nearly forty members. Its activities aim at initiating, promoting, and extending scholastic achievement. Informal get-togethers with the faculty and group work on campus broaden their scope of interests beyond the classroom. In the fall they sponsored a talk by Dr. Currin Shields at the initiation exchange with Phi Eta Sigma, men's honorary, and gave a Christmas party for McKinley school children.

PHI ETA SIGMA

The principal project of Phi Eta Sigma was supplying tutors through IFC. This year saw a renovation of the tutoring system by the group. A candy apple booth at Mardi Gras and an exchange with Alpha Lambda Delta set off the lighter side of things. Encouraging and rewarding freshman scholarship among men students and providing fellowship for young students with similar interests were ideals which became realized. Lending service to the school, the honorary was led by Paul Turner, the fall semester president, and Larry Fine in the spring.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Managing the Homecoming Parade, painting levis for Men's Week, and conducting the Santa Claus Contest were just a few of the varied projects of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, whose membership consists of men trained in scouting and who are interested in its ideals. Besides these activities the group enthusiastically participated in running the student Car Pool and in helping out in Model UN as ushers and hosts. The Chi chapter also provided many experienced people to fill ASUCLA positions. Presidents Dave Fleming and George Wyman, of the fall and spring semesters respectively, planned several parties, exchanges, and camping trips to round out one of their most memorable years.

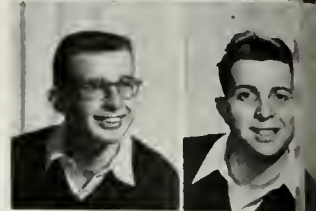

Alpha Phi Omegas JIM LUTER and BILL GUSTAFSON are seen participating in the pants painting contest which was a part of class competition during Men's Week. The fraternity has run the contest for painting pants for the last few years.

Squadron Commander DON BLACK who held the title during the fall semester is shown as he congratulated his successor, ROGER PETERSON, at the Installation Banquet of the Don Brown Squadron.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

To give added opportunity for AFROTC cadets to exercise social leadership and to provide social activities within the Cadet Program is the exclusive purpose of the Arnold Air Society. Any cadet in the Advance Course of AFROTC is eligible for membership in the Captain Don Brown Squadron. The society caught some of the Homecoming spirit and went all out by entering in the parade their float entitled "Twentieth Century Safari," which depicted Air Power. This year the Squadron proudly held the traditional initiation ceremony for its nineteen new members. On January 8, the Westside Tennis Club became the scene of the AFROTC formal dance, "The Chandelle". Following this, a few days later, was the installation banquet for the Don Brown Squadron, which took place at the Santa Ynez Inn. Guests for the evening included the Wings, an AFROTC Sponsor Corps, and the department staff. The society's successful year was due to the leadership of Squadron commanders Roger Peterson, spring semester, and Don Black, of the preceeding semester.

CAL MEN

Cal Men carried on in traditional style when, during Homecoming they built the Queen's float, as they do each year. When Mardi Gras time rolled around, the men sponsored Dr. Kaplan of the Philosophy Department in the King Contest. During Model UN, Cal Men lent their brawn for moving furniture, while the social outlook was brightened by the organization's many parties and exchanges, and climaxed by the semesterly banquets, at which food of different nationalities was featured. Led by president Warren Gilmore, a business administration major, the group also found time on their active calendar to participate in the intramurals and to work on the Blood Drive. Service and socials were paramount to all members of Cal Men.

Cal Men were doubly proud of their float, for on it rode the Homecoming Queen and her court. It was built by the men especially for this purpose.

MARY STUART, President MONA McTAGGART, and SHIRLEY PIRSHELL get together to discuss problems with a group of foreign students whom they are sponsoring.

CHIMES

Promoting service and scholastic standards of Junior women is the work of the Chimes whose membership consists of those who show outstanding service records in school activities with evidences of leadership. They must also have a minimum scholastic average of 1.4 and must be either a low or high junior in the fall semester. In order to be a Chime, one is recommended by a member of the faculty. Among its many service activities for the University, the organization is the student sponsor for incoming foreign students and is hostess for the Women's Rep Lunch House, which entertains and integrates female students into ASUCLA. During the Spring Semester a tea was held with S.C. chapter honoring the national president, La Rene Orem. In addition to these worthy services for UCLA, each and every Chime was kept a little more than busy with her individual campus activities.

Between meetings and service projects, Conning Tower found a little time for engaging in athletics, mainly football.

CONNING TOWER

Captained by presidents Lee Doolittle, commanding in the fall, and Dick Turnblade in the spring, the Navy men of Conning Tower successfully completed such maneuvers as the annual Pirate's Den costume party and the initiation dance. Although membership was limited to Naval ROTC students in good standing who had maintained an over-all 1.0 grade average in their academic work, Conning Tower was not just an honorary, but functioned as a social organization as well. Officers "on board" included George Enoch, spring prexy.

DELTA EPSILON

Delta Epsilon, art honorary, functions as a coordinating unit between the students and the faculty, promoting a widespread appreciation of art. It maintains the high standard of accomplishment in art at UCLA and assists in departmental projects. Gamma chapter actively took part in the Annual Art Students Ball at the Palladium in conjunction with other art schools in the vicinity. The Christmas card and ceramic sale sent proceeds toward the yearly art scholarships. In addition to this Delta Epsilon sponsored a lecture series to introduce distinguished new faculty members to the program.

Lined up along the steps of the Art Building were the leaders of the art honorary, including DON PASCOE, Vice President; DORIS DOLFER, President; PATTY PYLE, Corresponding Secretary; JANET WUST, Treasurer; JEAN MASON, Recording Secretary, and TED BERGESON, the club's Program Chairmen.

KAREN NIELSON, Delto Phi Upsilon treasurer, and NANCY GULICK, president, put aside business for a few minutes as they listen to SHIZIE KOHNO tell her solution to a problem.

DELTA PHI UPSILON

To promote professional attainment as a part of a national organization is one of the ideals of Delta Phi Upsilon, honorary fraternity of elementary education majors. Becoming acquainted with those specialists already in the field helped to increase the members' preparation for future work, as also accomplished through informative meetings and discussions. Striving to unite themselves through a common bond with Delta Phis throughout the country, they broaden their scope of understanding to include the special environmental problems of teaching. Activities of the UCLA chapter included field trips to the John Tracy Clinic, Children's Hospital, and to various pertinent films and public seminars. Women having a 1.7 over-all average and who are preparing for kindergarten-primary or general elementary credentials are eligible for membership.

A great source of excitement for Gold Key was their football game with Yeomen. Getting a head-start down the field was PAUL SELWYN, as he made tracks with the ball, and with the opposition closing in to halt his progress.

GOLD KEY

Gold Key, upper division men's service honorary, boasted the greatest collection of politicians, athletes and just "good men" on campus. The activities included defeating the Yeomen, lower division men's honorary, in both football and basketball; exchanges similar to the Chimes exchange at which the men learned to polka, and monthly dinners at which such honored guests as Dr. Charles Titus, club sponsor, and Chancellor Raymond B. Allen were present. Requirements for membership in the Gold Key were dependent upon service to the University and junior class standing. Aside from the many "fun times" the men had, Gold Key did find time to assist in Spring Sing preparations. Presidents for the organization included able Steve Claman and Al Lundy.

KELPS

Led once again by their venerable Low Potentate, Edna Hummel, the Kelps successfully dissipated another year in comparative peace. No one was thrown out of school, no busses were bought, and farages on rival institutions were kept to a minimum. As another frantic year withered away, Heads and Masses cast furtive glances over shoulders and viewed with crazy mixed-up emotions the events behind, including a potato chip orgy after the Stanford fiasco, boot-legging a float into the SC homecoming parade, and playing hide and seek with George Tirebiter and the Administration. With Ed Hummel and Danny Gallivan seen pushing a wheelbarrow of Help magazines through Istanbul-not-Constantinople, the Kelps pulled the plug on still another nervously active year

Surrounding the victory bell and roses are the Kelps; the matley crew turned out en masse in order to challenge the Spartan faction. They added great spirit and pep, cheering on the Bruins.

"Mortar Board tapping JEAN HUNT," said the voice of the president through the microphone, as DORIS DOLFER stood in her black robe and mortar board behind the honorary's president for the following year. DIANE WELLS is seen being topped by JEAN NELSON, and the procession in black continues to march around the tables, halting at last as LIZ STERN NICHOLS surprises MARY ANDERSON, who was this year's Historian.

MORTAR BOARD

Promoting college loyalty and advancing the spirit of service and fellowship among UCLA women were the aims fulfilled this year by Mortar Board. While maintaining almost an overall 2.0 average, members of this senior women's honorary chalked up another full slate of activities. Some of these included distributing calendars for the school year, auxiliary work for the Model UN, and the presentation of a faculty panel about the UN. The traditional tea honoring outstanding women on campus was sponsored in April; an exchange with the SC chapter, and a regional convention at Cal rounding out the list of activities. Members in Mortar Board were required to have a 1.6 grade average and superior contributions to the University in scholarship, leadership and service. President Jean Hunt took time out from her fiancé to direct the fifteen Mortar Board members through the year.

The Orientation Booth in the Kerckhoff Patio seems to be drawing quite a crowd of girls. It's no wonder that there are so many "customers" when you see who's running the concession. Talking to the interested group are the service-happy Phrateres, of course.

PHRATERES

An Easter visit to an orphanage and hastessing at the Brentwood Neuro-Psychiatric Hospital headlined the service projects of the Phrateres. They aided in the compiling of foreign students' data in the Student Activities office, and hastessing at the President's Reception. Helpful Phrateres did baby-sitting for faculty wives, sold gum and cupcakes at games to promote Uni Camp, assisted AWS and Red Cross drives. The "Crystal Ball" marked the height of a busy social season, including house parties, teas, a hay ride, a barn dance, exchanges with men's organizations, theater parties, and picnics. Phrateres is an international organization, having active chapters on the campuses of thirteen other universities in the United States and Canada.

Emphasizing a knowledge of the principles of journalism and its time-honored ethics, Pi Delta Epsilon strives toward its purpose of furthering undergraduate college journalism. The members work toward their goals at informal meetings, guest speakers being invited to add new ideas to these endeavors. A dessert meeting featured Doctor Joseph Brandt from the Journalism Department. The spring agenda included a dinner and the initiation of thriving young journalists for the Pi Delta Epsilon roster. Upper division students having served for at least two years on a college publication are eligible. Pi Delta Epsilon receives its membership by invitation from among the most promising students on the Bruin publications.

LES HEWITT hardly had time to catch his breath as he called out the numbers for the UCLA signature stunt. All depended on LES' efficient direction.

RALLY COMMITTEE

Introducing colored light stunts to the nation was the great work of Rally Committee this year. These were used the first three night games of the football season and were covered by Time and Life Magazines. While yell leaders cheered from the tables in the library main reading room, the Committee helped round up the student body for a Wilshire and Westwood rally after the SC game. It was at this rally that UCLA received its unofficial bid to the Rose Bowl. Then, of course, came the fun of painting the Victory Bell. As a take-off on the Cinerama, UCLArama double-size cord stunts were presented to the Rose Bowl spectators. In addition to lending pep to the campus, Rally Committee had two social get-togethers and gave an end-of-the-year banquet, during which they voted on the new officers for the coming year.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade, the national military honorary for cadet officers of the Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC, was led by president Jack Ferrucci, theater arts major, through a year of activities centered about organizational structuring. The purposes of the organization, as designated in the preamble, were to unite in closer relations the military departments of the universities and colleges and to develop good and efficient officers to take active part in the military affairs of the community. The officers for the year included Carter DeHaven, SAE; John Gillespi, SAE and Martin Shapiro. The major event of the year's social calendar was the organization's annual spring Military Ball.

Cadet officers of the advanced course of Army, Navy, and Air Force spent much of their time in drilling sessions.

SHELL AND OAR

Holding a raffle with Crew to raise money for the UCLA Rowing Club was just one of the projects undertaken this year by the spirited group known as Shell and Oar. They had a big job in recruiting new members for Crew, but it was tackled with enthusiasm by the girls. They also gave their time in hostessing for and promoting the Newport Regatta, one of our great boating spectacles. Not only are the members of Shell and Oar the hostesses for the various regattas, but they proved their ability at painting, also in giving the Ballona Creek Boathouse the newest look. This auxiliary, which functions both as a social and a service group, had all the punch to make it a successful and enjoyable year for all.

Busy at work are the girls of Shell and Oar. The scene takes place at the Ballona Creek Boathouse, which needed a bit of painting. The peppy group of gals was only too glad to lend a hand and swing a paint brush.

Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, was on the ball as far as activities were concerned throughout the year. Noted for selling "lick SC" suckers and pompoms to Bruin gridiron fans, Spurs galloped at a lively pace promoting school spirit, while the proceeds from these projects went to Uni-camp. Participating in Orientation and lending a hand at High Shool Day, the Spurs also had an exchange with Yeoman. Not to be outdone at Christmastime, they sang carols at the Veterans' Home. These events, coupled with a regional convention at Redlands and a national convention, topped the calendar. Tapping for the new members took place in the spring at the AWS banquet. Prexy Carol Imhoff directed Spurs through an activity-filled year dedicated to service to UCLA and fun.

Taking a little time out for rest in front of Kerckhoff were the enthusiastic officers of Spurs, SARA SUE SUTHERLAND, JOYCE CLASSEN, CAROL IMHOF, and MARILYN STRICKLAND.

Any unsuspecting bystander not acquainted with the notorious bunch of young ladies who professed to call themselves Trolls might well have questioned his mental powers. Attending Homecoming parades, riding bicycles attired in sheets and paper cups, and singing and dancing at rallies as creatures hypnotized by moonbeams were normal activities for the Trolls. Andy Tannura, Low Potentate Chief Idiot of those completely discombobulated dizzies, led them uniquely through a year of service dedicated to the "cause."

TROLLS

As you can tell, it's the AWS Banquet with the Kelps invading the place, and causing small pandemonium with their water fight. Lack of ammunition sent Trolls Anne Nillson and Natalie Skelsey scurrying under the tables. Kelp Al Lundy sought a better strategic position on top of the banquet tables in order to protect himself from the Troll mob.

Letter-winning men, led by Larry Huebner, promoted close association between the athletes and students by the many service projects of the organization. Among the year's activities, Varsity Club was honored in having Reverend Bob Richards as the main speaker of the December banquet. The big spring event was the All Sports Day, in which all lettermen had a great interest and by their enthusiastic participation, made it a huge success. In addition to Larry, who spent his spare time on the tennis courts, being captain of the team and Varsity Club vice president in '53, the other officers for Varsity Club were Ron Livingston, Tam Warburton and Bob Hunt.

President LARRY HUEBNER was honored in speaking at the Athletic Banquet climaxing the football season.

Led by Irv Drasnin, president and also DAILY BRUIN sports writer, Yeomen held Gold Key to a 14-0 victory in football during the fall term. Other officers that semester were Armin Hoffman, vice president; Stan Benson, secretary; and Sid Jones, treasurer. A party around Christmas was held with the Spurs, and the combined groups serenaded patients at Wadsworth Hospital. In the spring Ralph Hansen took over the reins as president. Dick Borun became the new vice president, while Bob Stein was a secretary, and Sid Jones was again the treasurer. Highlights of the semester included a pool party and a barbecue. In addition to this, Yeomen participated in many activities during Women's Week.

SORORITIES

HILGARD AVE.

Discussing the problems that inevitably came up before Panhellenic Council were President MARION ROPER, Executive Secretary PATTY LU MCDANIEL, Secretary NANCY RYLES, and Treasurer MARY LOU HICKEY, who convened for one of their meetings in the Dean's Office.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The UCLA Panhellenic began the fall semester under the able direction of Marion Roper with its annual workshop. Toward the end of October representatives from the Hilgard row got together to exchange ideas and to discuss their individual plans for the coming school year. The major decision of the meeting was the designation of the week of March 15 as Greek Week. Nancy Fletcher, the co-chairman for Panhellenic, led the way to a most successful seven days of fun. Panhellenic Council and IFC participated in the week's events which were highlighted by a Community Project Day—park cleaning. A jointly sponsored dance climaxed the Greek Week festivities. Panhellenic made its annual scholarship fund award at the Women's Week banquet, Junior Panhellenic held its customary pledge banquets at which awards for highest scholarship are presented to all of the winners.

ALPHA DELTA CHI

Striving to promote ideals for which their sorority stands were the Alpha Delta Chi's. Among their many social events, the girls had an informal party after Homecoming, exchanges, a Christmas formal in Palos Verdes, the Dad's Dinner, a soiree at Knott's Berry Farm, and the Founders' Day Banquet. Between semesters the ADChis held their yearly Snow Sneak at Forest Home, and during Spring Vacation they trekked to Berkeley for the annual Alpha Delta Chi National Convention. The year ended with a weekend filled with many good times at Balboa, after much hard work on Mardi Gras.

Getting all ready for a turkey trot are members of Alpha Kappa, VIVIAN ROBINSON, JACKIE MILES, BARBARA FREEMAN & NIRA HARDON, Prexy.

Aiding the L.A. Crippled Children's Hospital, entering the Doll Contest, and planning for Spring Sing didn't hamper Alpha Kappa Alphas time to entertain. A Homecoming party was given for their sisters from Berkeley and the house was open to all students in a Halloween mood. The SC-UCLA game won, victory dancers raffled off a turkey, adhering to the Thanksgiving theme. Little sisters honored actives with a Christmas party, who in turn gave a dinner for new initiates. Outstanding Alpha Kappa Alphas were Sylvia Griggs, of the Education Society honorary, Vivian Robinson, Project India, Vivian Credill, on RCB panels, and Nira Hardon, Queen of Kappa Alpha Psi.

Fun was the password at the Alpha Delta Pi house as the first affair on the social agenda was the initiation dance at the San Fernando Valley Country Club. A pledge party entitled "Tahitian Twilight" soon followed. Homecoming brought a series of activities to the sorority as the girls joined with the Kappa Sigs in float building and Carol O'Bergh garnered freshman attendant honors. Marion Raper was president of Pan-hellenic and Marlene Faltz, Spur, received the highest Pan-hellenic pledge scholarship award. Other campus-minded girls were Sheila Kelly, vice-president of the junior class; Jody Hoss, decorations chairman of the Junior Prom Pat Wilson, Spur; and Lyola Henry, Chime. Women's Intramural chairman was Karen Nelson. The big house 'atop Hilgard way was always the scene of good times, laughs, and a spirit welcoming all.

ALPHA EPSILON PHI

In typical AEPi style, service and fun was the slogan. Surprises were in store for all at the "Never Before" party as Donald O'Connor was guest of honor. Creating a lively air in the house were Trolls Gloria Franklin, Elayne Nagin, Tommy Capelouto, and Joan Ruman. Campus-wise Martha Simcoe was vice president of the freshman class, while Aileen Roth headed publicity for the Homecoming Show, and Sylvia Schecter, a Spur, was on Uni-Camp Board. Maxine Newman was a Chime, and other Spurs included Renee Mayers and Esther Nathan. Sandy Lattin headed art publicity for the Varsity Show, while Sandy Beiser joined the ranks of Alpha Lambda Delta. An African pledge party and two dreamy formals filled the AEPis' calendar.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

With hardly a moment left for even a game of bridge, the Alpha Gams dashed through a busy season of activities. Shortly after honoring the new initiates with a semi-formal dance, the sorority copped top honors in the Homecoming parade for their float in the mixed division. Honors were also won by Pat Sutherland, Gerry Haney, and Linda McCausland, Spurs; Joan Pabian, junior class secretary and a Troll; Pat Bell, the executive secretary of Model UN; and Gerry Haney, secretary of AWS. At a mid-night spread the house held a white elephant sale to raise money for Fall Drive, and later donated blood to polio stricken members at Berkeley.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

AOPi finished the spring semester of '53 with one trophy from Mardi Gras and two from Spring Sing. The next fall brought another trophy to the collection from winning the Sorority Sweepstakes with their Homecoming float. Along with work went fun at the pledge barn dance and at the formals, which were climaxed by the Candlelight and Roses ball at the Portuguese Bend Club. An open house with Sigma Nu, Kappa Delta, and Sigma Pi raised money for Uni-Camp. Diane Horouff was AWS President and also a Troll with Susan Parr and Donna Rhoades. Others in AWS were Barbara Smith, Model Josie co-chairman, and Jody McNeilly, a Chime, Women's Week chairmon. Helping Crew were Lorie Elliott, Marion Carlson, and Alice Sully, Spur and OCB Boord. Earleen Gordonier held membership in Omicron Nu.

Alpha Phi began the fall semester with a weekend retreat to the mountains. Marion Schattenburg came just in time for fun, having spent the summer as a member of Project India. Jeanne Diether was Chairman of the Junior Prom and High School Day, while Clarann Johnson occupied that same position for the Dublin Ball. Pledges took over the entertaining at a spring party at Balboa. Rosemary Wooldrige was honored in being the only freshman delegate to Model UN. Active Mortarboard and Cal Club member, Eleanor Peterson served as Women's Representative. Seen around Kerckhoff was chairman of OCB Nancy Plummer, a Chime, as were Brigid Gray, Sue Wood and Mary Stuart. Alpha Phi added two girls to Spurs this year; these were Barbara Wright and Judy Hummel.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Under the capable leadership of the president, Sandra Darnell, friendly Alpha Xi's enjoyed a fine year. A full social calendar included such events as the Westword Ho Hoyride, the Sleepy Hollow Party, and their Fall Informol held at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel. The big affair of the spring semester was the annual Rose Boll. Activities, as always, held the spotlight with Donna Claussen on Mortar Board and Nancy Gulick, a Chime, as president of Delta Phi Upsilon. Doris Dolfer became prexy of Delta Epsilon, the art honorary, while Shell and Oar was enthusiastically supported by Karen Neilson, Joan Deaton, and Barbara Mueller. Pep was promoted by Shirley Bach, Clola Keene and Jo Eno, Rally Committee, while the Alpha Xi Quartette was also heard around campus.

The girls of Chi Alpha Delta had some winter fun when they trekked to mountains and snow.

CHI ALPHA DELTA

Chi Alpha Delta set the sails for a smooth year with many activities. Commencing with rush and orientation teas, the presentation of the pledges was next. The Riviera Country Club was the scene of the annual Christmas Ball, while after finals the members had a carefree weekend stay throwing snow balls up at Big Bear. At the arrival of Mardi Gras festivities, the Chi Alphas sold corsages to raise money for Uni-Camp. Earlier in the year were such affairs as a Christmas party with the alumni chapter and a Charter Day banquet later on. Many other philanthropic projects were undertaken such as the Red Cross. The sorority played an active role in campus doings as Helen Taniguchi was secretary of Delta Phi Upsilon, and Toni Takeuchi added to the Phrateres.

DELTA SIGMA THETA

Activity-wise, the Delta Sigma Thetas started the year off with a float entered in the Homecoming parade and several aspirants in the Queen Contest. Their float-building efforts brought them a second place award in the "most original" division. This was a surprise for the girls, since this was their first entry in the traditional pageant. Delta Sigma Thetas found time to sponsor a Girl Scout troop and to send some girls to camp in November. Among their active members was Ruth Berry, who could be seen diligently working in the Library. The big activity of the year was the "Jabberwack" which was held in May on the SC campus. This was a variety show given to raise funds for scholarships.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega began their fall flurry of social events with an Initiation Dance held in the Redwood Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel. Chi Os and Sigma Nus went on a marching safari in the Homecoming Parade and had an early morning open house before the Cal game. Gathering in the lobby of the elegant and dignified Hotel de Hoss for the "After-Ski Party," presented by pledges, were the Chi Omegas who enjoyed the Thanksgiving recess at Mammoth. At Christmas Santa joined members as they honored their dates at a cocktail party at Jean Carroll's home and presented their annual dinner for Uni-Campers. Dolores Dollons took over Sally Richardson's position as president, in addition to leading songs for our team. She and Sally joined Gaye Filbert with Shell and Oar. Spurs tapped Joy Ekdahl and Trolls claimed Carole Slocum. Sue Eggleston was vice-prexy of Alpha Lambda Delta, and Joan Thorson did the same job for the senior class.

With many a queen in their midst, the Tri Delts boasted such beauties as senior Homecoming attendant Janice Vance; Art Ball Queen, Joyce Freeman; Junior Prom Queen Marianne Garard, and attendant Carol Hadovec. Campus activities were by no means neglected, however, with Spur members Carol Imhof, president; Diane Hitchcock, Nan Narris, Sandy Nutt, Gretchen Fisch, Shirley Robertson, and Marlis Rochat. Chimes were Living Group Rep Marianne Garard; Ruth Reiter, SOUTHERN CAMPUS Engravings Editor; and Carol Ingstram. Mortarboard members were Jean Hunt, president; Diane Wells, and Nannie Wernsing, while Marianne Garard added to the list at Cal Clubbers. Sandy Nutt and Marilyn Williams were cheer leaders. Social events included the Stars and Crescent Ball, a scholarship fund open house, and a pledge party.

DELTA GAMMA

Busy Delta Gammas spent numerous hours in the vicinity of Kerckhoff offices this year. Chimes president was Mona McTaggart, who also was on the RCB Student Board and in Cal Club with Lynn Vale. Lynn also was delegated to Model UN with Janice Cushing, chairman of International Board for RCB. Joining Andy Tannura, president of Trolls were other disorganized Dee Gees Lynn Vale and Gretchen Deffenbach. Janice was treasurer of Mortar Board, while Sara Sue Sutherland was secretary of Spurs. Gretchen served as head songleader, and Suzie Leonardson, as chairman of Co-ed assistants on the AWS Board. DGs celebrated their annual Christmas Formal with the Phi Delt's at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, and cooperated with the Phi Psi's in float building. They proudly claimed the coveted Father-"Son" trophy of the Men's Week events for their second consecutive year.

DELTA ZETA

In a haze of tropical splendor, the Delta Zetas began their activities at a Shipwreck Party given by the pledges. DZ ushered in the Christmas spirit with their annual formal, Mistletoe Magic, at The Beach Club. Other affairs on the agenda were a masquerade party, the Election Open House, and their spring dinner dance, Moonlight Mood. Permanent possession of the UCLA Blood Drive trophy was obtained by winning in competition for the third time in succession. Another trophy adorned the house when they succeeded in winning the Stocking Drive. Although Pat Koenekamp was busy at student teaching, she was an advisor to ASUCLA president and a Mortar Board member. Peggy Fletcher as Lambda Chi Crescent Girl, Nancy Jo Tramz as Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Sue Peterson as Scabbard and Blade Queen won other honors for Thetas. An open house with Fijis and a dinner for members of the Colgate 13 were real boomers. Christmas cheer was spread at the annual Theta-Fiji formal, a tremendous success at the Sportsman's Lodge. Spirit-minded Thetas included Darlene Dwyer, very ambitious Uni-Camp head counselor Pat Price, in Spurs; Nancy Fletcher, on Greek Week; Katy Brush, Jr. Panhell vice-prexy; and Marlyn Ockerman and Darlene Dwyer in the Troll clan.

KAPPA DELTA

A busy year was started for the Koppo Deltos when they joined the Lambda Chis to win the "Most Beautiful Float" trophy for the Homecoming Parade. This excitement continued in the social events as starred on all KD calendars. Some of these were the Diamond Dagger Formal at the Miramar, the Annual Christmas open house, and a White Rose Formal which took place at the Palos Verdes Country Club. School and parties were but a part of the lives of Kappa Deltas, for they could be found in almost every campus activity. Homecoming saw Horriet Schuck as its Dance Chairman. Horriet and Virginia Millican, Trolls, kept things lively while the many KD's on Rally Committee injected extra UCLA spirit. Other names heard on campus were Kathe Knape, who wrote SOUTHERN CAMPUS copy; Kay Badgley, Judy Crafts, and Pot Tilley, Shell and Oar; Roz Gordon and Virginia Millican, Wings; Diane Kalkmon, Mortar Board member and OCB; and Ellie Stones, executive secretary of Varsity Show.

In beating the Thetas 6-0 at the Kappa-Sig-ATO Punch Bowl Football Game in Griffith Park, the Kappas began another successful year. The Homecoming floats with the Phi Delts, a Kappa-Beta Christmas Formal, and the Kappa-Fiji Spring Formal and a fraternity brunch brightened the year. During Men's Week, Kappas hosted an open house, and during Fall Drive, their pledge class added talent to the auction block in the Coop. Active about Kerckhoff circles were Chime and AWS Josie Reps Chairman, Fran Reynolds; a Chairman for the Men's Week promotion, Bobby Bray; Spur, Linda Bilon; Spur and AWS Treasurer, Sandra Beebe; the Greek Week Community Project Chairman, Chickie Rumwell; and Orientation Executive Secretary, Marilyn Kudell.

Soon after September pledging, the Phi Mu Junior Alumnae gave a get-acquainted picnic in Roxbury Park. Phi Mu found its Homecoming float missing from the parking lot; they later located it on South Pasadena railway tracks. Marcia Carter edited the Homecoming Guide. After the pledges won the cup for having one hundred percent attendance at the S.C. game Rally Dance, and the skiers declared their Thanksgiving weekend, planned by Betty Anderson—vice-president of the Ski Club, a "Mammoth" success, Christmas rolled around and pajama'd girls partyed around their tree. As Marion Troyer did radio shows and plays, Jenny Culliton took charge of the Model UN concert at the spring conference. SOUTHERN CAMPUS claimed Marcia Carter, Lou Ann Black, Co-Associate Editors, Jackie Pieper, Fall Semester Copy Editor and Grace Morehead.

Phi Sigs successfully combined participation in campus affairs and social activities this year. As far as the latter was concerned, the house extended the welcome mat to all Bruins at the semi-annual coffee hour. All year around, however, the outdoor ping pong patio was filled with people. More fun was had when the girls built their Homecoming float with the Tau Delts. Activity-minded Spurs, Jo Kurtz and Sandy Werdesheim were busy in Uni-Camp and AWS, while Evelyn Grossman could be found either in the News Bureau or the Bruin office writing "Cupid's Arrow." Hillel Executive Board members were Kenin Feldman, Shirley Friedman, and Bernice Nadler. The Phi Sigs were awarded a sweepstakes trophy in the Hillel Vaudeville Show, and Betty Hoenig reigned as queen over Hillel Purim festivities.

Homecoming started off an eventful year for the Pi Phis as Queen Donna Pratt reigned over festivities, and Ramona Rush joined her as Junior Attendant. Soon after, the girls, along with their USC sisters, sponsored the annual Golden Arrow Dance at the Bel-Air Bay Club. As Christmas drew near, the Pi Phis and the Zeta Psis gave an open house, while springtime brought the Delta Ball in conjunction with the SAEs. Outstanding on campus were ASUCLA vice president, Janet Hale and Editor of SOUTHERN CAMPUS, Bonnie Shrubar, also a Chime. Kay Bourne and Virginia Turner were SOUTHERN CAMPUS staff members, While Marilyn Strickland, Peggy Albin, and Joyce Clasen were Spurs. Mortar Board claimed Patty Price and Joan Benner, as Karen Kerns, Janet Hale, Diane Donaghue, and Bonnie Shrubar added to the Cal Club roster. Trolls Beth Jelm, Anne Magly, and Jeri Doud added a gay air to the house.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Fall started SDT on a very active and successful year under the able leadership of Prexy Jan Phillips. The house's efforts were rewarded when their Homecoming float, which was entered with Sigma Delta Tau and the Sammys, took first for originality in the mixed competition. First place in the Sorority Division went to the house as the girls donned sailors' garb in their skit labeled "Nautical, But Nice." Off to a sound- ing start in college was Linda Fried- man who was elected to the office of Frosh Secretary. Seen busy around the campus were Paulette Attrie, thesbian in the Homecoming Show; Spur Joan Radar, head of Fall Drive Class Collections; and Norene Baum, who handled the president's gavel as a national speech honorary's prexy.

SIGMA KAPPA

Oh's and Ah's echoed through every room at the Sigma Kappa house last fall when the girls returned to a completely remodeled home, this excitement setting the pace for the year's activities. Amid the social whirl were semi-annual Violet Balls at the Beverly Hills Hotel, a post-jazz concert open house held in conjunction with Junior Prom Weekend, pledge parties, and exchanges. Sigma Kays took the sweepstakes award in entering six wardrobe dolls in the AWS contest. The Christmas stockings, filled by each member, along with food were sent to Hathaway Home. Activity members were Janet Myer, Spurs; Maude O'Briant, Jo Anne McCormick, Trolls; Margie Williams, Mary Olson, an Shell and Oar; and Maude O'Briant, in Wings. Chairmen were: Anita Wehe, Senior Brunch; Joanne Freed, Prom Contest, and Judy Toner, of Orientation Day.

Looking back over the year, members of Zeta Tau Alpha could view a calendar full of good times and campus participation. To start off the fall semester Homecoming took the time of Arlene George, Alumni Chairman; Buffy Frehe, Executive Secretary; and Co-ed Auxiliary Chairman, Sharon McLean. Geri Beal and Jean Warwick added to the Shell and Oar Crew as Barbara Dashiell, Leah Day, and Joyce Hertzberg were on Rally Committee. Chime members were Buffy Frehe and Jeannette Wichmer. Sharon McLean penned minutes for the senior class, and Student Judiciary Board had the services of Arlene George. The social side was not to be neglected, with an initiation dance and Christmas Formal.

THETA UPSILON

Activities at the Theta U house were begun when the TKEs contacted able president Janet Zehnpfennig with float building propostions. The result was a float made entirely of chrysanthemums of varied hues—not an original idea, but one full of hard work and good fun. Friday the 13th was the theme of the active-pledge party at which dates stumbled into the maze of a haunted house, complete with its spider webs and a witch's brew. Exchanges, parties, and dances led to the annual Christmas formal, followed by the pledge-sponsored pre-exams Masquerade Ball. Active on campus were Terry Parfin, Junior Panhellenic secretary, Barbara Phillippi, who made the AWS office her headquarters, and Alliene Flanery, the lead in the Homecoming Show. With Theta U well represented on all class councils, the girls felt they had participated in a very active year.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Intrafraternity Council at UCLA served in many various ways to help Bruin activities onward to great success. Seated at this meeting in Kerckhoff Hall are STAN HABERMAN, IFC executive secretary, CHARLIE DOUD, DAIN GLAD, treasurer, LLOYD LOKKA, adv.ser, BRUCE RICE, IFC president, and JOHNNY WALKER, IFC veep.

UCLA's Interfraternity Council was recognized by other colleges as one of the strongest IFC's in the nation. As a self-governing body, it acted as a liaison between its member groups, which were all the recognized fraternities on campus. The IFC Judiciary Committee was the governing body whose decisions were law. IFC was very active socially, participating in many of the ASUCLA events. The big project was Greek Week, which sponsored such activities as Greek Meets, a dinner banquet, an exchange dinner, Charity Day, a sports day, and it concluded with the tremendous dance put on by IFC and Panhellenic Council, held at the Riviera Country Club. Other events included Homecoming and a successful presidents' retreat which took place at Coronado. IFC also made plans for sponsoring a foreign exchange student at UCLA. When grades came out, IFC boasted a 1.42 scholarship.

Acacia enjoyed another successful year in their newly painted house. Socially, the Presents Night Open House held jointly with Alpha Phi and Zeta Psi, the fifth anniversary of Charter Day with the planting of an Acacia tree in the yard, the annual Wintergarden formal, Mothers' Club Christmas Party, and "Foals Frolic Party" were tops. Presidents Ron Garabedian and Bob Shaw were in Gold Key, and Ron was Men's Rep. On SLC, Bob served as Spring Sing Bowl Chairman. Yeoman Don Atherton was on IFC Secretary, and Lloyd Lokka was IFC Advisor. Intramurally, Acacia won its league in football and tied for the league bowling championship. In the blood drive, Acacia just missed winning its fourth straight blood trophy.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Despite the loss of a few brothers to the army and of their cat-eating dog, Mike, the Alpha Sigs did recover and went on to paint the season red. The social escapades, consisting of many exchanges, a Christmas formal at the Bel-Air Hotel, the fabulous Barefoot Beachcomber, was climaxed by an Italian party. Presidents Hugh Glenn and John O'Hara supplied the leadership over the house; Jahn LaGatta was on the crew team; Bill Foote played golf, and Sonny Helmer sent shivers up many people's spines with his crazy Dixieland trombone. The Alpha Sigs wound up for a good clock for the year with the Most Improvement Scholarship Trophy, and a last place win in basketball.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Hilltop House, home of the ATOs, echoed to the activities of another busy year. Guiding the brothers was IFC Prexy Bruce Rice, who also headed UCLA's own "Sports Package" radio program. Among those idling away hours in Kerckhoff Hall were Jerry Parent, AMS veep, Rolly Committee members John Pakiz and Marsh McLennan, and OCB social Chairman, Ed Peck. Many of the brothers had membership in such honorary societies as Phi Phi and Kelps. For the 3rd year in a row, John Pakiz was UCLA's number one man in the javelin throw. The "hoiry chested" men of ATO went all out for crew with Ston Dennis and Steve Sanders rowing in the varsity shell at the mercy of coxswain Bud Jungclas. Socially, it was also a banner year with brother Art Linkletter gracing several functions. Highlights were the Jewel formal and the New Year's Bowl Blast in honor of the MSC Brothers. Other popular moments were beach days, hill parties, the Punch Bowl.

All U-Bongi—The AEPis were very proud of their Homecoming Parade entry.

The men of AEPi will look back upon the past school year as having more than its share of good times and accomplishments. The men wearing the thirty-three pearls were active in all ASUCLA affairs, contributing significantly to activities in Kerckhoff Hall. Social highlights were the winter and spring formals along with the traditional "Farewell Blues." The big news was the construction of the new house on Gayley. In '55, AEPi lays claim to the newest house on the row, and the brothers declare it to be the best as well as the newest. The house represents diligent work on the part of all brothers in the fraternity, the parents club, alumni club, chapter advisers, and national officers.

BETA SIGMA TAU

The little white house was home for the Beta Sigma Taus.

Beta Sigma Tau, intercultural and interracial social fraternity, prided itself in exemplifying true brotherhood. Scholastically, the fraternity kept its high standards. Culturally, in addition to their Monday night speakers, the Bruin Chapter celebrated Founder's Day on May 1, 1954, commemorating six years as the National Fraternity. As another project, the fraternity worked at Ormsby Village, an inter-cultural youth camp in Topanga Canyon. The House also participated in the 2nd Annual Greek Week activities on campus. Among the many social functions was a successful costume party representing various cultures and countries. Over ninety percent of the Beta Sigs took part in school activities. Tom Stewart was in the Glee Club; and Ralph Minkler, along with Roland Thurman, was in the choir. House presidents this past year were George Kagiwada and Ben Allston.

BETA THETA PI

Over at 581 Gayley, Mrs. Kenyan tucked in the Beta Bays for her twenty-eighth year. The men from the pink and blue can boast of a successful season in campus affairs, athletics, scholarship, social scandal, and intramurals. Foremost project was the new hard-topped volleyball court and Bar-B-Q supervised by letterman Dick Wilkie. Don Bragg and Don Livingston had memberships in Cal Club, and while Livie was MAB Chairman, Don headed the Athletic Advisory Board. John Peterson shone in varsity football and track while Bragg, Livingston, Ron Bane, and Ed White won basketball letters. Bob Perry, Larry Huebner, and Livingston held down the first spots on UCLA's National Championship tennis squad, Perry joining the Davis Cup squad to Australia. Socially the Beta-Kappa and Miami Triad topped winter and spring formals, while the Beta's gambling river boat called for the casual in castuming.

CHI PHI

With an ample number of intellectuals, athletes, big and little men on campus, and second semester pledges, Chi Phi had a very eventful year. Unusual exchanges, barbecues, bowling exchange, and square dances dominated the social calendar. Long remembered will be the dinner dance at the Hollywood Roosevelt, the Bad Taste party, Latin Lovers' ball, an annual get-together with the SC Chi Phis, and the usual group of seasonal social events. They won first place in the blood drive, and the Homecoming float was judged as most beautiful. President Dan Eventav, IFC Rep-at-Large, Card Stunt designer Ran Patterson in Delta Epsilon, and Yeaman Randy Scatt, soph class treasurer, led the house campus-wise.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

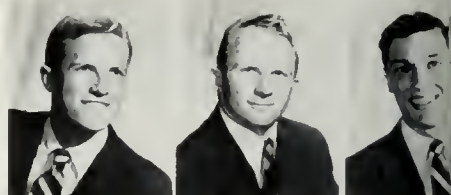

The Delta Sigs had another successful year with two formals; the annual coronation-ball was held as a Christmas formal at Sportsman Lodge. The greatest party of the year was the "Prohibition Party" which was televised by KTLA's "Crash the Party." Several DSPs were represented on the 1954 Bruin Rose Bowl team. Among these were Bob Heydenfeldt, Terry Debay, Bob Long, Sam Boghosian, and Steve Palmer. The 1953 Brubabes also had several Delta Sigs on the squad including Bob Ballard and Tom Thaxter. In baseball, DSP was represented by the showings of Marty Stiles and Al Bates, as Mark Costello and Courtney Borio played on the basketball team. Mama Sue's pride and joy won the Fraternity Division in the Homecoming Parade for the sixth year in a row. Delta Sigma Phi continued to remain strong intramurally and the house accepted its trophies for the 1953 swimming championship and the All-U basketball title. The Delta Sigs are looking towards continued success.

DELTA CHI

The big news of the year and the decade for Delta Chi was the new and modern fraternity house on Gayley to be ready in the fall. The main highlights of the social calendar were the White Carnation ball at the Bel Air Hotel and spring formal held in conjunction with the Southern California chapter. The house "joiners" were Allen Storm, varsity crew man, ski club, and Rep-at-Large for the ESUC; Gordon Benhard on the NROTC Rifle team, "big brother" Hans Bernhard on the varsity ski team, Tom Mills in the campus theater, while Pierre Vacha was an SMPTE and Delta Kappa Alpha. The Delta Chis were well represented in all intramurals. Gordon Benhard received the award as outstanding lower division NROTC student officer. The three stalwarts serving as president of Delta Chi the past year were Cay Palmer, Ralph Rodriguez, and Tom McGaughey. Delta Chis awaited their new house.

KAPPA NU

UCLA's newest fraternity, Kappa Nu, has initiated its agenda by putting sororities at the head of its many activities and interests. Scholastically, Kappa Nu won the IFC scholarship trophy for the umpteenth time in a row. Communitywise, the house participated in the Red Cross Blood Drive competition, and the donation of blood to a private home, and socially, many costume, theater, house parties, and dances lent a lot of variety to the social program. Highlights included the annual Kiddie party, the Illegitimate Theatre party, the big Kappa Nu Year's Blowout, the Pink Champagne ball, and the installation dinner-dance. The men also engaged in inter-campus visitations between the Berkeley and UCLA chapters. Accomplishments of the semester were the formation of a new mothers club, the activation of an alumni club, and the preparations to move from apartment living to a fraternity house.

Kappa Nus claimed the best-looking legs on campus.

The Kappa Sigs did a bang-up job this year, starting with All-American Paul Cameron and Don Foster who lettered in football and baseball. Dave Kalal lettered in soccer, and Bob Turill in baseball. As usual the Kappa Sigs monopolized the Daily Bruin business and circulation offices with John Price, Dave Doten, Jack Ferguson, Jack Chilquist, and Wally Truesdell. Curt Owen was chairman of the Junior Prom, and Skip Byrne led the house politically, holding the title of Upper Division Rep., and in Gold Key. Sid Jones was a Yeoman and Don Tinsley a Kelp. Arabian Nights, the "Bowery", the Streets of Paris, and the Starlight Formal, held at Del-Mar, led the plentiful and impressive parties. Desipte the .69 grade point average and "Ernie's" (the Chef) food, the Kappa Sigs managed to have a real blast during the past year, topping it off with a house rebuilding program.

"That Modern House on Strathmore" was again outstanding with first place in house decorations, floats, Mardi Gras booths, and Spring Sing groups. Gavel banging prexies, Ronald Renney and Hal Angle, screamed for order from each of the filibustering brothers. The Lambda Chis engaged in track, football, baseball, Coop-cowboying, ping pong, volleyball, boozing, and serenading the Fijis. Head Yell Leader Jerry Lewis and some other infamous "muthuhs" were found lurking in secluded corners of OCB, IFC, Homecoming Committee, SOUTHERN CAMPUS, Varsity Club, Kelps, Yeoman, Gold Key, class councils, and MAB. Social activities were the Cross and Crescent Formal, exchanges, post mortems, hill parties, and all sorts of frantic affairs. A Lambda Chi chapter at Fort Ord found adequate training for the Bruin ROTC.

PHI DELTA THETA

Plagued by workmen building the new wing, the Phi Delts did manage to avoid the debris and conduct their various affairs throughout the year. Walt Meyer and Jim Devers served as house presidents. The Phis were All-U intramural football champs. Bruin activities found Rene Miller and Al Lundy in Gold Key, while Bob Davenport, Fred Shean, Jack Dailey, and Dan Boone played a little football. Hank Steinman and freshman Jack Arnold were in basketball, as Dick Doss and Jim Read starred in tennis. Bill Coates and Dave Drum found time to join ranks with the frosh swimmers. Party time managed to fill up all the week-ends with the Dee Gee-Phi Delt formal, Miami Triad, and the spring formal being thrown in just to break up the monotony of Friday afternoon beer busts.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

"I just don't believe it," was president John Walker's reply when asked about the past year's Fiji accomplishments. They were quite shaken up when the house was washed into the Vets during a heavy rain, but when only one man was pledged, a stray cat, and Alberta, they really got going. In the social season, nothing spectacular happened and they were put on social pro. Luckily, though, some Thetas and Kappas did show up for the Winter and Summer formals, and made them a great success. Fiji men on the Rose Bowling varsity were John Hermann, Jim Salsbury, Don Stalwick, John Smith, and Bill Stits. Activitiy minded Phi Gams, while laboring under a terrific scholastic strain, were still able to show great participation in Pi Pi, Yelps, Brass Key, and Project Malibu. By the election of Roger Johnson as president, the spring semester was destined to be a howling success. It all began with the two months of social pro. Ah well, they say "to err is only cosmic."

PHI KAPPA PSI

The club mourned my unexpected death last fall; and just because I had worn a red band on my jockey shorts at the SC game. I did find some consolation upon meeting St. Peter, a Phi Psi affiliating at Celestial Alpha. We reminisced of pledge presents; the Pojamarino, which had awakened him on cloud eight; DG-Phi Psi Christmas affair; the Homecoming float's taking "best crocodile" prize; the Jeff Duo; pledge ditches with the Koppas and the DGs; and the two day spring formal. Politicians Hubbell and Treharne meditated a shower-hockey game between the Snappers and the Fourth Reich. When I discussed athletics, Pete's face beamed. I spoke of Levy in football and in baseball; Captain McKay and six others in frosh football; Captain Inglis in rugby, top scorer Burke in frosh basketball, Blatchford and Markel on an undefeated net squad, and Morgan's sailing skill. "I feature it!" said Pete. With this, I took one last look at the red street light, and then proceeded to ascend up the golden stairs.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

Athletes, party-boys, big pledge classes, politicians — everything but scholars — combined to make a fine year for Phi Kappa Sigma. Social successes under Presidents Bill Hutchins and Tom Gorman included the "Black and Gold" formal, and the "Hawaiian," which were supported by many house parties, exchanges, and serenades. Campus-wise, Ray Cardenas was Rep-at-large, while George Millay and "Jungle Jim" Garofalo were among Kelp masses. The Phi Kaps turned in many fine performances on intramural fields. Sports-wise, Dick Tatus was an All-American rifleman, and Jim McGinnis was a top wrestler. Staff Carson aided the Bruin tennis team, and "Kiwi" Gardner lettered in water polo, rugby, and cricket. Guy Hocker played frosh football, and Pete Nelson and Bob Thompson were on frosh track. Despite their frigid swimming pool, the death of their boa constrictor, and the many bashed fenders in their parking lot, the Phi Kaps fashioned a very successful year.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Domestic problems in the form of remodeling a newly acquired house and rebuilding membership didn't cramp Phi Kappa Tau "foreign relations" during the school year. Exchanges and house parties bolstered a social calendar which was highlighted by an "underseas" party, a homecoming party, and the traditional formal. The latter, held in conjunction with the Figueroa chapter, saw Ann Robinson, star of "War of the Worlds," presiding as dream girl. Outside undisputed recognition as the campus' foremost individualists, Phi Taus refrained from making any claims as to scholastic prestige. Prexy Dick Johnson led the crew through another season of fellowship, with expectations of continued growth on campus.

SIGMA PHI DELTA

Late summer saw the SPDs redecorating their house in Santa Monica. With the house in good shape, the busy social year began. The boys went western twice, once for a hayride, and again for a western party celebrating the Rose Bowl bid, and then dressed up for the Christmas ball and the Red Rose formal. The hair came down again for the semester ending TGIO dances. Sid Firstman and Ivan Bekey, the two prexies, wound up honor students and were elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi. George Neuman was a rousing candidate for the "Mr. Santa Claus" contest. Sparked by Bob Vaughan and Paul Crane, Sigma Phi thinclads placed fifth in the intramural track tourney, and the Twin Pines-SPD Homecoming float made things "move."

Gold Keyer and Homecoming Show director Saul Jacobs was house prexy. Making his term tops were All-U Rep Dave Abell; junior prexy, Art Marshall, and frosh president, Al Lasher. Sporting Gold Key sweaters were Paul Selwyn, MSB head; Dick Orgell, Fall Drive chairman; Bas Clyman, and PCC champ gymnast, Bob Gordon. Joining vice-prexy Armin Hoffman in Yeoman were Marshall Jacobson and Bob Stein. Bob was in the highest UCLA honorary, Cal Club. Sandy Goldberg ran the Junior Prom Queen Contest and Phi Sig-Sigma Kappa All-U open house. Lettermen Abell, Corn, Entin, Selwyn, Concoff, and Kaplan paced the athletics parade. Top grades again won the Sigma Chi trophy while top socials and parties like the Gold Rush and formal dinner dance rounded out Alpha Beta's big seventh year.

PI LAMBDA PHI

Led by Marty Kozberg and Jerry Dorfman, Pi Lambda Phi had a tremendous year. In the social season, the house had some of the greatest parties on the row. Highlights included the two Formals, the two TGIO parties, SC party after the football game, Heaven and Hell party, annual Spaghetti Feast, and "South Sea Spree." This, along with numerous beach parties, hayrides, record dances, and exchanges, rounded out the social year. On campus, Yeoman veep Dick Borun served as Mardi Gras King Contest chairman, fraternity editor of SOUTHERN CAMPUS, and worked on Men's Week while Steve Platt was a Secretary on IFC and a Kelp. Don White, Yeoman, on Rally Committee and in charge of the soph class float; Mel Weissman, Greek Meets chairman; and Larry Grossman lettered in golf. Numerous trophies won included first place in the King Contest and the most humorous Homecoming float. They ranked high in studies and intramurals with Jim Elbogen pacing the team.

SIGMA ALPHA MU

The traditionally great Sammy affairs were more sparkling this year than ever before. Sigma Alpha Mu was able to grab many prizes and awards including first place in the fraternity division of the annual Hillel Vaud Show, and runner-up spot in the second annual Greek Week Chariot Race. On campus, members did well in almost every department. Politically, Jerry Fox was NSA Coordinator, Alan Rosin served as Sophomore class prexy, and Ken Freidman was Freshman class treasurer. Sportswise, Narm Jacobs was yell leader, Hal Yeaman played Frosh baseball, and Dick Agay and Louis Sabel competed on the golf team. The year's close means only a pause for the Sammys, "you just wait 'till next year."

SIGMA CHI

Led by Jack Gobel and Dick Simonsen, Sigma Chi had an outstanding year. A life pass was received by Ted Andrews, coach of the JV soccer team. Leading the Sig lettermen were Dave Anderson, all league soccer goalie and rugby; George Aamodt, Art Baldonado, soccer; John Mansan, soccer and cricket; and Carl Naschak, frosh footballer and the frosh baseball team sparkplug. Phil Sama was commodore of Tiller and Sail, Bill Schweikart was president of the western province of Lutheran Students Association, and Jim Johnston and Tom Williams were Kelps. Social highlight was the choosing of Nancy Jo Tramz, Theta, as the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Other great affairs were the Raunchy Rancho party, the best Triad in years, smasho-week at Bal, and then all was set back by a Neanderthal Ball — three cro-magnons crashed. To top off a big year, Janise, the house mascot, had nine black puppies, courtesy of Rocky.

SIGMA NU

Camp Board Chairman Dick Barnard led Sigma Nu to another great year. Among the outstanding social affairs were the ADT featuring the Squires musical group, an informal party at Larry Potters to hear Sigma Nu Jerry Meacham and the Lancers, and the White Rose Formal which was held at the Beverly Hills Hotel with AChiO Miss Dee Rose reigning as queen. On the activity ledger, Gold Keyer Bob Meyer was the publicity co-ordinator for Homecoming, and Ralph Hansen was Yeoman president and SOUTHERN CAMPUS sales manager. A helping hand on publicity was given by Don Chatelain. Cal Club man Ernie Stockert headed Spring Drive and helped coach frosh football, while Jack Sage coached frosh track. Numerous "Snakes" finally found a "safety pin" to hold up their diapers, and proudly gave frat pins to the sorority queens.

SIGMA PI

Last fall, Sigma Pi decided that the mainstay of college life was social activity. The three formals were a bit dull, and some of the other planned affairs were not too spectacular, but the two pajama parties converted many to the "home life." Many Friday night beach parties and informal mid-week argies really saved the day. Campus-wise Ken Poovey and AMS prexy Bob Brewster dabbled in many activities; Benjamin Kasten and co-captain Rudy Feldman played football; seen on the track were Seaman, Daligney, Mitchell, Smith, and Jones; and Rogers was on the frosh hoop team. They won the All-U bowling title, and a few other accomplishments finished a jolly year.

TAU DELTA PHI

Tau Delta Phi, founded in 1910, now included 40 chapters and had much to be proud of. The UCLA chapter was begun in 1926, and since then it has become a mainstay of campus life. UCLA looked forward to May as it is "Chase" time. This, the world's largest collegiate dance, featured great music and top-flight entertainment, proceeds going to a scholarship fund for deserving students. Intramurally, Tau Delts were looking forward to another successful season. Highlighting the social year were the annual Christmas party held in conjunction with their Alums, and the New Year's blast, followed by a bus trip to Pasadena. Tau Delts awaited moving into the most beautiful house on campus, but walls and a roof don't make a house. It was men united in brotherhood, Tau Delta Phi.

TAU EPSILON PHI

This was another banner year for Tau Epsilon Phi. Each Saturday, Teps rooted for brother Ira Pauley, center on the football team. Len Alexander sprinted for the Bruin track team, and Elliot Epstein was a reserve backstop on the UCLA horsehiders. Mainstays for the Westwood gymnastics team were nationally ranked Don Faber and Burt Smith. Up at Kerckhoff, Irv Drasnin and Len Weiner were seen while Ed Isenson wrote sports for the Daily Bruin. As usual, Tep intramural teams did well, being runners-up in football and volleyball for the University championship. Scholastically, the TEPmen held their own with the fall pledges winning the honors for the University. The social season was highlighted by a cosmopolitan New Year's Eve party, a "Rah Rah" party, the initiation fete which was held at Santa Ynez Inn, a "Hobo" affair, and the spring formal. The men of Tau Epsilon Phi are looking forward to additional success next semester.

THETA CHI

Augmented by transfer students from the East and South, and led by an ex-sailor who, more than once, had to be toted home from Phi Phi get-togethers, Theta Chi filled a hectic year with parties, banquets, and brawls. Fall semester saw Mel Henke's trio and Barney Kessel's group featured in semi-open souses that left weird aromas permeating the chapter house for weeks. Other highlights were a "controversial" Homecoming float, and door-smashing episodes in the house. In spring, as Dave Rosellini left the "Coop" occasionally for jaunts over the high and low hurdles, the house was again regularly "semi-open." The social calendar was highlighted by the Sweetheart Formal, and an "Out of this World" pledge dance. The year's annual "Dream Girl" formal climaxed the year's activities. As classes ended and finals began, all took the traditional vow of old — "Things are gonna' be different — next year."

THETA DELTA CHI

The cry of "Manifest Destiny" was heard throughout the Theta Delt house as the books took a back seat and they welcomed an addition of an impressive, modernistic wing to the clubhouse. This provided the needed elbow room as the TDXers continued to be tops in pool-side party time. TDXers and dates were holed in at the Igloo of Frigid Love at the big "I Kon if Yukon" party. The Virgin Islands party, hayride exchanges, and numerous parties rounded out the social side. In the Kerckhoff political circles were men like Jim Lumsden and Bill Frew. Bruin griddler Gill Moreno was matched by varsity star Lindy Kell, and freshmen Denny Thompson and Bruce Cook were bouncing the round-ball. Kell and Dick Snyder excelled for the varsity cinder-men, while Lew Miller was the crew captain. With increasing prowess, Theta Delta Chis continued to successfully ride the crest.

THETA XI

Led by Bob DeWitt and Norm Canfield, the Theta Xis divided '53-54 equally among sorority row, their new pool, and campus activities. Doug Donnell was Spring Sing co-chairman and assistant Homecoming chairman; Jack Taylor was Mardi Gras chairman and prexy of lower division AFROTC honorary, Bill Mann composed original music for the Homecoming and Varsity shows, and of course Shane did his part on campus. Lewis Bedford and Jack Taylor comprised two-thirds of the UCLA sailing aggregation which won the western championship; Lad Lynch was on Rally Committee. Cliff Webb was senior class treasurer, and John Kiffmeyer was on Crew. Social highlights of a great season were two formals, post mortem, Mississippi Mud, and well-remembered Yankee-in-Paree.

A terrifying tiger captured the hearts of the judges at the Homecoming Parade, and an insatiable desire for a three foot tall trophy was culminated in the ZBT's being awarded the sweepstakes prize. One smooth social event followed another with the careful planning of Fred Kingsdale and Stan Fimber. Memorable were the formal, the Tahiti, and the annual spring time trek to Palm Springs. Familiar faces on campus were Jerry Nagin, appointed Rep-at-Large; cheerleaders, Bern Nebenzahl and Don Wolf; along with IFC executive secretary Stan Haberman; and Steve Claman, Board of Control member. ZBT optimism rose to new heights as, to quote Herb Hyma, active cultural chairman, "we're really going to the dogs

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Spring semester 1954 marked the first year of life at UCLA for TKE after re-activation last June. Undertaking an ambitious program at the start, TKE promised to be a sterling addition to Greek orgs on campus. After entering the Homecoming Parade with the only all-flower float built here, TKE also participated in Spring Sing. One of 103 chapters, the UCLA representative of Teke is Alpha Omega chapter. Building to fifteen men despite the loss of three to the military, TKE had a fine social calendar. The fellows did celebrate Founder's Day with a visit of the National President and one of the living founders, and other events included the Carnation Carousel which is the annual formol, 4-chapter Luau held at Laguna Beach, and the out of this world Snowball Shuffle. Yes, TKE was off to a fabulous start at UCLA.

TKE and Theta Upsilon built a float which was entirely of flowers for the Homecoming Parade.

PEGGY SLOAN and DAVE SMITH added to the German atmosphere of the Zeta Psi "Old Vienna."

ZETA PSI

Despite the loss of such stalwarts as Red Sox outfielder pick Jerry Nebron, and young man-about-campus, Jim Hart, to Uncle Sam, the Zetes still came up with a very successful season. Highlight of the year was the Christmas White and Gold formal held in conjunction with the local Zeta alumni group. The "Suds at Sunrise" preceding the SC game, and the "Old Vienna," were terrific affairs. Athletically, All-Coast, All-American Chuck Doud, who also served ably as house president; Fred Andrews and Larry Britten, Gil McCutchan, and Bill Polski stood out for Zeta Psi. Intramurally, the men held the unofficial record for marksmanship on the water pistol team, and are regarded as dark horses in next year's chug-a-lug matches. A valuable addition for Zeta Psi was Russ Stackhouse, UCLA's own genius of the organ.

LIVING GROUPS

HAZEL RICCI met with her staff of officers, LILA MANSFIELD, CAROLYN COMER, and BETTY YAKI to discuss dorm activity.

DORM COUNCIL

Interdormitory Council took an important step forward this year under the leadership of Hazel Ricci. Among the year's activities were the workshop, where all phases of campus living and student government held the spotlight, and the housemothers' tea, which was given in December. At the beginning of the spring semester, all new dorm entrants were given an evening of orientation, at which campus leaders explained campus activities, and the new girls had a chance to meet one another. "Dorm's Doings," the annual get-together for all dorm members broke the preceding records for participation and enthusiasm. Aside from its annual activities, Dorm Council initiated several other new projects.

The activities around Douglas Hall were numerous this year. The semester got off to a start with a get-to-gether party for the fifty-eight members, and the next month they witnessed a successful exchange with Campus Hall. At the annual Christmas Party, Douglas Hall entertained under-privileged children and presented them with gifts. In intramural sports the girls did well with their volleyball and basketball playing, and in basketball were even more outstanding, as they reached the semi-finals, finishing in third. In addition to pajama parties, an exchange with Cal Men, and the Thanksgiving dinner, the group tabbed the Dorm Daings a great success; for the third year they won first place for their skit.

DOUGLASS HALL

MIRA HERSHEY HALL

Being located closest to campus, Hershey Hall became a popular dorm.

Contributing to a worthy charity and giving a tea for the girls' mothers kept members of the Hershey Hall group penniless and busy during the Christmas season. In January they held an open house and continued their usual round of social affairs, including many exchanges. The girls participated in all campus activities—building a float for Homecoming, working on the AWS Doll Contest, Spring Sing, intra murals, and Women's Week. Since so many girls take up residence at Hershey, there is interest in almost all parts of school life, many belonging to AWS clubs, education fraternities, Phrateres, and the journalists on the Daily Bruin. While Diane Heisler promoted pep and enthusiasm on Rally Committee, Imogene Cockcroft sported her Phi Bete key.

HELEN MATTHEWSON CLUB

Laughter and good fun emanated from Helen Matthewson Club.

Helen Matthewson Club, restored to its former campus position when Phenix Club was re-incorporated, filled its year with many social doings—an open house and alumni breakfast, the rollicking pledge party, their initiation ceremony at the Fox and Hounds, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, and the gala "Silver Snow" formal at the Biltmore. Celebraties were Bobbie Hughes, freshman finalist for Homecoming Queen, and Margie Mayer, finalist for "Sigma Chi Sweetheart". Kerckhoff wheels were Ester Roditti, casually swinging her Phi Bete key, Spur Marie Williams, and Carolyn Comer, who was the treasurer of Dorm Council.

The hustle and bustle around Rudy Hall was too much for a few of the girls who had to stop to catch their breath.

RUDY HALL

In and around the enchanting Spanish atmosphere of Rudy Hall's patio many events occurred under the leadership of Pauline Lattemann and Janan Hart; community dinners, the Halloween party with its basement horror chamber, the Christmas party for Uni Camp kids, and an Easter egg hunt, the girls finding the well-hidden ones for the remainder of the year. The intramural volleyball trophy was accepted by Pat Moeller, while Shirley McFedters, four-year winner of the Catalina Invitational Golfing Contest, was runner-up in the National Amateur Golfers of America.

STEVENS HOUSE

One of the big social flings of the year for Stevens House was the semi-formal Thanksgiving dance, which was held in conjunction with Rochedale at the Religious Conference Building. As the Cal game drew near, much excitement could be seen around the makings of the Stevens House float, done with Rochedale, Robeson, and Landfair. Christmas saw the girls busy at work on a box for the Bureau of Public Assistance. Panel of Americans, Project India and A Capella are main group interests. Bety Yaki and Vivian Robinson, Project India members, served on the Panel with Adair Bentley; Stevens House President, Ruth Taketaya; Jean Ferguson, Eugenia de Rosales, and chairman Vivian Credille.

Twin Pines cooperative, led by Darlean Wagner, consisted of forty-one girls working and enjoying good times together. The group took a "Roman Holiday" for their date affair. Memory books reveal pressed corsages from the Twin Pines formal at the Chase Hotel. Advised by Mary Anne Reid, many girls participated in campus activities, winning honors for Twin Pines. Activity girls were Fran Reubenstein, secretary of Mortar Board, Chime Marilou Jones, also on the Theater Arts Board, Spur Hazel Ricci, Dorm Council president, and Louise Bowley, Home Ec Club Prexy.

With Mignon Ryan serving as vice-prexy and social chairman, the Y Co-op enjoyed a variety of activities—The Comic Co-Hop, the bi-annual Backwards Dance, the pledge banquet, Homecoming float, and the Winter Formal. Bob Atkinson, fall president, guided the Co-op through the ups and downs of molding a heterogeneous group of men and women into a creative team. Representing the Co-op on campus was Sal Kostick, arguing the pros and cons in debate. Not to be outdone, Roger Anderson had his name amid the wrestlers. Music is the field to be associated with talented Gwen Brown. Another of the Co-op is Jan Hanlon, active in theater arts. Unique in being the only co-educational co-operative in the country, Co-op is open to all students at UCLA.

WINSLOW ARMS

With several exchanges a semester, house parties, pot-luck dinners, a senior breakfast, intramurals, and informal coffee hours, the girls of Winslow Arms had their share of socializing. Affairs all ran smoothly under Donna Sanders, who enjoyed working with people. Different phases of campus activity attracted the girls. Doreen Hawcroft sported a mortarboard, Pat Connelly met with Saphers, Kathi Perry and Elsie Ivancich appeared in TA productions, Model UN was the choice of Edith Gutstein, Rally Committee the interest of Sylvia Weinfeld, and Sophomore Council Margaret Hunts' work.

Proud to be a part of the group that spends its time in and around Winslow Arms are Ailene Nester and Ardith Amundson, showing off the sign in front of the house.

SWAN SONG

WE'LL NEVER FORGET . . . the perpetual question, "When is the book coming out?" . . . the tantalizing challenge of 118 pages in one week and the ever-ready promise, "You betchum, Red Ryder" . . . the ugly rumor that got started about the book coming out in June . . . the gong-like chit-chat before dinner meetings, the steaks that were treated to relieve the pressure of deadlines . . . that ham dinner . . . the smile that MR. MORRIS gave to NANCY . . . MANNING'S celebrated door . . . the third martini and dinner at Santa Inez . . . the day JACKIE wasn't around to congratulate her, the day MARILOU heard, "You've been volunteered" . . . the worn out carbon paper, the chart on the wall . . . KATHY, SANDY, DICK B., DICK F., JERRY PROTOR (where did he go?), DON KNAPP (my thanks) . . . MARY'S one man show of masterly pictures, her carpeted confetti floors, her attic-like pile of pictures that had to be mounted . . . the 86 mile trip to Westwood Village, the jest of Calvin (the best in '55, Miss Editor) . . . the lovers of white space JAY AND VIRGINIA (where to find 80 more pages) . . . the impeccable JAY and his life saving layouts . . . STAN'S puppy-dog look when he asked for more sizes . . . DON engulfed in many, many projects . . . his nonstop flights to Long Beach . . . the headaches, the cups of coffee, the color, the general impoct, the classic 54 . . . RUTH, mounting pictures with loving care (watch those heads, feet, and bleeds) . . . the cylinder whose stuff inside always got thick . . . LU-LU's famous words, "What do I do now?" and the merrymaking whisper, "WHERE'S THE PICA RULE?" . . . MARCIA and LOU's answer to college paper dolls . . . the day MR. ACKERMAN circled the walls on hearing DICK'S record . . . the packed lunches that were never touched . . . the key that tried to lock up the supplies from URA . . . the consistent efficiency of KAY BOURNE . . . the million and one jobs that were completed by KAY and NANCY . . . the SECRETARIES and the index . . . the booth that was removed by noon . . . RALPH and his record breaking sales that made it all worth while . . . BARBARA WEBB'S posters and Don C.'s grin . . . the contracts that GRETCHEN worried about . . . the sunshine of PEGGY ALBIN . . . the impossible errands finished by PEG M . . . the home grown peach party MENGHA threw . . . SO CAM SUPPORTERS: MR. BAILEY, NANCY, HODGE, GINNY, DIANE, NAG, ARDYS, ROY, BOB E, MAGLY, BILL and BOB AL, KARMI, THE SHRUBAR'S, KATHY, PATTY . . . JAN, GIP, HELEN and many more . . . STAFFERS of '54 will never forget stumbling to find the light switches of Kerchoff and making midnight lockout . . . and the little dog, whose mouth was empty the day SOUTHERN CAMPUS went to press.

BONNIE

KAY

Once again the mod lost-minute scramble is over, the salesbooks are in, and the book is ready to go to press. We recall with awe the huge job completed. It is good at such a time to place praise for some of the work where it is due. RALPH, my right-hond man, can you ever forget those Monday nights when we went up and down the "row" telling how great SoCom was going to be? The hours in the K.H. sales booth collecting the lovely junk called money from buyers? And all the encouragement we received in February (is B.B. around?) Good luck in my old job. You'll be a great Business Manoger. DON, you did help keep Ralph sane, but did I hear you say you turned in that salesbook at last? Your publicity this year was really great, thank you. BARB, you make such great posters. I hope you keep them coming next year, even with a big job ahead of you. NANCY, you have my admiration for the job you did this year. I don't see how you got the Index in before Spring Sing . . . that just isn't done. I don't know what we would have done if you hadn't always been there with the necessary help. SECRETARIES, thank you for the huge job you did so well. This might have seemed like a small job, but it was such an important one. To you, GRETCHEN, thanks for sticking with these contracts to the end. You had us upset for a while, but you did a great job in extracting the necessary funds from the reluctant organization treasurers. May I quote you, GINNY—"Every Senior wants a record of his Senior year at UCLA." A bit convincing? But tell me, how did I get stuck with the Index last year, and you go free this? A note to all salesmen: You've turned in your printed top sales talks and brass knuckles, but you must remember us next year, 'cause sales were highest in years, thanks to you. SOCAM-ETTES, thanks for your help, and do keep up the good "note". LEE, think of me when you wear that hond-made jewelry, I really like it. It's been breat knowing you. MR. MORRIS, thank you for the help you have given in the past; I have enjoyed by school carer more for the experience of working under you on the So CAM. BONNIE, you have a wonderful book here. You deserve more proise than I do give you here. It's grand having known you. My grotitude to all of you who did your jobs, large and small, so well. The book is proof of your excellent cooperation. MARY, best of luck to you and the '55 stoff. You have a lot to live up to but I know you can do it. Thank you, PETE, for encouraging me to take this position of Business Manager, and for understanding when things got rough. Thank you all for this year.
